TRACY ENDS HIS CAREER BY SUICIDE

Despondent Over Wounds, the Desperado Shoots Himself.

BODY WAS FOUND IN WHEAT FIELD

Posse of Citizens Had Cornered the Outlaw After a Running Fight.

WERE STARTED AFTER HIM BY FARMER BOY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 6.—Harry Tracy, the notorious outlaw, whose escapades have occupied public attention for the past 60 days, lies dead in Davenport, the county seat of Lincoln county. Sheriffs' posses and others are disputing the ownership of the body. Sheriff Cudihee of Seattle, who came across the state to take up the long and baffling chase, positively identified the outlaw at the inquest today.

The death was intensely tragic. For two days Tracy had terrorized the occupants of the Eddy ranch, out in the Lake Creek country, three miles from the little siding of Fellowes, on the Central Washington railroad. Then five determined citizens of Creston, hearing of his presence there, took their rifles and revolvers and went after him. They knew their business and did it without flinching. Sighting the men, and securing his rifle, Tracy sought cover behind a haystack, escaping several rifle bullets.

Made One Fatal Dash.

The posse then found cover behind a large rock and for a while it looked like a siege. Then Tracy broke for a large boulder on the edge of a small wheat field, and this dash was his undoing, for just as he came to the rock he fell forward, a rifle bullet having broken one leg. He plunged into the wheat and his bloody trail there shows the savage determination of the man, for, after receiving the wound, he crawled 75 yards on his hands and knees in order to reach a spot that would command the posse and enable him to pour a merciless rifle fire upon them. But once only was he able to fire from this vantage point. Then, weakened by loss of blood, he tried to stanch his wound, failed, and with his revolver sent a bullet through his brain.

By this time dusk had fallen and the posse, unaware of the seriousness of his wound and fearing that his silence was intended to lure them into a deadly ambush, posted themselves to prevent his escape, and patiently waited for the dawn. During the night others came on the scene and joined in the cordon. At daylight they found the outlaw's dead body.

Shots Had No Effect.

None of the posse was wounded, though all of them had narrow escapes. When they were firing from the cover of their rock they had to lift their heads above the cover, and every time this was done Tracy's rifle rang out and a bullet chipped the rock.

The posse that will share the reward was made up as follows: C. A. Straub, deputy sheriff; Dr. E. C. Lanter, Maurice Smith, attorney; J. J. Morrison, railway section foreman, and Frank Lillengen. These men, armed to the teeth, set out from Creston yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock. They were working on the information of G. E. Goldfinch, a boy of 18, who had been forcibly made the companion of the Oregon convict for over 24 hours at the ranch of L. B. Eddy on Lake creek, about three miles south from Fellowes. The party made all possible haste in getting to the ranch. When within a few hundred yards of the farm they encountered Farmer Eddy mowing in one of his fields. While engaging him in conversation they saw a man issuing from the barn door.

"Is that Tracy?" asked one of the party.

Didn't Like the Rifles.

The party separated, Lanter and Smith accompanying Eddy in the direction of the barn while the other two men swung around to the other side. Two of the man-hunters stepped behind the barn, on a slight eminence, from which they could watch everything that went on, and Eddy continued on up to the door. Tracy came from the barn again, and began helping his host unhitch the horses. He carried no rifle, although he had his revolvers in place.

The fugitive finally saw the men carrying rifles and turned sharply to Eddy and said: "Who are those men?"

"I don't see any men," said Eddy.

Tracy pointed out the two men on the hill. Eddy informed his companion who the men were and the outlaw made a leap for the barn door. The pursuers, stepping a bit closer, commanded, "Hold up your hands!" The outlaw jumped behind Eddy and placed the farmer and then the horse between himself and the pursuers.

Hid Behind a Horse.

He commanded the farmer to lead his horse to the barn and remained under cover, moving toward shelter. When near the stable he broke and dashed inside. He quickly reappeared, rifle in hand, and started on a dead run.

Turning on the two men nearest him the desperado fired two shots, but without his usual luck, neither bullet taking effect. Without waiting for further fighting Tracy made a dash down the valley leading south from the barn and headed for the brush.

In an instant the man hunters were off in pursuit, firing as they ran. Coming to a rock, Tracy dodged behind it, and resting his gun on the rock began a fusillade. Eight shots in all were fired by the outlaw, not one hitting its mark. Seeing that he was not succeeding, he bolted for a wheat field close by. At the edge of the field he stumbled, falling on his face, and crawled into the grain on his hands and knees. It was growing dark and the pursuers, not daring to move in closer, decided to surround the place and wait for daylight.

In the meantime Sheriff Gardner with Policemen Stauffer and Gemmerim of

HARRY TRACY,
Who Met His Death As the Biddles Did.

LOCAL MEN ARE IN $15,000,000 CIGAR COMBINE

Pittsburgh Capital Prominent in Organization Perfected in East.

YEARLY OUTPUT IS TO BE 400,000,000

Formation of the United States Cigar Company, which will be producing 400,000,000 stogies and cigars in the course of a year, was perfected at the Hotel Walton in Philadelphia yesterday. The company, which will take over five of the important producers of stogies and cheap cigars in Pittsburgh, will enter business with a capitalization of $15,000,000 and a bond issue of $1,000,000.

The company is chartered under the laws of Delaware and will at once open headquarters in the Westinghouse building. The Philadelphia meeting voted to increase the capital stock from $2,500,000 preferred and $4,000,000 common to $15,000,000, half to be 7 per cent cumulative preferred and the rest common.

The meeting elected the following officers: C. M. Logue, president; E. M. Brash, first vice president; Samuel Bailey, Jr., second vice president; W. D. Sharpe, secretary, all of Pittsburgh and Allegheny; E. W. Swisher of Columbus treasurer.

Directors were elected as follows: G. B. Hanford, Frank L. Arnold and Charles Sternbach of New York; Frank Taylor of Cleveland, Samuel Bailey, Jr., C. H. Logue, E. M. Brash, G. W. Eisenbeis, W. D. Sharpe, E. A. Kitzmiller, W. S. Dalzell and A. D. Zeugschmidt of Pittsburgh, and W. W. Blake of Altoona, Pa.

To Control 90 Per Cent of Output.

The company will control 90 per cent of the manufacture of stogies and cheroots. In a short time it is expected to take over five additional concerns. The concerns taken over by the company as it stands now are the Collins Cigar Company, Zeugschmidt Bros., Union-American Cigar Company, M. Brilles & Co., and the W. W. Stewart Company of Pittsburgh and Allegheny; W. H. Kildow of Tiffin, O.; W. W. Blake of Altoona, E. W. Swisher Cigar Company of Columbus, O.; Swisher Bros., of Newark, O.; Swisher & Co., of Somerset, O.; J. T. Sherry & Co., Lancaster, O., and I. Brundo & Sons of Cleveland, O.

The Pittsburgh interests taken into the company employ about 2,200 people and all of the concerns about 5,000. They produce about 295,000,000 stogies and cigars in a year. This output will be increased by about 100,000,000 in the course of a year.

Three new factories will be built next year, one an addition to the Collins factory, another to the Brilles and a third at Altoona. These will employ about 1,500 additional people.

The company plans in its formation no aggressive trade move against existing concerns. The object is to extend the trade and introduce stogies and cheap cigars in foreign countries.

Many Prominent Men Shareholders.

Aside from the present owners of the interests combined the following are among those who will be shareholders: Joseph G. McClurg, F. H. McKinney, Alexander McClurg, Thomas H. Sneathen, Harry A. Logue, W. R. Rowe, H. B. Curll, John McClurg, M. Rothchild, Thomas Evans, E. B. Allewelt, W. S. Dalzell, George B. Gordon, William Robinson, W. M. Callear, R. Jackson, A. W. Hast, D. J. Richardson, John W. Herron, W. G. McCandless, Samuel Bailey, J. J. Booth, J. S. Raymer, George B. Edwards, O. M. Edwards, R. B. Fetty, H. C. Bair of Pittsburgh, F. M. Gund and William Tremlor of Chicago, John Brand of Elmira, N. Y.; S. L. Johns of McSherrystown, Pa.; the Hon. George W. Fairchild, Charles Sternbach, John H. Stillman, Hugh S. Grant, Abram Herman, George B. Hanford, Judge H. S. Stallknecht and D. W. Cooper of New York, George E. Green of Birmingham, N. Y., and Frank C. Hubbard of Columbus, O.

The bond issue of the company was over-subscribed five times, it is said, several weeks before the formation of the company. The Commonwealth Real Estate Trust Company of Pittsburgh and the Central Realty and Trust Company of Philadelphia acted as underwriters of the bonds. C. M. Logue of the Collins Cigar Company, president of the new company, conducted the enterprise of the consolidation.

JOSEPH ALLEN, MURDER SUSPECT, IS IN PITTSBURGH

Man Accused of Achsah King's Death Brought Here by Captor.

MOVEMENTS TRACED AFTER THE CRIME

The curtain was rung up on another act of the Achsah King tragedy yesterday when Detective John Roach brought the accused murderer, Joseph E. Allen, from Findlay, O., to this city. They arrived shortly after 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Allen was taken to the Central police station. This morning he will be examined by Police Superintendent McAleese and Superintendent Demmel. He will be photographed and probably committed to jail for a hearing on the charge of murder.

A Gazette reporter went to Carnegie and met Detective Roach and his prisoner, who were in the smoking compartment of the parlor car. Detective Roach was seated next to the window, with his prisoner handcuffed to him. Allen refused to speak about the crime.

Allen Told of Past.

When the reporter entered the car at Carnegie Allen was sleeping. He was aroused by the conversation between the newspaper man and the detective and joined in the conversation.

"I am up against a tough game," he said, "but I think I can prove where I was during the day of the murder. I am pretty tired. I have been riding all day and feel played out. I was a member of Company G of the Nineteenth Volunteer regiment. I was in Cuba and Porto Rico. I enlisted in Pittsburgh and was mustered out in 1898, when peace was declared.

"I have worked at a good many things since I was a soldier; most of the time in the acid works at Steubenville. The work was hard on me and I had to give it up. I was working for the Consumers' Ice Company until last May, and when the strike was settled among the icemen I had to give the work up, as I was not a union man. Since that time I have been working at anything I could find to do."

His Appearance Uninviting.

Allen is rough in his appearance. He is of the low-browed, heavy jawed type. His hair has recently been cut short, and that makes his face appear the more brutal. He said that he was five feet seven inches in height, and weighed about 150 pounds.

Detective Roach related a few of the details of Allen's pursuit and capture. When the detective learned that Allen's relations had been speaking of his connection with the murder he went to Steubenville to investigate. Allen's relations refused to discuss the affair to the detective. Roach then returned to this city and reported to Detective George Waggoner, acting superintendent.

The latter sent him back to Steubenville. Allen's relations were still silent. Detective Roach wandered about Steubenville and encountered an old character—Jim McGrew, alias "Ting-a-Ling" McGrew, who formerly lived here.

He asked McGrew where he had been. McGrew said that he had been freighting about the country and had just come from Uhrichsville, where he had seen Joseph Allen of Steubenville.

Caught the Trail.

He told the detective that Allen was "bumming" over the country and thought of going back in the army. This was the first information the detective received of him. Roach then hurried to Columbus, went among the recruiting stations and warned the officers to look out for a man answering Allen's description.

It was learned that Allen had not enlisted and the detective started back to Steubenville. Roach learned that Allen had been at his brother's place in that city and that the brother had given him money and a revolver and put him on a freight train on Friday morning at 2 o'clock.

Roach then decided on another plan. He met Levi Allen and his wife in a small park in Steubenville and stopped them. He told them that he knew they had sent Joseph Allen away, and warned them about the seriousness of their action. He said they would be arrested for aiding him to escape, and that he would give

AGED WOMAN BOUND AND HER HOME LOOTED

Wealthy Oil Man's Wife Roughly Treated by Masked Men.

BELIEVED TO BE WORK OF AMATEURS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Oil City, Pa., Aug. 6.—Early this morning two masked men with a heavy timber battered down the front door of the residence of Thomas J. McBurney at Siverly, a suburb. They bound and gagged Mrs. McBurney, who was alone, and ransacked the house, securing $25 and several hundred dollars' worth of jewelry. Mrs. McBurney is 61 years old and is in a precarious condition from her rough treatment.

The fact that Mr. McBurney, who is one of the largest individual oil producers and real estate owners in the county, is absent in Michigan, was evidently known to the burglars. They went direct to his wife's room and bound her hands and feet with strips of bed clothing. Two revolvers under the pillow and a Winchester rifle in the corner of the room were confiscated. They demanded to know where a large sum of money, which they claimed was in the house, was hidden. The aged woman replied they did not keep any large amounts of money in the house. The robbers then gagged her with bed clothing and made thorough search of every room, closet, drawer, trunk and desk in the house.

Returning to the bed with their loot, they threatened to burn the old woman's feet unless she told where the money was concealed. She replied it had been deposited in the bank and the men demanded the deposit book. They were given directions where to find it and one of the men secured it.

Satisfying themselves as to the truthfulness of Mrs. McBurney's statement, the men again gagged her, descended to the kitchen, ate a lunch, and departed. The aged woman worked for three hours, finally freeing one arm. She tapped on a window, attracting the attention of passing workmen, who released her and gave the alarm. The police believe the deed was done by local men.

SEVEN KILLED AND TWENTY INJURED

Fatal Wreck Occurs on the Omaha Division of Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

MARSHALLTOWN, IA., Aug. 6.—Two engineers and seven laborers were killed this afternoon and 20 others injured in a collision on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad two miles west of Rhodes, this county, between a fast freight and a work train. Both engineers were killed and one fireman's leg was cut off. The other fireman was saved by jumping. Seventy-eight laborers were on the work train. The freight met the work train going at full speed on a reverse curve.

The following statement was issued from the office of the general superintendent of the St. Paul road in Chicago:

"From the information in the possession of the general superintendent's office it appears that the work train, in charge of Conductor Craig, started west from Rhodes without orders, and notwithstanding the fact that the signal was set against the work train, and the further fact that the telegraph operator informed Conductor Craig that the freight train had already left Collins, the next station west of Rhodes, and was then eastbound between the two places."

BOSTON, Aug. 6.—The case of Paul Brigham, also known as Bailey L. Jamison, 75 years of age, who is said to be a fugitive from justice in Pittsburgh, in connection with a $2,500 check forgery, in municipal court today was continued until Monday next, when it is expected that the Pittsburgh officials will be here. Bail was fixed at $2,000.

FORTY MOROS LEFT TO TELL OF DEFEAT ON BAYAN'S FIELD

Americans Charge Up Steep Hill Sweeping Bolomen Like Chaff Before Them.

THE FIGHTING WAS FIERCE

Washington, D. C., Aug. 6.—Copies of Manila newspapers received at the war department give interesting information concerning doings in the islands which have not been fully covered by cable.

An account of the battle of Bayan, Mindanao, states that after Col. Baldwin had his line drawn completely around the fort the "intrepid Americans went up the hill, sweeping the Moro bolomen like chaff before them. Through carnage unparalleled since the Alamo, the fort itself was at last reached and here our troops met an almost insuperable obstacle. The high walls were insurmountable and men dug their fingers into the earth and jumped upon each other's shoulders in their efforts to get at the foe within, which was pouring lead into them.

"Those inside the fort at last reluctantly surrendered, and afterward made a break for liberty, in which about 40 more were killed.

"Of the 500 who defied American authority, about 40 survived."

Details also are given of the capture and murder on May 30 of five men of Troop M, Fifth cavalry, by a party of ladrones. A native prisoner made a full confession, and furnished a list of nine natives who assisted in the murder.

ENGLAND AND CANADA TO COMBINE ON STEEL

Conference Held at Windsor, Ont., In Which Various Leading Men Discuss Proposition.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WINDSOR, ONT., Aug. 6.—A conference held at Montreal today between Senator Cox of Toronto, who has just returned from England; James Ross, managing director of the Dominion Iron & Steel Company, and other steel magnates, has revived the stories regarding the probability of an early amalgamation of the Canadian steel and coal industries.

The latest report is that arrangements are under way for the formation of a gigantic British and Canadian steel combination, which will enter into competition with the United States Steel Corporation.

The Dominion Steel Company and the Nova Scotia Steel Company will be Canadian factors in this combination, but the most important factor will be a well-known English corporation, which has works established in all the principal English mining areas.

The incentive which prompts the English corporation to combine with Canada is the belief that steel in the comparatively undeveloped state they require it for treatment by their own machinery, can be imported more cheaply from Canada than it can be obtained either in Staffordshire, Lancashire or Glamorganshire.

No official statement was forthcoming today regarding the result of the conference.

FIRE IN HOMESTEAD.

Destruction of Feath & Kerr's Planing Mill Caused a Loss of $25,000—Firemen Injured.

Fire in Homestead last night destroyed the planing mill of Feath & Kerr, causing a loss of $25,000.

The mill was a large two-story frame building at Third avenue and McClure street. Several adjoining houses were set afire, but none was badly damaged.

The machinery was new and cost over $10,000. The value of the finished stock was nearly as much.

Henry Horn, a member of No. 3 fire company, was knocked down and run over by the hose reel. His right leg was broken in two places and he was otherwise badly injured.

Filipino Sentenced to Hang.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 6.—Information has been received at the war department that Pedro Capua, a Filipino, was convicted by a military commission at Tanaun, Batangas, P. I., of complicity in the murder of Second Lieutenant Paul D. Stockley, Twenty-first infantry, in Batangas province in January, 1900, and was sentenced to be hanged.

TRAIN HURLED FROM TRACK BY WALL OF WATER

Scores of Passengers Narrowly Escape a Sudden Death.

WAS THE RESULT OF A CLOUDBURST

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Florence, Col., Aug. 6.—A Rio Grande special passenger train from the east, bound for California and carrying 300 tourists, was ditched just east of Florence, near Swallows, today. The wreck was caused by the train being struck by a wall of water eight feet high, coming down Peck creek, caused by the heavy rains in the mountains south of here yesterday afternoon.

A brakeman saw the torrent when it was only a short distance from the train. He rushed through the eight coaches and told the passengers on the two rear cars to hurry to the front of the train. Just as the last tourist left the rear coach the water stuck the cars and, breaking the couplings, hurled them 40 feet from the track.

A sleeping car was thrown against the farmhouse of J. G. Roberts, occupied by himself, his wife and three children. The car formed a wall and turned the water from the house, thus saving the building from going into the river, and also saved the lives of its occupants.

The engine was badly damaged by the water, but pulled the two cars remaining on the track some distance from the flood. A wrecking train was ordered from Salida and the passengers were cared for. No one is reported to have been injured.

DENVER, COL., Aug. 6.—The cloudbursts and heavy rains of yesterday caused a loss to the Rio Grande and Colorado Midland railroads, estimated at $100,000. It may exceed this amount. Seven bridges are gone along the Rio Grande and many miles of track has been washed away. On the Colorado Midland three bridges were destroyed and the track was inunuated or washed out between Manitou and Cascade.

General Manager Schlacks of the Colorado Midland and General Superintendent Egan of the Rio Grande have gone out to personally superintend repairs.

ARCHDUCHESS ABHORS THE DUKE SIEGFRIED

She Took Initiative in Having Their Engagement Broken—Their Tastes Absolutely Opposed.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, August 6.—The announcement of the breaking off of the engagement of the Archduchess Marie Annonciade of Austria and Duke Siegfried of Bavaria, made yesterday, was accompanied by a statement that the bethrothal was broken off by agreement of both parties, but it is very well known in court society that the archduchess took the first step. She visited the Bavarian court after the betrothal had been arranged, and had an opportunity to learn the duke's habits and tastes.

The archduchess, who is a niece of the Emperor of Austria, is of a serious, meditative disposition. She is religiously inclined, is interested in education and is abbess of an institution of young noblewomen in Prague. The many unhappy marriages in her family doubtless determined her to avoid a mistake, if possible.

It is said the duke was positively repulsive to her. He visited Vienna at her request two days ago and she appealed to him, without consulting her family, to break the engagement and he did so.

The duke is the nephew of the late Empress Elizabeth of Austria, is 26 years old, the same age as the archduchess, is volatile and fond of sports and high living.

White's Resignation Arrives.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—The resignation of Ambassador White was received this morning and was immediately forwarded to the president. It is to take effect November 7.

BULL'S EYES BRING PRIZES TO MARKSMEN

President Presses Cash With Hands of Winning Gunners.

CHEERING WORDS ADD TO HIS GIFT

Donor Hopes to Have Similar Rewards Made Official by Navy Department.

RED TAPE INJUSTICE EXCITES HIS NOTICE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Greenport, L. I., Aug. 6.—President Roosevelt today participated on board the Mayflower in mimic warfare. The maneuvers which the ship executed were precisely those which might have to be gone through in an active battle.

The gun practice of the crew of the Mayflower indicates that the men behind the guns on board American war vessels are even more efficient and accurate than they were at the memorable battle of Manila bay or at the decisive victory achieved by the American fleet off Santiago.

After witnessing the work of the crew of No. 9 gun—the winners of the contest—he went personally to the gun pointer, W. J. O'Donnell, and, shaking his hand cordially, said:

"You did well—excellently."

In an embarrassed manner O'Donnell touched his forelock and really appeared as if he wished he had not done such fine work.

The shooting of the winning gun crew was phenomenally good. At an average range of 1,500 yards they fired 20 shots and made 16 hits, two being actual bull's eyes.

Credited to the Navy.

At the conclusion of the target practice the crew was assembled on the quarter deck to witness the presentation of the prizes offered by the president. Briefly Mr. Roosevelt addressed the officers and men as follows:

"I wish to say a word to all the officers and enlisted men of my gratification at the show you have made today. I hope this will be but the beginning of practice which will make the Mayflower stand as the crack gunship of the navy. I am pleased with the showing you have made and I expect next time to see a material improvement. Some of the crews show the need of it.

"It is a credit to the navy as a whole when the crew of a single ship does well. Every man who does well reflects credit upon the navy; every man who does badly reflects discredit upon it. I expect that each man so will do his duty as to reflect credit upon the navy as a whole. I should like now to see the winning crew."

When the four men comprising the crew, W. J. O'Donnell, gun pointer; F. Crowley, G. C. Grim and A. W. Hildebrand, stepped forward, the president, addressing them, said:

Cash Prizes For Winners.

"I am very much pleased with the work you have done today and I want to say that if you keep up this record it will be difficult to find a better six-pounder crew in the navy. In the training of first-class gun pointers is the solution of the problem of obtaining the highest efficiency of the navy.

The president then shook hands with the members of the successful crew and as he did so pressed a $5 bill into the palm of each, but giving $20 to the gun pointer, O'Donnell.

Later the president announced that he was in correspondence with the secretary of the navy regarding the matter of offering prizes for special excellence in gun pointing. He believes there is no better way to improve the marksmanship of naval gunners. The president after giving the prizes, called the petty officers of the ship about him and in a brief talk impressed upon them the importance of performing well their duties.

"It may rest with you men some time," he said, "whether honor or shame shall come to our country."

His Interest Is Practical.

That President Roosevelt's interest in the petty officers is not only sincere, but practical was evidenced by an incident of today. Lewis Poessel is serving as pay yeoman on the Mayflower. He enlisted in the navy in 1886 and has served continuously since. By his integrity he won his way until at the outbreak of the Spanish war he was commissioned as an assistant paymaster in the volunteer service. As such he served nine months, then was discharged. He re-enlisted immediately, but the comptroller of the treasury recently decided that Poessel was not entitled to wear the stripes denoting continuous service and and could not be given the additional pay attached to long service. The president regards this as an act practically penalizing Poessel for his ability, and has directed Lieutenant Commander Gleaves, commanding the Mayflower, to make a special report to him personally upon the case with a view to taking action upon it.

CONTRACTORS CENSURED.

Coroner's Jury Says Simms & Co. Are Responsible for Drowning of Two Children.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Aug. 6.—(Special.)—Simms & Co., contractors, are held responsible for the accident that resulted in the drowning of Nicholas Richie and Michael Cunti in the Shenango river, according to the verdict returned last night by the coroner's jury.

The testimony showed that Cunti was employed by Simms & Co. as a water carrier, and had been ordered to cross the river in a small ferryboat manned by an inexperienced person. The children were 11 years old, and the jury censured the contractors for employing child labor. Suits for damages may follow the verdict.

FLUSH OF HEALTH SUCCEEDS PALLOR ON KING'S CHEEKS

Erect and Dignified, Walks to His Carriage Without Slightest Assistance.

JOYFUL CHEERS GREET HIM

All London Seemed on Streets to Welcome Return of Sovereign. Driven from Station to Palace in Open Carriage.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1902, by the New York Herald Co.)

London, Aug. 6.—King Edward, to all appearances in excellent health, returned to London this afternoon. The crowded streets echoed with the cheers of thousands who welcomed him. The voices of the people sounded a deep note of thanksgiving.

They had good cause to rejoice. The man who, erect and dignified, stepped from the train to the platform at Victoria station today was not the same man who languidly dragged himself from the train at Paddington that bright sunshiny afternoon of June 23.

Today the pallor had given way to a fine coat of tan, under which a healthy flush was visible. His eyes were bright and sparkled with pleasure as the welcoming cheers rang out. He walked without the slightest indication of any after effect of the operation.

Victoria station was crowded, but a large force of police kept the platforms clear.

At 5 o'clock a royal carriage arrived. The carriage was closed. A murmur of disappointment rose from the people inside the station. "We won't be able to see him after all," was the burden of their plaint.

Their grievance was not long-lived, as the top of the carriage was dropped as soon as it came to a standstill.

Exactly at 5:30 a pilot engine rolled into the station bearing the sign, "The royal train will follow." Five minutes later the heavy royal train glided along the rails and stopped without a jar. A moment's pause and then the king, unaided, stepped out, followed by Queen Alexandra and Princess Victoria.

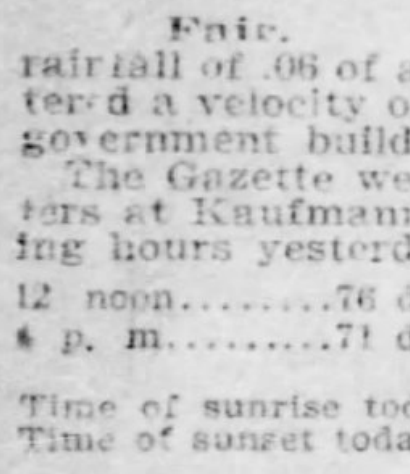
The king walked slowly across the platform, shaking hands with many of those who had come to greet him. His majesty did not step briskly, yet there was no hesitancy or weakness in his movements. His smile was free from care or pain, and his greeting was most cordial.

Stepping into the carriage without assistance he stood erect for an instant and bowed several times, with his hat in his hand, before sitting down.

Once outside, the horses quickened their pace, and the king drove through the cheering thousands to Buckingham palace. Hardly had he entered when a torrent of rain came, the one discordant element in London's welcome to her king.

The first complete dress rehearsal of the coronation ceremony was held in Westminster abbey today. The participants included all the chief actors in the ceremony save their majesties. The gorgeous coronation carpet and tapestry were uncovered and the procession and the entire ceremony except the anointing were gone through with.

THE WEATHER.



Fair.

Today will be fair and warmer, according to the weather bureau forecast for Pittsburgh and vicinity. A storm of wind, rain and thunder yesterday afternoon kept the heat down and during the afternoon the maximum for the day, 78 degrees, four degrees lower than on Tuesday, was registered. The minimum for the day was 66 degrees. During the storm there was a rainfall of .06 of an inch. The wind registered a velocity of 24 miles an hour at the government building in Smithfield street.

FIVE COLLIERIES TO BE ABANDONED

LOSS TO OPERATORS BY MINES FLOODING IS $1,500,000.

Means That 2,000 Men Will Have to Seek Work Elsewhere—Quiet Day at Shenandoah — Rumor of Foreigners Drilling With Arms.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SHENANDOAH, PA., Aug. 6.—William Stein, state mine inspector for the Shenandoah region, today announced that five collieries under his jurisdiction, which have an estimated total value of $1,500,000, have been rendered useless by reason of having been flooded and have been permanently abandoned by the owners. Four of them—Bear Run, East Bear Ridge, Kohinoor and Preston No. 3—belong to the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company, and he places their value at about $300,000 each. The other colliery is the Lawrence, owned by the Shefer estate of Pottsville, and also represents about $300,000.

Mr. Stein estimates that out of the 36 collieries in his district only 14 are in a condition for immediate operation if the strike were ended. The others are in such a condition that it would require anywhere from one to four months to clear them of water and make repairs. The abandonment of the five collieries will compel 2,000 mine workers to seek employment in other parts of the region.

Peace at Shenandoah.

The situation so far as the peace of the Shenandoah region was concerned remains unchanged today. It was probably the quietest day since the soldiers were called out, one week ago tonight. Matters around brigade headquarters have settled down to a routine condition, and Brig.-Gen. Gobin has completed all the details for supporting the civil authorities in their task to enforce the law. Everything was quiet in the camp of the troops. The only matter of interest was a dress parade in the town by the Twelfth regiment in honor of Gen. Gobin.

Gen Gobin has ordered the establishment of a signal system from brigade headquarters to the camp, which is nearly a mile distant. The heliograph and flag will be used in the day time and the torch at night. This will be the first time the signal system has been in operation since the Homestead strike, 10 years ago.

Gen. Gobin in speaking of the conditions in this region said today that Shenandoah for a town of its size is more thickly populated than the worst tenement district in New York. He thought the sanitary conditions in the foreign quarters extremely bad.

Talk of Foreigners in Arms.

In reply to a query Gen. Gobin said he had been advised that foreigners in this vicinity were being drilled. He believes there are many men among the foreigners who have been officers in European armies. A large percentage of the male foreigners, he added, have no doubt had military training in their native lands. The ex-officers, the general said, have considerable influence over the others and they were not to be trusted. He characterized the ex-officers as "adventurers and degenerate heirs of noble sires."

Paul Pulaskai, national organizer of the United Mine Workers and vice president of District No. 9, who looks after the foreign members of the union came here today. He denied all the stories of secret drilling by the Polanders and others. He said there is no secret organization within the miners' union. He admitted that the Polanders who belong to beneficial societies keep up a form of military organization, but he said this was done only to keep alive the memory of their days at home.

STRIKERS ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF MURDER

Three Men Accused of Implication in Death of Daniel Sweeney, Found Dead Yesterday.

WILKESBARRE, PA., Aug. 6.—Daniel J. Sweeney, a watchman in the employ of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Company, was found dead this morning. He quit work at midnight and was followed by a score of men, making threats. Sweeney took refuge in a saloon and waited there for some time. After he thought the crowd had dispersed he left for home

The murdered man told the superintendent of the mine a few days ago that some of the strikers had advised him that if he was wise he would quit at once.

At strike headquarters in this city a statement was given out to the effect that an investigation had been made of the killing of Sweeney, but there was no evidence to show that strikers had committed the crime.

Michael Yisko, John Smith and Ignatz Shukis, who were last seen in Sweeney's company, were arrested this evening, charged with being implicated in the murder.

MINERS MUST SERVE THEIR TIME IN JAIL

Habeas Corpus Case Decided Against Them in the United States Circuit Court.

CLARKSBURG, W. VA., Aug. 6.—Judge Goff this afternoon, in a lengthy opinion, decided the habeas corpus case against the miners and agitators and remanded them to the custody of the marshal and sheriff, and they will be removed to Parkersburg to serve the remainder of their sentences.

The judge said the only question was as to jurisdiction and that the Guarantee Trust Company of New York was entitled to a standing in court and it was not absolutely necessary for the fuel company to be made a party to the suit.

The decision is a great disappointment to the miners and their counsel say that no other action can be taken at present, at least.

SHERADEN CITIZENS RIPE FOR A FIGHT

Indignation Meeting Last Night at Which Move Against Chartiers Water Co. Was Furthered.

The citizens of Sheraden held an indignation meeting last evening, attended by over 100 men who expressed the indignation felt at the poor service rendered by the Chartiers Valley Water Company. H. A. Hampton was chairman and Leo Mathew acted as secretary.

The meeting opened by the secretary reading clause 2, in the paper-book of the case in common pleas court No. 1, of the borough versus the Chartiers Valley Water Company, which is an extract from the law under which the company holds its charter and reads as follows:

"Provided, that said company shall furnish pure water, and any citizen using same may make complaint of its impurity, its deficiency or both, in court of common pleas, and after hearing parties touching same, said court will have power to make such order in the premises as may seem just and equitable and may dismiss the complaint or compel the corporation to correct the evil."

J. H. Burtt, who was present as a representative of the Hill Top Board of Trade, made a speech inviting the citizens to unite with the board in its fight against the water companies.

The meeting expressed itself in favor of the course Mr. Burtt advocated and appointed a committee to confer with the board next Tuesday. John Brown, E. J. Rother, A. L. Troutman, Alexander Scott, J. J. Walker, W. R. Bell, E. W. Campbell and John Hall, Jr., compose this committee.

The committee appointed at a meeting last Wednesday to secure legal services and raise money to defray the expenses of the fight, was declared permanent and three members were added to it. This committee reported that it has raised $500 and expects to raise much more before the meeting next Thursday night.

SENATOR HANNA FINDS CURE FOR LABOR TROUBLES

In a Speech at Urbana He Praises the Honor of the Bituminous Miners.

WERE TRUE TO PLEDGE

Cleveland Man Believes That the Only Hope for Harmony Between Labor and Capital Lies in Education and Fair Treatment.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Urbana, O., Aug. 6.—Senator M. A. Hanna addressed the Urbana Chautauqua today on the topic, "Labor and Its Relation to Capital." The senator was met at Springfield by a large escort of citizens of Urbana and Springfield and President George W. Hitt of the Chautauqua association, and taken by special trolley into the camp grounds near Urbana.

An audience of nearly 3,000 greeted him at the tabernacle when he arose to speak. His address was devoted largely an explanation of the origin, aims and accomplishments of the Civic federation, of which Senator Hanna is the president.

He said in part:

The subject which has been announced, is not a new one in this country, nor the world over. Thirty years ago I was a witness of and participated in one of the most serious strikes that ever occurred in Ohio. It was the miners' strike of the Tuscarawas valley. After it had been settled, after property had been destroyed and blood had been shed, there came a time to think it over, and I made up my mind that there was a better way to settle such disputes than that.

There Is a Better Way.

From that hour until this it has been the thought and theme uppermost in my life. It is not a political question but an economic one. It is that and more. It is a moral one. The best way to reach men's minds and men's hearts is to appeal first to the heart and then to reason with the mind. Who knows better the great good that can be accomplished through education? It is to that work that I want to enlist the sympathies of all such people as sit before me, and with God's blessing may it spread through every circle in the land.

The senator then spoke of the National Civic Federation, of its origin and its work. He said the object of the organization is to better the conditions of labor, to bring them in closer contact with capital, and, if possible, by effort and education, to make it impossible to have strikes. Continuing, he said:

In every instance, but one, in a ten months' existence, we have settled every labor difficulty that has come to us. This one instance where the organization failed was the anthracite coal strike.

Another Incident.

I admit that the Civic Federation has failed in its efforts there. It is hard to conciliate, it is hard to arbitrate a question when only one side will consider it. I want to call your attention to another incident in my efforts in that strike and others.

When appealing to the employers to consider some things in connection with the situation that I did not think they fully appreciated or understood, I told of the experience of myself and associates recently in connection with the coal mining of Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. After days and nights of negotiation four years ago, we organized what was termed "the Interstate association," composed of the operatives and operators of the coal mines of these states. We agreed upon a scale of wages, flexible enough to adapt itself to different physical conditions. That was four years ago. The contract was made. The operators went into the markets and sold their coal and the coal miners abided by their contracts and delivered it. The next year, it was renewed and then last year it was renewed. Peace and harmony, good and successful business operations have succeeded that policy.

In using that argument with others it was said to me, "Why, what is your contract worth with a labor organization? If it don't want to keep it, it won't and you cannot make it." That is true, but when that remark carried with it the insinuation that men of that class had no honor in carrying out a contract, I want to say that I deny it, and now I have the proof. There is in the constitution of the United Mine Workers of America a provision that if five divisions of the organization make an application to the president, he shall call together in convention delegates of the organization and settle that question.

His Faith Confirmed.

When every other means had been unsuccessfully tried, the miners resolved to call that national convention, and five divisions asked the president to call it. The object was to decide the question whether the bituminous men belonging to that organization would go out and strike in sympathy. Those of you who may be familiar with the great railroad and industrial interests of this country, can appreciate what that meant. John Mitchell, the president of the organization, had expressed himself publicly as averse to that expedient. Knowing what I know of his influence with his men, I believed that the men who had entered into a solemn compact with the employers which had been in force for four years, bound only by their honor, would defend that honor and they did, by voting unanimously against the strike. There is one of the strongest arguments that can be urged in favor of getting farther with this policy and encouraging these men and their class, by assuring them that they can earn and establish the confidence of their employers and the whole American people by such acts as those.

What there is yet to be done along the line of this great question depends upon the support that we receive. It is a great question. We admit it is of the greatest importance to our body politic and to our future as a country. It is a subject that must be dealt with from the political rostrum and fairly from the platform of Chautauqua circles and from the pulpit itself.

them until the next day to think the matter over.

Roach went to Levi Allen's house on Sunday. Allen and his wife broke down. Allen went on his knees to Detective Roach. "This is something awful!" he said. "It is more than I can stand, and I want to tell you all I know. Joseph did kill the woman. He told me all about it."

Levi Allen then told the detective how his brother became angry at the King woman and stabbed her; how he went out of the saloon to another establishment, washed his hands and threw the knife away.

Last night a Gazette reporter visited No. 823 Beaver avenue, Allegheny, where Allen boarded last May with Edward Fritschle. On the evening that Achsah King was murdered he went to this house and asked Fritschle's father where his former room-mate, William Lipps, was.

Old man Fritschle asked Allen where he had been, and he said that he had been "freighting" over the country. He had been in St. Louis, Chicago and Louisville. Later in the evening Lipps came home and Allen walked up to him and said: "Billy, I have to leave this city, and I want the $1 50 you owe me."

Lipps did not have the money and he went to Supt. G. D. Williams, of the ice company, and securing it, paid it to Allen. From here he went to Fourth avenue and remained in a freight car during the night. The next morning he went to Carnegie, and, taking a freight train, went to Steubenville.

Levi Allen confessed to the detective that he had given his brother money and a revolver and started him for Findlay, O., on Friday morning.

Allen only worked on the river a short time. Yesterday a Gazette reporter traced his movements from July 7 until July 16. He shipped on the Thomas Dodsworth at Louisville on July 7 and came to Pittsburgh with Capt. George W. Howder, arriving here July 16.

In Pittsburgh he drew $16 67. This is the money he is alleged to have spent on the King woman between July 16 and July 23, the day that she was killed. This is the only time that Allen ever worked on the river.

Detective Roach said when he placed Allen under arrest he fainted. The detective said, "Joe, you are in a bad fix, and I think the officers have the evidence against you."

"Well, I think I can prove where I was on the day of the murder," replied Allen.

Spokane, Jack O'Farrell of Davenport and other reinforcements had arrived on the scene and they went into camp around the field during the night.

Shortly after Tracy disappeared a shot was heard from the direction of the wheat field. No investigation was made, however, until this morning. As soon as dawn came an entrance was made into the wheat field.

Tracy's dead body was found lying amid the grain with his face turned toward the sky. His left hand thrown over his head held a revolver, which had inflicted the death wound. The thumb of his hand was on the trigger of the pistol. His right hand, thrown across the lower part of his body, firmly grasped the barrel of the famous rifle. Death was inflicted by a revolver held close to the forehead. The top of his head was badly shattered.

Two bullet wounds on the left leg showed the cause of the man's despondency. One shot had broken the leg between the ankle and the knee. The other cut the tibial artery, which of itself was sufficient cause for death.

It is believed that both of these wounds were received after the convict left the shelter of the rock and made his break for the wheat field. The fugitive had taken a strap and buckled it tight around his leg in an attempt to stop the bleeding. Despite the tightly fastened strap, the bleeding continued until he probably realized his hopeless condition and ended the struggle. He had one rifle and two revolvers.

The body, effects and the horses of the desperado were taken in charge by Sheriff Gardner and taken direct to Davenport, where they will be kept pending the decision as to the final disposition of Tracy's body. Reports come from Davenport that wild excitement prevails. Stores are closed and people are crowding around to get a sight of the outlaw.

HOT METAL EXPLOSION.

Three People Hurt and Two Houses Set on Fire.

In the yard of the Homestead steel works, near City Farm lane, yesterday morning, a large skull of iron was placed under a skull cracker to be broken. The metal had not cooled sufficiently and it exploded. Pieces of hot metal were thrown high and landed on the roofs of two houses. Mrs. John Ryan and her 5-year-old daughter Mary were standing on the porch of their home when a piece of hot metal struck the little girl on the head and inflicted a painful wound.

A piece of the metal struck a house occupied by a Slavish family. Annie Metsco, aged 5, and John Undovic were injured. Windows were broken in both houses and the hot metal set fire to the roofs. The Homestead fire company put out the blaze.

HEAVY STORM CAUSED DEATH AND BIG LOSS

Was Shortest and Most Violent Experienced Here This Summer.

A TREE KILLED FOREMAN

Truck Gardens in Beulah, Near Wilkinsburg, Ruined and Many Chickens Drowned — Greensburg and Northern Pikes Impassable.

A storm, sudden and terrific, swept over Pittsburgh and this section yesterday afternoon, and, though it lasted but a short time, it drove everything before it.

A man and a horse were killed on the National pike, near Beulah, about five miles from Wilkinsburg. The man was C. William Koch, 60 years old, of No. 9 Carlisle place, Neville street, a stable foreman for W. J. Turner, a contractor of No. 5201 Fifth avenue. The horse killed was owned by Turner.

Shortly after noon Turner and Koch started from Pittsburgh to drive to the farm of Turner's brother, Edward, just outside of Beulah. When within sight of their destination the storm suddenly broke and the men drove to a place sheltered on both sides by trees. As they entered the clump of trees there was a terrible crash of lightning. The lightning struck and cut the top from a large tree. It fell on the buggy and horse. A branch was driven into Koch's skull, while the trunk broke the horse's neck and smashed the rig to splinters.

A second buggy containing William Weiner, another employe of Turner, and Miss Emma Collins of Rodi, was closely following the first buggy. Koch was married and leaves a widow and four children.

In the vicinity of Beulah the rainfall was so heavy that it was thought a cloudburst. The farmers of the vicinity lost heavily. Many chickens were drowned. The wind blew down fences and laid the corn on the ground. Truck gardens were nearly all completely destroyed. At a number of places on the Greensburg and northern pikes last night the roads were impassable.

During the storm of 25 minutes the weather office reports .06 of an inch of rainfall and a wind velocity at the government building in Smithfield street, of 24 miles an hour. Its maximum velocity was fully 50 miles an hour.

State Chairman Creasy Wants Heart to Heart Talk With Democratic Campaign Committee.

HARRISBURG, PA., Aug. 6.—(Special.)—State Chairman William T. Creasy has called a meeting of the Democratic state campaign committee to be held here next Tuesday to discuss the proposed tour of the state nominees, and other matters pertaining to the fall campaign.

Ex-Gov. Pattison and his associates will start from Philadelphia in a special train the Monday following the notification meeting at Reading, which will be held about September 17, and will visit every county in Pennsylvania. They will be gone until the Saturday night before the election, when it is expected the campaign will be closed with a meeting in Philadelphia.

The state executive committee, which is composed of the nine division chairmen, will also meet Tuesday to determine the part to be taken by the chairmen in the campaign, and to discuss the prospects of the legislative tickets.

Chairman Creasy has not yet appointed his assistants, although it is believed he has decided on ex-Senator P. Gray Meek of Bellefonte for secretary. The appointments will be announced Tuesday. The campaign committee is composed of J. K. P. Hall of Elk; John S. Rilling, Erie; John B. Head, Westmoreland; Robert E. Wright, Lehigh; James Kerr, Clearfield; Charles P. Donnelly, Philadelphia, and John F. Ancona, Berks.

ODD FELLOWS HAD BIG TIME AT KENNYWOOD

Crowd at the Annual Picnic Yesterday Numbered Fully 25,000.

DID NOT HEED THE RAIN

Shower Drove Them to Shelter for Awhile, but Sun Came Out Soon. Orphans Were the Most Popular Children on the Grounds.

The picnic of the Odd Fellows at Kennywood park yesterday was perfect in all respects except one—it rained—but while the rain kept fully 5,000 persons away, it was accepted by the 25,000 at the park as a matter of course, and when the sun once more appeared everybody was happy. It rains every year on the day the Odd Fellows select for their picnic. Yesterday was the ninth time.

People were there with baskets before the committees arrived. These were people who had come to Pittsburgh on early trains. As they had come for a picnic they did not stop downtown, but took the first car for the park. Some of them returned to town on the last car and took midnight trains for home. Nearly one-half of the people at Kennywood park yesterday were from outside of Pittsburgh and Allegheny county. All of the 170 lodges of Odd Fellows in Western Pennsylvania were represented.

With the Odd Fellows the annual picnic is a matter of business. Not one item is overlooked. That is why it is perfect. The Odd Fellows' Picnic Association of Western Pennsylvania does nothing else but attend to the details. This association is composed of the delegates from the 170 lodges in the district. Meetings are held twice a month the year through and no subject is discussed except picnic.

Picnics Are Popular.

For the past six years W. G. Lang has been president of the association. S. W. Waugerman is vice president; D. J. McCloskey, secretary; P. M. Bennison, financial secretary, and A. N. Neadhamer, treasurer. The first Odd Fellows picnic was held by the Latrobe and Ligonier lodges in 1893 at Idlewild and there were about 200 present.

Two years ago the first picnic was held away from Idlewild. It was at Kennywood and 18,000 people were present. Last year it was at Idlewild again. It is probable that all of the picnics in the future will be at Kennywood.

A popular place yesterday was the headquarters tent. The chairmen of the different committees were as follows: Grounds, W. G. Lang; floor, P. M. Bennison; reception, W. S. Ekey; sports, James Hardy, Jr.; printing, D. J. McCloskey.

Directly behind headquarters was the hospital tent. This was in charge of Dr. Louis F. Ankrim of No. 5201 Penn avenue, who had with him a number of volunteer nurses and a corps of 10 assistants, wearing the red cross and visiting all parts of the grounds. The only call came about 5 o'clock, when a young man rushed into the tent and asked for a needle and thread to sew up a friend's torn trousers.

Children Were Popular.

Three lost babies were taken care of. President Lang was chief nurse. The Odd Fellows are great folk for orphans. They had as their guests yesterday the 61 little folk from the home at Ben Avon. They came up in two special cars in the care of Miss Jennie Lidy and Mrs. Clara Wallace. When they arrived they were taken to headquarters, where their baskets and hats were stowed away and they were tagged.

The little ones received a pretty red badge and the larger ones silver medals. Then they were turned loose. Everybody there assisted in their having a good time. Dinner was provided for everyone, and some of them were known to have eaten several times.

There were all kinds of sports, and instead of attempting to get a few people into the grandstand, as is generally done, the sports were brought to the people. In a large open space near the casino the races were run. There was a fat men's race, a three-legged race, boys' race, ladies' race and an egg race for girls. There was a tug-of-war between representatives of two lodges. This was after the rain. The soil was wet and slippery and the men were sights when they got through.

After night a tremendous crowd gathered. The few who went home because of the rain were not missed, as for every one who went there were hundreds who came. Because of this big crowd the finances of the Aged Odd Fellows home at Grove City will be given quite a lift, as all the money made was given to assist in making the declining days of the old members a little brighter.

THE MOST IMPORTANT PIANO EVENT IN YEARS

The J. C. Caldwell Stock of Fine Pianos, Bought By Ambuhl Bros., Going at Half Its Real Value On Easy Payments—The Knowing Ones Buying in Large Numbers. 622 Penn Avenue.

Unquestionably the most important Piano event of this or many other years is now in progress at Ambuhl Bros., 622 Penn avenue, where they are having a big ten-day sale of the J. C. Caldwell stock of fine pianos and organs.

A large percentage of the whole number of instruments—82—in this stock, was taken the first two days of the sale, for the knowing ones are buying freely, so if the saving of one-third to one-half, and in some cases even more, on the price of a good piano is an object, it will pay not to delay in attending this sale.

Here are fine, high-grade pianos, such as Hallet & Davis, Chickering Bros., Weber, Kranich & Bach, Wheelock, Draper Bros., etc., some entirely new, some shop-worn or slightly used, and some second-hand, that are going at half their real value, and on very easy terms of payment.

Fine new pianos that sell ordinarily for $250, $275, $300 to $350, are going here at $138, $165 to $198.

Parties wanting to start their children on the piano at little expense should not miss this. They are reliable.

Beautiful new dependable pianos in the latest styles of casings, and in all the fashionable woods, that sell regularly for $375, $400 to $475 and $500, are going in this sale for $228, $245, $275 to $310.

These are the rarest kind of bargains and are going rapidly.

Good second-hand Upright, reliable makes, $90 to $110.

Excellent instruments can be secured in this sale on the down payment of $25 and $10 monthly payments, and some for $20 down, and $8 monthly.

Some square pianos in excellent condition, of some of the very best makes, are going for $35, $45, $60 to $90; $10 down and $5 per month takes these.

The stock of organs included in this stock is large and varied. Some of the oldest and best makes being included. They are going at $22, $28, $34, $45, $68 to $95.

Entirely new $65 organs, with high-top and mirror, are going for $34.50.

Payments of from $6 to $10 down, and $4 and $5 per month, will buy any of these organs.

ANCIENT TALES OF LOVE AND WAR HEARD ON RHINE

All Day Long Teachers Ride Beneath Battlements of Gory Past.

OLD GLORY FLOATS ALOFT

Our Own Flag Receives Cheers of Patriotic Party—Visit to Amsterdam Full of Interest—Queen Wilhelmina's Six-Day Home.

By L. W. STRAYER.
Staff Correspondent.
(Special Correspondence to The Gazette.)

Mayence, July 25.—"A red-letter day" was the entry that some of the teachers made in their diaries for today. The event which called forth this description from the members of the European tour of The Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph was the trip up the Rhine from Cologne to Mayence. It was an ideal day and everything was conducive to a thorough enjoyment of the magnificent scenery that lines the banks of the river.

We boarded the steamer Borussia, at Cologne, at 9 o'clock this morning, and arrived here at 9:30 this evening. It was a long ride, but not a member of the party was tired of it for every crook and turn of the river brought new scenery and more ancient castles to delight the eye and to refresh the memory in legend and history. The sun shone fair and there was but a slight breeze making the journey a most comfortable one. When we reached Bonn, guide books and maps were consulted, for it is at this point that the sights of the Rhine begin. As the boat proceeded, every member of the party revelled in the scenery unfolded by every crook and turn of this historic stream. Old and crumbling battlements line the shores, perched high up on the mountain sides to be as inaccessible as possible to barons who built them. Interspersed were the modern villas of wealthy men, while several castles were pointed out with the information that they are now owned by Americans.

Then there was Ehrenbreitstein, the fortress which frowns down upon the river and which contains a garrison of 5,000 men. This is the scene of that touching old love song, "Ehren on the Rhine," which has been sung in drawing room and on battlefield for these many years. The ruins of the castles Sternberg and Liebenstein stand high on the cliffs and have a stirring legend of love and war, which thrills the blood to read. And the Lorelei rocks, where the heartless Undine sat and sang to lure the fishermen to their perils, is an imposing cliff, well calculated to bear out the traditions which cling to it.

Legend of Wicked Bishop.

Then there is "Bingen on the Rhine," the scene of that old school reader poem that has been declaimed by nearly every school boy for a quarter of a century or more. And just before reaching Bingen is a little island on which stand the ruins of a tower. It was in this tower that legend tells of the death and just fate of the wicked bishop who caused a number of captured soldiers to be burned alive. The bishop was pursued by an army of rats and fled to this tower for safety. But the rats followed, swarmed into the tower and ate the wicked bishop. This tale with some sort of variations, has been told by winter firesides for centuries.

These are only a few of the many interesting things which caused the party to reluctantly admit that the Hudson was far surpassed by the Rhine. The Schloss Stolzenfels, owned by Emperor William, the beautiful vineyards stretched over the hills and the little towns snuggled in by the water's edge, were all admired. History and tradition give a romantic air to the Rhine that cannot but be felt by the traveler who gazes upon its shores. Here were the scenes of war from and before Caesar's time to recent years, and here was the center of the feudal system that for centuries governed Germany. Here men have loved and fought and died, enacting the same drama of life as it is played today, but with such different stage settings as to give it an intensely attractive light when viewed in the retrospect. All these memories enhance the natural beauty of the Rhine and make the trip taken by our party a red letter day, indeed.

We had luncheon on the boat and a late dinner was served at the Hof von Holland upon our arrival in Mayence.

A little incident occurred upon the journey which showed the patriotism of Americans traveling abroad. We steamed past a building above which floated the Stars and Stripes and from the cheer which went up, one would have thought it was an American steamer passing. During the late afternoon songs were sung and when the party struck up "Die Wacht am Rhein" nearly every deck steward on the boat edged up to the crowd and chimed in. The concert ended with "America," the "Stars and Stripes," and three cheers for Uncle Sam.

Amsterdam Full of Interest.

Our visit at Amsterdam was full of interest and we saw enough in that old Dutch city to give a very good idea of the people and their characteristics. In the picture gallery are the principal works of the Dutch painters and it was one of the best galleries that the teachers have seen on their tour. The royal palace was the spot that drew the interest of all the party. Although Queen Wilhelmina lives there only six days of the year, yet the palace is kept with the same care and attention as if her majesty was expected any moment. The rich tapistries, furniture and carvings are on a magnificent scale and the walls are done in damask. This palace was formerly used as a town hall before it passed into the possession of the royal family, and its age gives it an additional interest.

We left Amsterdam about 8 a. m. for Cologne and on the way we had an encounter with the German customs officials. At Emerich the train stopped and all the baggage was unloaded and taken into the station. Here it had to be identified and passed by the inspectors when it was loaded on to the train again and we proceeded. Mr. Schinko, our conductor, is an old traveler and knows how to do things. He saw the chief inspector and arranged that none of our baggage was to be opened, consequently it was a very simple matter to get the chalk marks that denoted official approval.

The train reached Cologne at 3 p. m. and our party was driven to the Hotel Disch where a late luncheon was served, after which we started out to inspect the great cathedral, which is the principal object of interest in this city. With its spires towering 512 feet in the skies and its mammoth domes and minarets, it is a most imposing structure and no tourist can fail to be impressed with it.

After being shown through it and inspecting the priceless relics and jewels that are stowed in its chapels, the members of our party hastened to the shopping district and spent the remainder of the afternoon in hunting bargains, which are said to abound there. The shops, where eau de cologne was sold did a rushing business.

LAST DAYS OF TOUR IN THE LAND OF SCOTT.

By L. W. Strayer.
[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

EDINBURGH, SCOTLAND, Aug. 6.—We are in the land of cakes, oatmeal and golf, at least, on the southern border of it. We came by rail today from London. It was a long ride, but interesting, as we passed through almost the entire length of England, past many noted places and over a beautiful country. The weather was misty, with several showers, which detracted somewhat from the enjoyment of the journey. We arrived all well, but tired and hungry. Tomorrow will be spent in exploring this quaint old capital, a great deal of which suggests the steep hillsides of Pittsburgh, where houses hang to the cliffs by their eaves. The teachers will go tomorrow evening into the Trosachs, where Friday will be spent viewing the wild beauties of Loch Lomond and Loch Katrine. Several members of the party are already reciting portions of Scott's "Lady of the Lake."

HOME WELCOME FOR TEACHERS FROM MR. DUSS

Invites European Tourists to Listen to His Band in New York Garden.

TO BE PITTSBURGH NIGHT

Music Popular in Iron City Will Have Most Prominent Place on Program—Watching Gazette's Tour With Deep Interest.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Aug. 6.—When the teachers who are touring Europe as the guests of The Pittsburgh Gazette and Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph return to America this month they will find awaiting them in New York a cordial invitation from John S. Duss to hear his band at the St. Nicholas garden. Mr. Duss has taken a deep interest in the teachers and their trip, and today sent a letter to The Gazette's New York news bureau conveying an invitation to the whole party to visit the garden on their return home.

As the band and its leader have created a remarkable furore in this city, and have been talked about in Europe almost as much as in America, The Gazette on behalf of the teachers has gladly accepted Mr. Duss' offer.

Incidentally, it may be mentioned that the band maintains the high standard of excellence set from the beginning, and the St. Nicholas garden, vast as it is, has few empty seats on any evening. It is without doubt the pleasantest place in New York in which to spend the few hours between dinner and bedtime.

The tour of the Pittsburhg and Western Pennsylvania teachers in Europe is attracting much attention in this city, and when the young women get to New York they will find that their movements on the "continong" have been closely watched by this metropolis at long range. Mr. Duss has been taking the greatest interest in the excursion. He knows several of the teachers personally and has promised that his band shall discourse its sweetest music on the evening that they are at St. Nicholas garden.

The occasion will be made a notable one, both by Mr. Duss and his energetic manager, R. E. Johnston, they having determined that there shall be several special features in honor of the fair Pittsburghers and the two newspapers that arranged the tour for them.

The evening on which the Pittsburghers will be Mr. Duss' guests at St. Nicholas garden will be known as "The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph Teachers' European Excursion Night." Mr. Duss will prepare a special program which, it is understood, will include some of the melodies of Stephen C. Foster, the famous Pittsburgh musician of long ago. There are other compositions popular in Pittsburgh, which no one knows better than John S. Duss, and which will give him as much pleasure as anyone.

The steamship Columbia with the teachers on board is due to arrive in New York on Sunday, August 17, so most likely "The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph Teachers' European Excursion Night" will be on the following evening, Monday, August 18.

NEW REGULATION FOR LABOR DAY PARADE

Firms "Unfair" to Organized Labor Cannot Have Floats in Procession.

In the big parade on Labor Day no advertising floats will be allowed of houses "unfair" to organized labor. This was developed at the regular meeting of the general committee last night. A representative of the Homewood board of trade, which will have a carnival the week of the demonstration, asked that it be permitted to take place in the parade. The committee consented, on condition that it censor the list of people who will put out advertising wagons and eliminate all who are unfair.

The general Labor Day committee decided to have the parade form in four divisions, miners first, building trades second, miscellaneous third, and iron and glass workers fourth. The executives of the Amalgamated association and the Amalgamated Flint Glass Workers' union have agreed to urge their members to participate.

The meeting elected Charles Winslow, president of the district council of carpenters, adjutant general, and Daniel Gildernew, business agent of the bricklayers, chief of staff of Marshal Alexander Hunter. Master Workman John Fernau, secretary of the executive committee for Labor Day, was directed to notify all locals to elect two aides for the marshals.

It was decided to give a silk banner to the local organization presenting the best appearance.

The transportation committee reported that several railroads have agreed to a rate of one fare for the round trip from all points within a radius of 50 miles.

The executive committee will meet this morning to decide on speakers to be asked to address the meeting at Schenley park. Among those favorably mentioned are John Mitchell, T. V. Powderly and Frank Sargent.

Mt. Albion Deadlock Continues.

The directors of the Mt. Albion school, Eighteenth ward, last evening balloted 17 times for a principal, but again failed to elect. Another effort will be made on the evening of September 3. Failure at that time, after the school term has begun, will warrant a petition to court for the board's removal.

This Leaves Marlborough Out.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—It is considered probable that the earl of Dudley will succeed Earl Cadogan as lord lieutenant of Ireland.

COMBINATION IS NOT KNOWN HERE

Reported $5,000,000 Theatrical Syndicate Formed in the East New Thing to Local Managers.

A report came from New York yesterday to the effect that a combination had been formed by managers and owners of burlesque theaters and road companies controlling 36 houses in the United States and a like number of traveling organizations. President Curtin of the Amalgamated Burlesque Managers' association was quoted as having said: "Five million dollars will represent the amount of capital involved. Clean, funny shows will be the attractions."

So far as can be learned nothing is known of the scheme here. No one appears to know Curtin. Manager Harry Davis of the Grand opera house, who is well posted on such matters, said he had never heard of any such combination, and that his engagements for the new vaudeville career he is going to embark the Avenue theater on had no connection with any syndicate of the kind mentioned.

Harry Williams of the Academy said he had heard about some such combination, but that so far as he was concerned, and so far as he knew there was no combination which could prevent either himself or Harry Davis from giving to the Pittsburgh public the best shows the coming season that they had ever had in the same class of theaters.

STILL ANOTHER ATTRACTION

The "Haunted Swing" Is the Latest Addition to Exposition Novelties.

An attraction never before seen at the Pittsburgh Exposition will be the "Haunted Swing," the building for which is now being erected just to the right of the music hall. For several seasons this was a feature at Atlantic City and other eastern summer resorts, owing to the mystery and constant surprise surrounding its operation. There is absolutely no danger in its manipulation, and much innocent amusement and entertainment for its occupants is afforded.

A prominent citizen has expressed his willingness to place a fountain at the Exposition's disposal. The offer in all likelihood will be accepted, and the fountain placed in the main building at the intersection of the two main aisles.

For the young readers of The Sunday Gazette, a story of William Penn, by Edgar W. Hassler, next Sunday.

HAMILTON'S SELL THE BEST PIANOS AT MOST ATTRACTIVE PRICES.

You would not appreciate a new piano that you buy for $50 or $75, because you know very well that it is impossible to produce any worthy instrument for any such prices. But you would appreciate a medium priced instrument coming from Hamilton's, because you must know that this house is famed throughout the country for the high character of the instruments which it sells.

Now here is the point.

Hamilton's do not pretend to sell instruments at impossible prices, but they DO sell the most reliable instruments made, at moderate prices. At this store you can buy an instrument that is fully guaranteed, for $200. And if you prefer, easy monthly payments will be arranged to suit your convenience. Do not hesitate to come in because of the small amount of ready cash that you now have to invest in an instrument. Everybody realizes that there are various other things that require attention. And it may be that you prefer not to pay all cash down for a piano just now. You will find the terms at Hamilton's entirely satisfactory, and the range of prices such as will appeal to all buyers. Whether you wish the lowest priced instrument sold at Hamilton's or the finest, the terms will certainly attract you, and you will have the satisfaction of knowing that you have purchased a piano that will always be a delight both to yourself and your friends.

Stock-taking at Hamilton's is about over, and it is found that there are quite a few instruments of various makes left over from the semi-annual clearance which ended August 1. These pianos will be sold at greatly reduced prices to make a clean sweep of all such goods. Some are reduced one-third and more below the regular prices.

This is about all that need be said as to the advantages of immediate purchasing. The reductions in prices are sufficient to attract economical buyers, and the reputation of Hamilton's is such as to appeal to all who realize how well it pays to deal with a house whose business has been built upon honor, and where it is known that only instruments that are absolutely worthy, are ever sold.

Send for catalogue if you cannot come.

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains the linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it, or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of Swamp-Root and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention that you read this generous offer in the Pittsburgh "Daily Gazette." Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

SOLES PARK PLAN OF LOTS

ADJOINING SHADY PARK, NORTH BRADDOCK,

Without a doubt the most desirable plan of choice building lots in the busy Monongahela Valley, and every lot is certain to double in value within a very brief time. The plan is delightfully situated on the high ground overlooking the beautiful Monongahela River, and within sight and easy walking distance of the greatest mills and workshops in the world, where a vast army of men and women are employed and

$7,000,000 PAID IN WAGES EVERY MONTH

The cars of the Pittsburgh Railways Company, for all points, are within three minutes' walking distance from the plan, and work has been started on the Turtle Creek and Wilkinsburg Street Railway lines a short distance in the rear of the plan. Their location makes them convenient to the workingmen in the many big mills for which this vicinity is world famed, while their elevation makes them choice home sites, free from the dust and smoke of the big manufacturing plants. The price of lots is very moderate and terms easy.

LOTS RANGE IN VALUE FROM $300 TO $500

This choice plan of desirable home sites will be opened for sale

SATURDAY, AUGUST 9th, 1902.

The terms are easy, and any person can secure a home and be independent of the landlord.

This is not a boom sale, but a legitimate sale of choice property by Mr. D. S. Elliott, who has owned the property for many years. Shady Park, adjoining the plan, is the residence district of Braddock, and every lot in the plan has increased SIX TIMES WHAT IT COST WHEN PLACED ON THE MARKET SEVEN YEARS AGO. SOLES PARK LOTS WILL DO BETTER, AS MOST OF THEM ARE LEVEL LOTS.

OPENING SALE SATURDAY, AUGUST 9th, AND EVERY DAY THEREAFTER.

The owner, DAVID S. ELLIOTT, or representative, will be on the grounds at all times, where all information regarding this desirable place can be obtained. If you are looking for a home in a healthful neighborhood, free from dust and smoke, yet within suitable traveling distance from the big mills, you are invited to call Saturday or any day thereafter.

Take Pennsylvania Railroad, East Pittsburgh and Wilkingsburg, or Braddock Cars on Yellow line, and get off at Copeland Station and walk up Fourth street a short distance to the plan.

CHECK IS BEING PUT ON FUNDS BY CONTROLLER

Is Preparing a Statement of Balances for Recorder Brown to Consider.

SITUATION IS CRITICAL

Machine Policy of the Past Will Not Be Tolerated by Larkin, Who Has Set His Face Sternly Against the Borrowing Habit.

Controller John B. Larkin is preparing to notify City Recorder J. O. Brown of the balances remaining to the credits of the various bureaus of the city government, and will advise him that he will allow no borrowing of money to fill any deficiency. The controller will inform the recorder that economy must be exercised or the city government will come to a standstill for want of money.

This statement will show that every bureau is short in its appropriation and that unless there is a halt all of them will be out of money anywhere from 60 to 90 days before the regular appropriation bill is passed next February. The bureau of construction and the bureau of health are said to be nearer the end than any of the others. The situation is critical. The bureau of construction fund has been dissipated by paying filtration expenses. This has been done ever since Controller Larkin stopped all expenditure from the filtration fund, on May 10. The work on the filtration plans has gone on, but it has crippled the fund of the construction bureau.

The Machine Policy in the Past.

The machine policy in the past has been, when it was short of money in any appropriation, either to transfer from the contingent fund or to borrow money. The sanction of the city controller is required to borrow money, and that, Controller Larkin stated some time ago, he would not permit.

Controller Larkin realizes the power the charter gives him to prevent the machine from running the city any deeper into debt by refusing to sanction the borrowing of money, but he also knows that there are certain departments which must be kept going at all hazards, and he takes up the matter at this time so that it will not be necessary to apply his rule to these.

Controller Larkin at noon yesterday sent to Recorder Brown a communication directing him to notify the heads of departments and bureaus of the city government that he would no longer pay any money for work done on buildings not constructed according to plans secured by competitive bids.

The controller has examined very carefully the Wallace act under which city contracts are let, and it leads him to take the stand that when any further buildings are to be constructed the government must ask for competitive plans, and select the plan which is the best adapted to the purpose. He arrived at this conclusion while examining the manner in which the plans for the new municipal hospital are being made.

Favoritism Toward Architects.

It has been the custom of the machine to pass an ordinance in councils empowering the employment of architects to draw plans and specifications for a certain building. The architect employed is always one that has the most influence with the machine and all the work given out by J. O. Brown went to a certain architect who was high in favor with the machine. This architect has lost his influence and the work is now going to another man.

City Recorder J. O. Brown was not in his office in city hall yesterday during office hours, so that it was not possible to learn what his intentions are concerning the communication of the controller. The recorder was in his office about 8 o'clock yesterday morning, but that was before office hours, according to one of his own statements. When he was appointed recorder he said that he would be recorder from 10 o'clock to 3 o'clock each day, and that he would be city chairman the balance of the 24 hours.

AUTOMOBILE USED FOR AN ELOPEMENT

MINE OWNER FROM CRIPPLE CREEK WINS AN OPERA SINGER.

Mona Eames of the Duquesne Garden Company Marries James Hilton, and as a Wedding Present Gets the Rich Mine He Named for Her.

The members of the summer opera company playing at Duquesne garden are all agog over the elopement of one of the members with a well-known mine owner of Cripple Creek, Col., which occurred Sunday, July 27. The parties to the elopement went about it in a novel way. While they wanted to be married quietly, yet they took a method of making it sensational, and eloped in an automobile.

The bride is Mona Eames, one of the bright lights of this season's operatic organization, who has made many friends during her sojourn in Pittsburgh. The groom is James Hilton of Cripple Creek, who owns several mines, the most productive of which is the Mona mine, named for his bride, and which he gave to her as a wedding present.

Miss Eames some two years ago was one of the principal members of the Grau opera company, playing what is known as the "silver circuit" in a repertoire of light and grand opera. It was while playing in Colorado Springs that Hilton met Miss Eames. For nearly two weeks the couple were in one another's company continually, and on the eve of the departure of the opera company for San Francisco, the wealthy mine owner named one of his mines in honor of the fair singer, and told her that the night she would become his wife he would make her a present of the Mona mine, providing it proved successful.

Miss Eames kept up a continual correspondence with her wealthy friend, and at his earnest solicitation she at last invited him to call on her in Pittsburgh. He arrived in this city on July 25. The following Saturday he had an automobile stationed at the stage entrance. Miss Eames having prepared herself in the afternoon, after bidding bood-bye to her companions, jumped into the automobile and disappeared.

It was thought by the members of the stock company at the garden that it was only for a short ride in the self-moving machine and a dinner afterward, but it proved to be the event of her theatrical career. They went to McKeesport, where they were married. That same night they returned to Pittsburgh, and on Monday afternoon Mr. Hilton turned over the deed to his bride making her the possessor of one of the best silver mines in Colorado.

Two days later Hilton left for Cripple Creek, but in some manner the story leaked out and the actress has been busy the past two days receiving congratulations from her friends in the company.

Miss Eames will not retire from the stage, but will finish her season at the garden, after which she will go abroad with her husband and they will remain in London a year, during which time she will pursue her musical studies.

The bride is an unusually fine-looking girl. She has just reached her majority, and is considered quiet and unassuming, and this alone makes her marriage all the more interesting, as she has always been studious and never cared for going about.

HAD A BLAZING LOAD.

The Driver of a Hay Wagon Warned Just in Time.

A wagonload of burning hay was driven through the streets of Lower Allegheny yesterday afternoon and the driver, J. H. Hohman, did not know the hay was ablaze until the flames had gained much headway. At Sheffield and Frazier streets a policeman called Hohman's attention to the fact that his hay was on fire and sent in an alarm from box 35 at 2:30.

Hohman unhitched his horses from the wagon and by the time the firemen arrived the hay was a mass of flames. The hay and wagon were almost a total loss.

At 2:56 p. m. an alarm was sent in from box 112, Allegheny, for a small blaze in the house of Mrs. William McFarland at No. 401 First street. Mrs. McFarland was cleaning a bedstead with gasoline, which caught fire. The loss was trifling.

Death Not Accidental.

At an inquest into the death of Emanuel P. McMillan, killed on Tuesday afternoon by falling five stories down an elevator shaft in the Lewis block, the testimony heard yesterday showed that some unknown person is responsible for the death of McMillan. The inquest was postponed until further inquiry can be made, to learn, if possible, who is responsible for McMillan's death.

RIVER INTERESTS

News of the Rivers.

The steamer Gertrude was detained yesterday on account of fog.

The Woodward was inspected yesterday by the local government inspectors.

Capts. Thomas Flaherty and John W. Hays leave today on a trip to the Pacific coast.

The towboat J. B. Finley is three days out from Greenville, Miss., on her way north with empties.

The steamer Ben Hur will be found in port this morning. The Greenwood and Lorena are due here tonight.

Capt. Julian Davey, formerly master of the Bonanza, is now clerk at the Ironton house, of Ironton.

Mrs. Arnold, the wife of J. M. Arnold, is spending the summer in the Alleghany mountains at Wildwood.

Capt. E. W. Webster of Marietta has sold one-half of the Beverly packet Sonoma to two oil men for $6,000.

Capt. Joseph Price leaves this morning for Atlantic City, accompanied by his family, for a short rest at the seashore.

A meeting of the members of Harbor No. 25, Masters and Pilots, will be held Saturday morning, at which time officers will be installed.

Work is progressing slowly on the boat being built for White Bros., at Sistersville, W. Va. Some trouble has been experienced in securing labor.

One big vessel now being talked of at St. Louis is to have electric freight conveyors. Rivermen believe that this is one step out of the labor difficulty.

The work of raising the wickets at the Davis Island dam will be commenced this morning and the entire dam is expected to be in place by tomorrow.

The towboat Twilight, owned by the river coal combination, yesterday struck the upper crib at the navigable pass at the Herrs Island dam and sank a loaded flat of coal.

The hull of the towboat Relief was dropped down to the foot of Ludlow street, Cincinnati, where the cabin is being put out. The framework and the pilot house are already constructed.

Capt. J. M. Hammitt and his family last night left for Atlantic City, where they will spend a couple of weeks in recreation. The captain has been busy building boats for the past year.

Dr. R. C. Craig, the local marine hospital physician, has been ill for several days, but comes to his office in the Federal building every day notwithstanding. He hopes to soon regain his health.

It is stated that government engineers in making soundings have discovered that all of the Tenth street bridge piers under the surface of the water have not been removed and steamboatmen should steer clear of them.

Capt. Denver Stout has Pilot Charles Gebhard of Charleston on the towboat John Mackey with him. The Mackey will be sold, the Winifred Coal Company wishing to build a larger boat for its work in the Kanawha river.

The towboats James Moren, Volunteer and Pacific are due in port and will probably be in the harbor this morning. There is sufficient water, it is thought, to let them in. The Dave Wood arrived yesterday afternoon with her empty tow.

Capt. Peter Sprague left last night for St. Louis, where he will remain until the monster steamer Sprague is completed. Most of the steamer's outfit was purchased in Pittsburgh and shipped west, but the captain intends to buy her cabin outfit in St. Louis.

Following is the monthly report for July of the commerce through lock 11, on the Great Kanawha river: Coal, 825,000 bushels; coke, 500 tons; lumber and sawlogs, 1,327,000 feet B. M.; railroad ties, 49,700; staves, 105,000; shingles, 25,000; laths, 550,000; brick, 13,000; salt, 700 barrels; steamboats, 148; loaded barges down, 66; empty barges up, 124; other craft, 24; passengers on packets, 1,930; miscellaneous freight on packets, 2,949 tons.

Steamship Merger Confirmed.

BREMEN, Aug. 6.—The shareholders of the North German Lloyd line today confirmed the modification of the company's articles of association, incident to the line's amalgamation with the shipping combine, and authorized the raising of a loan by the issuance of debenture bonds to the value of $2,500,000.

CAMPAIGN WORK WELL STARTED BY CITIZENS

Candidates Already Hustling for Votes and Machine Is Discouraged.

IN ALLEGHENY TONIGHT

Jacksonian Club Gives Reception to County Nominees—Dr. Cadwallader Evans May Announce Campaign Committee.

With the completion of the Citizens ticket on Tuesday and its ratification by all factions the fall campaign in Allegheny county is on in earnest and the hustling for votes will continue until the polls close. The Citizens party men already have the general plan of the campaign well in hand and the work is being vigorously prosecuted. The organization, on the other hand, is apparently demoralized and hopeless of a victory. The majority of its candidates and politicians are now rusticating in Canada, trying to outline some method that will give them a look in on the fight.

Big campaign banners now hang from Citizens headquarters, both in Pittsburgh and Allegheny, and the portraits and names of the candidates are grouped around the motto, "Liberty and Independence." Already the Citizens candidates have, on invitation, attended several gatherings, and the enthusiastic reception they met shows where the voters of the county will stand in the fall.

Reception to Nominees.

The Jacksonian clubhouse in Allegheny will tonight be made the scene of an ovation to the county candidates by the Citizens and Democrats of that city. All the candidates will probably be in attendance and ringing speeches will pledge honest administration of office free from boss rule.

Invitations to this reception were sent to members of the Allegheny county Democratic central committee and the sub-committees, including the ward and district committees of the First legislative district, and a permanent organization in each ward will carry on the Democratic end of the fight in the district.

Dr. Cadwallader Evans, chairman of the Citizens committee of 30, returned home yesterday morning, and will remain several days, working on the preliminary arrangements for the fall fight.

It is probable that during his stay the members of the committees to have charge of various departments of the campaign work will be named.

Flinn Is in Town.

Senator William Flinn arrived in the city yesterday morning, but had nothing to say on the political situation, further than to predict victory for the organization forces. The senator was disappointed in not being able to see King Edward VII. crowned, having gone to Europe with that object as one of the main inspirations of his trip.

After he had carried out the instruction of Recorder Brown in naming the members of the organization campaign committee, County Chairman A. C. Robertson left for Yellowstone park yesterday. It is understood that several of the appointments to the committee were made without consulting the appointees, and are not welcomed by the recipients. In fact, it is reported that more than one of them intends refusing to serve.

May Be Legal Contest.

The organization is still planning to keep the names of the Republican state nominees off the Citizens ticket. Judge Josiah Cohen is said to have predicted that there would be a legal contest over the matter. This, if it is instituted, will be begun solely in the hope of tying the affair up in the courts until it is too late to get the names on the ticket. The organization might try to fight the matter out in the state commitee, but such a contest would be without hope of success.

The course the organization will take in the matter will be determined at Georgian Bay, where Senator Flinn will go in a day or so to meet his lieutenants. His henchmen have called so long and loudly for his advice and aid that he will keep his usual place as the power behind the throne this fall. The ring is in desperate straits and practically concedes defeat, but if the necessary sinews of war can be produced will make its last fight a bitter one.

THE NEW EVERGREEN.

Capt. Gordon Greene's Pretty Packet Will Soon Be Finished.

Capt. Gordon Greene's new steamer Evergreen will soon be ready for commission. The boat was towed from Parkersburg to Gallipolis several days ago by the steamer Greenwood, and will receive its outfit at the latter city. Her boilers are also being built at that place. She will be lighted by electricity throughout and when ready for commission will ply in the trade between Winfield and Charleston on the Kanawha river.

Capt. Wren Wright has been assigned to command the boat. The Evergreen bears a portion of Capt. Greene's name, which he always expects to "keep green." Capt. Greeen owns several other steamers, but his best boat is the Greenwood, which plies between Pittsburgh and Charleston. The captain is very popular among rivermen and all hope that his new craft will have a successful career.

TWO YOUNG WOMEN KILLED.

Three Others Injured by Jumping from a High Trestle.

HOPKINSVILLE, KY., Aug. 6.—An excursion train on the Illinois Central caught five young women on a high trestle at Dawson Springs this afternoon. Two were crushed to death and the others jumping, were probably fatally injured. The dead are Miss Jennie Smith, Paducah, Ky., and Lucy Stevenson, Hickory Grove, Ky.

The injured are: Miss Lena Flint, Paducah; Edith Stevenson, Hickory Grove, and Annie Nichols, Hawes, Ky. All were sojourning at the Springs.

CHOLERA'S GERMS CARRIED BY FLIES

OFFICIAL REPORT ON SPREAD OF DISEASE IN PHILIPPINES.

Of 1,005 Cases in Manila, 800 Persons Died—A Large Majority of Them Are Natives—It Is Difficult to Enforce Laws of Sanitation.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 6.—The bureau of insular affairs of the war department today received a report from the board of health of the Philippine islands and city of Manila, dated May 15, 1902. This report was prepared by Maj. L. M. Maus, surgeon, United States army, commissioner of public health for the Philippine islands. Its principal interest lies in the report on Asiatic cholera from the date of its first appearance in Manila, March 20, 1902, to the date of the report, which shows that during that time 1,005 cases of Asiatic cholera were reported in Manila, 800 persons died and 205 recovered.

The cases, in respect to nationality, deaths and mortality, were divided as follows: Filipinos, 862 cases, 699 deaths; Chinese, 103 cases, 71 deaths; Americans, 23 cases, 18 deaths; English, 13 cases, 10 deaths; Europeans and others, 4 cases, 2 deaths.

From the beginning of the epidemic all cases, with few exceptions, were treated in cholera hospitals organized by the board of health. From March 26 until April 18 all cases were sent to the hospital established on the San Lazaro grounds, and the contacts to the detention camp adjoining, which had previously been constructed for bubonic plague. Arrangements were also made to establish a hospital in a large building on Calle Herran, formerly used by the army, and known as the second reserve hospital.

Maj. Maus calls attention to the splendid work performed by the Sisters of Charity, who were sent there as nurses. There was practically no co-operation among the natives in regard to reporting cases occurring in their families, and for this reason it became necessary to employ a large number of men as sanitary inspectors. A system of rules and regulations was adopted affecting the cooked food shops. Although the enforcement of these rules among a population of 300,000 people was very difficult a marked decrease in the number of cases was shortly observed.

There is no doubt, the report says, but that the ordinary household fly can transfer the cholera spirilum from infected matter to food, as is the case with typhoid fever. The board of health has inaugurated a crusade against flies by means of fly poison, and also has begun the destruction of maggots in the esteros.

In spite of the rigid quarantine placed around Manila a large number of cases of cholera escaped from the city and infected pueblos in neighboring provinces. At the present date but few cases exist in any of the provinces outside of Batangas, Laguna and Rizal.

It is also stated in this report that no case of plague (bubonic) has occurred in Manila since March 6.

The Problem Solved.

The grocers of Allegheny county and Western Pennsylvania for years have been perplexed with the question of obtaining an absolutely fresh supply of eggs for the daily trade. Strictly fresh eggs up to late have been hard to get. This difficulty is now entirely removed. The dealer who wishes to hold, increase and satisfy his customers can do so by drawing daily his supply of eggs from the Keystone Commercial Company, Nos. 55 to 79 Carson street, South Side, city. The Keystone Commercial Company makes a specialty of handling fresh eggs and poultry at the very lowest market rates.

Satisfy your customers by satisfying yourself. Don't wait for the semi-monthly call of the farmer or huckster, but place your order immediately, calling up telephone No. 148, court.

Healthy South Side.

The sanitation committee of the chamber of commerce recently reported that the South Side wards of the city had only half as many cases of typhoid fever in proportion to the population as the wards lying between the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers.

In regard to which, an official of the Monongahela Water Company says, "Comment is unnecessary."

Not in Torchia's Place—The six Italians who engaged in a bloody cutting and shooting affray in Tunnel street last Sunday evening were drinking during the afternoon at No. 611 Webster avenue, and not at 609. The latter is Frank Torchia's place and he says he observes the Sunday regulations strictly.

Magistrate Warns Boys—Allegheny boys who make the streets their playgrounds will hereafter be arrested and fined, according to a statement made yesterday by Magistrate Hunneshagen, when he fined Walter Miller, 15 years old, of No. 1315 Federal street, $5 for playing "cat and dog" in the street.

Took Badly Needed Money—The South Side police are looking for a thief who took $13 from the home of James Garvin, No. 1323 Sarah street, South Side, Tuesday evening. Garvin recently left a hospital after having been there 23 weeks and badly needed the money, which was the remainder of his first pay.

Young Woman Took Poison—Grace Gill, 23 years old, was found yesterday morning suffering from poison alleged to have been taken with suicidal intent at a house in Second avenue, of which she had been an inmate for about a year. She was removed to the Homeopathic hospital, where it is thought she will recover.

Long Race for Burglar—Chief of Police George Foster of Carnegie yesterday morning chased David Burton, colored, for over a mile, during which both pursued and pursuer swam Chartiers creek. Foster finally caught Burton and placed him under arrest. Burton is alleged to have committed a burglary at Carnegie over a year ago.

Says There Was No Man—Perry Anderson denies that he drew a knife or beat his wife when she was found in a house in Standard row, Lawrenceville, after having been missing from home over night. He also denies that there was a man in the room. He says he saved the life of Mrs. Eagan, his sister-in-law, when she tried to jump out of a second-story window.

Prisoner Not Cash—Wilson Miller, colored, who was arrested on Tuesday at Wylie avenue and Elm street by Policeman J. W. Reed and Battle Keys on suspicion, was released yesterday. It was thought Miller was Thomas Cash, a negro for whom the police have been looking for five years for two murders, committed at the Unity camp. Detective Robinson yesterday said the prisoner was not Cash.

Took Too Much Morphine—Otto Martens, 27 years old, is at the Allegheny General hospital suffering from an overdose of morphine taken to relieve pain. Martens, who boards at No. 18 East Robinson street, Allegheny, last Saturday was badly cut on the wrist while working at the Pittsburgh Machine Tool Company plant in Darrah street. Yesterday morning he took an overdose of morphine tablets his physician had prescribed for him.

For Abusing Horses—Agent J. N. Kidney of the Humane society yesterday had Robert Johnson, a colored driver for the Hartney Bros. Coal Company, before Alderman Henry Eynon on a charge of cruelty to animals. He was accused of overloading and beating his horses and was fined the costs in the case. Other fines reported at yesterday's meeting of the society netted $65, $45 being recovered from Agent Wilson Thompson of Indiana, $10 from Justice William Douglass of Boston and $10 from Agent Charles Wilson of Connellsville.

Government Stopped Work—Capt. W. L. Sibert, corps of United States engineers, in charge of the government work in the harbor and rivers hereabouts, stated yesterday that at Big Rock, two miles below Franklin, on the Allegheny river, the government compelled the cessation of all work on the construction of a bridge for the Oil City Traction Company. Capt. Sibert says that the bridge, as contemplated by the corporation, is 18 feet lower than the government will permit, and consequently all further work must be in accordance with the regulations of the United States.

Aged Man Disappears—Robert Woodside, an aged resident of No. 28 Rosedale street, Thirty-seventh ward, wandered away from home on Tuesday and has not since been heard of, although the police have been searching for him since Tuesday night. He is 81 years of age and is deaf and dumb, and at times suffers from slight dementia on account of his advanced age. On Tuesday afternoon he signified his intention to go to a cigar store half a block from his home to make a purchase, as he had been accustomed to do. He probably turned in the wrong direction after leaving home, as he did not visit the store. He was without a coat and should easily be apprehended, but absolutely no trace of him has been found. He has some money and a few years ago a guardian was appointed to look after his estate. Years ago he was an instructor in a school for mutes in the First ward.

Maces Were Useless—Joseph Brown, colored, and Policeman Joseph Weber and Edward Frank presented a badly battered appearance when they arrived at No. 6 police station yesterday morning. Brown, who weighs about 250 pounds, had a fight with two white women in State alley. The officers were called to arrest Brown, and when they tried to put him into the patrol wagon he began a fight, which continued to the station house. The officers used their maces, but the blows only tore Brown's scalp.

Peculiar Accident to Fireman—W. L. Johnston, a fireman on the Pennsylvania railroad, had a narrow escape from death at the eastern end of the tunnel at Ardara, about four miles from Pitcairn. As the train entered the tunnel a small stone rolled from the top of the cut and struck Johnston, who was sitting in the cab. The stone cut through his blouse and shirt and struck him directly over the heart, rendering him unconscious. He was sent to his home in Altoona early yesterday morning.

ATLANTIC CITY.

Bureau for Care of Lost Children Established on Young's Pier. Adgie to Amuse Them.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 6.—(Special.)—A bureau for the care of lost children will be opened tomorrow morning on Young's Ocean Pier, and Mrs. F. D. Smith of this city will be the matron. Mayor Stoy appointed Mrs. Smith to the position today and she will assume charge of the bureau tomorrow. All stray children will be taken there by police officers, and will be amused until redeemed.

Capt. Young has given permission to use a space on the pier, and the children will be entertained by Adgie and her lions and various other attractions to be found there until their parents arrive.

Floral Parade Postponed.

The floral parade originally set for Friday afternoon has been postponed until the following Friday, August 15. Lack of time for making preparations is the reason assigned. A children's division in the parade is now being planned.

Accidental Family Reunion.

After a separation of almost six years, Mrs. W. Judson Baker of Greenville, O., and Watson Colkett of Spokane, Wash., met here today at a beach front hotel. Mrs. Baker and Mr. Colkett are brother and sister. Their home was in Pittsburgh until nearly six years ago, when their parents died and the family scattered. The meeting today was purely accidental. A dinner will be given by Mr. Colkett in honor of the event.

The late arrivals at the hotels include the following from Pittsburgh and vicinity:

CHAUTAUQUA.

Royal Welcome Accorded Bishop Vincent on Return from Europe.

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., Aug. 6.—(Special.)—In all its history Chautauqua has never before had such a gala day as today. Chautauqua welcomes home its distinguished chancellor and founder, Bishop John H. Vincent, after an absence of two years in Europe. No conquering hero laden with spoils of victory could have had a more royal welcome. All class work and lectures were abandoned for the hour by the thousands of people who are now here assembled on the lake front.

As soon as the special boat bearing the bishop and his party came within hailing distance a salute was waved from the shore and the larger boats dipped their colors. When the landing was reached the piers and balconies were a mass of waving handkerchiefs. The chimes in the tower rang out a familiar air and then the great choir, stationed on the pier, sang in the bishop's honor.

As the party passed through the gates they were greeted by the children's choir, nearly 300 strong, which sang "Home Again from a Foreign Shore." Continuous lines had been formed on either side of the walk from the pier to the Vincent cottage, and on either side of this line stood hundreds of people, while the balconies and hotels and cottages were thronged to the utmost capacity.

The heartiness of the greeting was expressed not by any noise or cheering, but by the silent, touching welcome of thousands of waving handkerchiefs, the Chautauqua salute instituted by the bishop himself. Instead of driving to his cottage, as was originally intended, the bishop walked between the lines of people there to welcome him.

This is also the occasion of "old first night," the greatest festival of the season. Bishop Vincent presided and made his first address in the amphitheater. Among the speakers were old Chautauquans, here every year at this time, Dr. J. M. Buckley, Dr. Jesse Hurlburt, Frank Beard and Dr. Duncan. After the exercises in the amphitheater there was a display of fireworks on the lake front.

FRIARS DISPOSE ONLY OF PORTION OF LAND HOLDING Interests Sold to Companies to Avoid Hostility of Those Having Leases.

SOME BUYERS AMERICANS

Vatican Thinks Situation Is Such That Interference Is Unnecessary, but Facts Have Been Fully Known in Washington All Along.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Rome, Aug. 6.—According to information received by the vatican, almost all the real estate belonging to Spanish friars in the Philippines was sold before American occupation to syndicates and corporations duly registered and legally recognized, headed by Americans living in New York. It is alleged by the same authority that, although the friars hold some shares in these corporations, they do not own controlling interests.

The vatican is surprised at this information, in view of Governor Taft's proposition to buy the friar lands, which apparently are no longer in their control.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—The war department has known for some time that portions of the friar lands in the Philippines have been disposed of to companies, and all of the recent negotiations conducted by Secretary Root have carefully taken into account any contingencies which might arise through these transfers. The facts were fully communicated to the government here by Governor Taft. The latter also explained this matter of alleged transfer to the senate committee on the Philippines.

To Avoid Hostility.

In the course of his evidence before the committee Governor Taft said, in answer to the question whether the friars were in actual possession of the lands:

"Generally, in order to avoid hostility, they have transferred their titles to companies and retained the majority of the stock."

Being asked as to these companies, Governor Taft explained their status as follows:

"I wish to say that one of these companies, or a stockholder of one of the companies, has filed a protest with the acting governor, which I have with me, against the condemnation of these lands, because of the interest some individual owners have in them. But I want to add that I do not think that protest has sufficient weight to vary the truth of my statement that the commission has reasonable ground to believe that, with the authority which it asks, to-wit, to issue bonds, it can at reasonable prices purchase this land."

As to the bona fide nature of the transfers to certain companies, Governor Taft said that he had cross-examined the heads of religious orders.

Transfers Are Colorable.

"I think after you read the evidence it will become obvious that, while it is true that transfers have been made," he added, "they have been colorable in this sense—not fraudulent; I do not say that—but they have been colorable in the sense that the transfer made was for the purpose of giving the public the impression that the friars had parted with their titles, thus facilitating the collection of rents, while, in fact, the ownership is still retained."

Aside from this information given by Governor Taft, the war department has been advised from time to time of certain individual transfers made by religious institutions in the Philippines to persons and organizations in this country. One such transfer is represented by a leading firm of attorneys in New York, and another is represented by a Washington firm of attorneys. The negotiations have proceeded, however, with the idea that these transfers were not of a character to interrupt the consummation of the main object of securing a transference of the lands as an entirety.

ROME, Aug. 6.—The vatican has shown much interest in the interview with Archbishop Ireland in St. Paul on July 22. The vatican officials agree that Archbishop Ireland clearly and happily set forth the true spirit of the intercourse between the vatican and the United States.

Band Plays for Dying Man.

ST. JOSEPH, MO., Aug. 6.—Samuel Pryor, a noted bandmaster and father of Arthur Pryor, the celebrated trombonist, is dying at his home in this city. This afternoon when it became evident that death was near, Prof. Pryor summoned his band and ordered the leader to conduct a concert of lively airs. The band played underneath the sick man's window.

CANUCK WISDOM.

Knew How to Select Food.

A good healthy Canadian takes pleasure in telling about food, and how he got well by using the right kind of food and drink.

He says, "In November, '99, I began to feel bad every day and gradually got worse. I did not lose my appetite. On the contrary, after having a good meal I felt better, but after being at work perhaps an hour or so I would have terrible pains all over my body. I lost considerable time from my work, sometimes a few hours and sometimes two or three days.

"Finally I went to the Winnipeg Hospital for a thorough examination and was told it was 'simply indigestion.' Certainly it was 'simply indigestion,' but I never had anything make me feel worse. I can sympathize with anyone who has 'simply indigestion.'

"Well, I dragged through the winter in about the same condition and got a little better in the summer, but in October, 1900, the same old pains came back and I concluded I must change my diet if I expected to get any comfort, so I quit drinking tea and went on Postum Food Coffee and Grape-Nuts Breakfast Food.

"I ordered these articles from the grocer and expected to have them for supper, I had felt so bad that day. Of course, the grocer was late in delivering them, so I laid on the couch until they came and ate supper about 7 p. m. After supper I did what I had not done for weeks before, I walked into the sitting room, lighted my pipe and read the evening paper and forgot I ever felt bad.

"I wondered if the old pain would come back, but it never did, and right from the first I improved. I have since worked constantly and hard and have not laid off once on account of ill health, and have not once suffered from indigestion since that first meal of Grape-Nuts and Postum.

"This letter is the straight truth. It may be long, but I don't see how I could tell my experience in less space." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

GREAT DISORDER IN WYLIE AVENUE

EVIL EMPHASIZED BY MURDER OF ACHSAH KING NOT HEEDED.

Superintendent of Police McAleese Deplores the Fact That Things Are Not as They Used to Be and Says They May Be Different Next Year.

Despite the fact that there is a police station practically at each end of Wylie avenue, of late certain sections of that thoroughfare are in a state of disorder and confusion at nearly all hours of the day. Negroes and dissolute whites, both men and women, form blockades, fight with each other in pool rooms, saloons and dives, and commit all kinds of disorder.

Respectable people are insulted under the very eyes of patrolmen and it is seldom that any effort is ever made on the part of representatives of the department of public safety to correct the disreputable condition of affairs, or even to suppress it.

Men and women reel in and out of saloons in an intoxicated condition. Brawls and rows are of daily occurrence. One of the inevitable results of this sort of thing, the murder of Achsah King by Joseph Allen in Curran's saloon on July 23, does not seem to be a lesson that has any effect on the police. Women continue to visit Wylie avenue saloons, brawling, drinking and fighting with all sorts of hardened, low characters.

Only last Monday Lizzie Moyer and Sadie Wright, both colored, were permitted to walk from one saloon to another in Wylie avenue, drinking until they became intoxicated. Their condition was seen by two patrolmen, but they were not interfered with until they got to slashing each other with knives in the resort of George Stinson, at No. 518 Wylie avenue. One of the women was cut five times and the other eight. After that they were put under arrest by Officer Bishop.

Superintendent of Police John McAleese talked freely after the murder of Achsah King about permitting women to enter these places.

"There is too much of it," he said. "When I was connected with the police service of Pittsburgh before as an inspector a woman could not get a drink in a saloon in Pittsburgh. If they did the saloonkeeper had the police department to contend with when he applied for a license. It is different now."

HEAT PROSTRATION.

Pe-ru-na Is a Tonic for the Weakness and Debility Incident to Hot Weather.

Miss Mayme Kearns.

Most Men and Women Need a Strengthening Tonic During the Sultry Weather of August—Pe-ru-na Never Fails.

MISS MAYME KEARNS, 1005 Dean street, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"Peruna means health, and health means happiness. To me Peruna means both. Last summer I felt unusually prostrated from the heat. My appetite and sleep failed me and my strength seemed to ooze out with the perspiration, and I had a weak, gone feeling.

"Three bottles of Peruna changed all this. I recuperated quickly and blessed sleep and rest came to me. Peruna is better than a seaside trip, better than a vacation, in fact better than anything I know to build up the system." — Miss Mayme Kearns.

Peruna is just as sure to bring an appetite as the sun is to bring the day. A good healthy appetite and good digestion of food generally corrects a host of ailments. Loss of strength and loss of sleep depends in a majority of cases upon a loss of nutrition. If the appetite fails, sufficient food will not be taken. If sufficient food is not taken, the systen suffers from starvation. This will surely lead to a host of ailments in time. Peruna by restoring the appetite, cures the whole matter; by freeing the mucous membranes and stomach, as well as the digestive organs from every trace of catarrhal congestion, Peruna corrects the whole trouble.

Register U. S. Treasury Endorses Peruna for Summer Lassitude.

Hon. Judson W. Lyons, Register of the United States Treasury, in a letter from Washington, D. C., says:

Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.:

Gentlemen—"I find Peruna to be an excellent remedy for the catarrhal affections of spring and summer, and those who suffer from depression from the heat of the summer will find no remedy the equal of Peruna."—Judson W. Lyons.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

The Equitable advertises "Strongest in the World"—

And here are the statistics for it—taken from the official statements of the New York Insurance Department—

Ten Years' Record

During the ten years ending January 1, 1902, The Equitable's actual dividend earnings amounted to

$62,686,755

$13,000,000 more than the earnings of the next largest company.

During the same period the Equitable apportioned to its policy holders dividends amounting to $26,318,950

More than $3,000,000 more than the next largest company.

And it has remaining for future distribution from these same ten years' earnings

$36,367,805

Over $10,000,000 more than the next largest company.

Is it any wonder that The Equitable has the confidence of the people?

No matter what sort of policy you want—if it's a good one, The Equitable issues it—

We're selling out—all Summer Goods—all broken lines—not in one department but in all the sixty-four.

We're having to make sacrifice Prices to do it.

It's not just to please the people we're making such low prices, though we are all more or less pleased when we get something good, and know that we got it less than value.

Therefore, our selling out at the prices we are, does the store future good.

We'd like to get more for the goods, but we can't—and force their sale.

People don't buy a thing they don't 'specially want unless they get it under price.

It's because we want to, and are determined to sell.

That takes low Prices—and that kind of Prices we're willing to take.

Our case is stated plainly and to all who want to get good useful goods—the goods at these forced selling-out Prices present great opportunities.

Note some lots and their Prices, that when seen will back up the above.

Contagious Diseases Hospital.

Controller Larkin's notice to Recorder Brown respecting the proposed Municipal hospital is timely and to the point. The law requires advertising for proposals and the letting of contracts to lowest responsible bidders. The contagious diseases hospital fund has shrunk from $300,000 to $125,000. It is now proposed to divert more of it into other channels, while complaint is made that a proper hospital cannot be constructed for $80,000. If that complaint be well founded, then the remaining $45,000 should be used.

As a matter of fact, $80,000 ought to be ample for the erection of buildings on the cottage plan for the accommodation of contagious cases. The city will rarely have more than a dozen of scarlet fever or diphtheria patients in its care. If there is any virtue in wholesale vaccination it should soon be relieved of all smallpox cases. Accommodations for thirty may easily be provided in a $20,000 building if no attempt is made at ornamentation. Such hospitals should be neither ornate nor expensive, but of a character that, if they prove unsatisfactory, the city can afford to raze them and build others. Each disease should have a separate building. In any contingency, however, no more of the hospital funds should be used for any other purpose until the hospital is built.

Pure Water Problems.

It is quite probable that before the proposed investigation of the cost of sand filtration is finished a proposition may be made for purifying the water supply of the city by the new electric method, at much less cost. This process has been tested, on a small scale, near the city with most satisfactory results. It remains, of course, to have its utility fully demonstrated on a large scale before any extensive contract is given by the city, but if the new plan can do what is claimed, it is better than sand filtration and decidedly cheaper than mountain water.

Sand filtration would have been a good thing fifteen years ago. By this time it would have had more than enough to its credit to justify its installation. But the advocates of that method had so little influence they could not bring about anything practical during that time. Now there is grave doubt in the minds of scientific men whether sand filtration can purify the Allegheny river water, even if a plant could be installed for the sum available for the purpose. It is quite certain the amount voted is not sufficient to meet the expanded estimates incident to machine administration. So if the city can get a better plan at less cost it ought to do so.

Equities of the Case.

Judge Nathan B. Goff, as might have been expected, has denied the writ of habeas corpus in the cases of the West Virginia miners, holding the jurisdiction to have been competent. The result is, of course, a disappointment to the miners and will, no doubt, figure in campaign oratory as another illustration of government by injunction directed against the workingman. As a matter of fact, it is an orderly procedure in law. The miners were originally enjoined from unlawful assembly. It would have been an easy matter to obey that injunction. They preferred to take a risk, however, in order to intimidate other workmen who might be willing to work upon the terms offered. They were then committed for contempt of court.

No higher function of law is possible than the preservation of the peace. Incident to that is the protection of men in their right to labor, or follow their chosen avocations. If, in the enjoyment of "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness," it seems proper to one set of men to quit their work until stated demands are met, that is their privilege. It is equally the right of any other set of men to undertake that employment in the pursuit of their own happiness. It is as much the duty of government to protect one set of men against assault as the other and it was in the discharge of this duty that Judge Jackson prohibited unlawful assembly. Had the mine owners proposed to compel the miners to return to work by force it would have been the duty of the court to issue a restraining injunction, upon petition, and commit to prison any who did not obey it. Judge Jackson could have been relied upon to do his duty under those circumstances just as readily as in the case under discussion. The trouble is that many persons persist in misunderstanding the equities involved, either through prejudiced inability to reason correctly, or through the demagogic desire to gain some political advantage.

End of Tracy, the Outlaw.

Two conclusions can be drawn from the exploits and fate of Tracy, the outlaw. The first is that the scriptural declaration, "The way of the transgressor is hard," has received a fresh illustration. The second is that if he had been hanged promptly after his first murder at least 13 lives would have been spared and the state of Washington would have been saved a large expense.

Tracy killed two persons in Colorado in 1897, but it was not for these crimes that he was imprisoned in the Oregon penitentiary. He was sent there for burglary. Since his escape early in June, made after killing three guards and a fellow convict, Tracy's doings have been in the highest degree exciting. He fought with officers of the law and killed not a few. He evaded hot pursuit and broke through a cordon of militiamen. He lived off the country, taking what he needed, both food and clothes, at the revolver's muzzle, and stealing horses and vehicles when occasion offered. But at last the forces of the law closed in on him, and after a long and hopeless fight, he committed suicide.

The officers who kept on the trail of this desperado until they brought him to bay deserve all credit, but it is a pity that through the failure of the law to punish him adequately for his first murder, his worthless life was spared to be such a scourge. Tracy's career is a strong argument for capital punishment for murderers.

Give It to Creasy.

Some of our esteemed contemporaries are bothering their readers with editorials on David Bennett Hill's chances for getting the Democratic nomination for president. Others are fretting themselves over the prospects of William Jennings Bryan. Some few betray curiosity as to whether Stephen Grover Cleveland would really shoo a nomination away from his private citizenship, as he says he would. Occasionally some one else is mentioned in connection with the Democratic nomination, notwithstanding Mr. Whitney's declaration that the Democratic party lacks a man as well as an issue. But why any one should discuss a Democratic presidential nomination, unless that of 1908 or 1912, is not easy to see. It isn't worth while to talk of a Democratic nominee for 1904. There needn't be one. It isn't worth while to have one except for form's sake. Therefore don't worry. Nominate Creasy. If an all-round up-to-date sacrifice must be provided. A better man for the purpose might be nominated, but we doubt it, and no one will be nominated who will come nearer to election or for whom the great heart of the plain people will beat stronger or faster. Give it to Creasy and let it go at that.

Importations of Coal.

A British consular report recently showed that American competition with British coal at Marseilles, and presumably at other Mediterranean ports, has been ended temporarily by a fall in the price of the British article. This in itself furnished no cause for alarm, but on the heels of it comes the report that the Manhattan elevated railway in New York city has ordered a large shipment of Welsh coal. The Manhattan has been using anthracite coal, and when the miners' strike in Eastern Pennsylvania caused a scarcity it began to use bituminous coal from American mines. This made so much smoke that its use was prohibited by the health authorities of New York city. The Manhattan returned to the use of anthracite, but, as the strike continues, supplies are approaching depletion. Not long ago the company used some Welsh coal, and as it is to make a further test on a larger scale it is to be supposed the first test was not barren of good results. If the test on a larger scale is satisfactory the difficulties produced by the strike will be solved so far as the continued operation of the road is concerned. While this will be pleasing in itself to the people of New York, it will not be satisfactory to either anthracite operators or miners or to people who patriotically prefer to see American institutions consuming American products, produced by American labor and capital in harmonious relations.

There have been some imports of foreign pig iron and of steel rails and a cessation of exports of iron and steel products, due to the inability of American producers to supply the home demand. While we would prefer to see the whole demand supplied by American mills, the inability to do so, with mills running at their full capacity, is an evidence of prosperity and is hailed as such. But while the need for coal, which cannot be met, also suggests the same prosperity, the failure to meet the demand is not due to a lack of labor and the machinery of production, but to a lack of harmony among the producing forces. Therefore, while the importations in the one case are a symptom of strength, they are in the other a weakening influence in the general situation. The contending forces are injuring themselves by their contention, and, to say the least of it, are doing no one else any good.

A Cuban Loan.

Some interesting debate is caused by the prospective entry of Cuba into the market as a borrower. It is pointed out that the Platt amendment gives the United States certain rights concerning Cuban loans, with the intent of preventing the Cuban government getting beyond its depth. However, it is a little early to discuss this phase of the question. The proposition for a Cuban loan for various purposes has not yet passed the Cuban congress, and when it does the important question will not so much be whether Cuba has the right to borrow without the consent of the United States as where she can find a lender. Cuba is not sufficiently well established to make loans to the Cuban government appear a gilt-edged investment.

The duty that rests upon the United States is to give Cuba commercial life and a chance to pay its way—a duty balked in the last session of congress by a despicable, filibustering minority. Cuba might be less in need of a loan had the reciprocity bill been passed, and it would certainly be in better position to obtain and carry a loan if its industries were active. To remedy the neglect of the last session in the Cuban matter will be the first duty of congress in December.

The Race to Marcus Island.

In the race between Capt. Rosehill, the American claimant to Marcus Island, and the Japanese cruiser Kasagi, the warship won. No details as to the time made by the Yankee skipper are available, because the Japanese ship did not wait until Capt. Rosehill arrived. It landed a force of marines and then steamed back to Tokio while Rosehill was approaching the island from Honolulu. The commander of the Kasagi wasn't afraid of the Yankee skipper, for he carried instructions cabled from Washington directing Capt. Rosehill not to do any damage to the Japanese or the warship, but to leave the settlement of the international involved dispute to Uncle Sam.

The possession of Marcus island appears to be exciting much more interest in Japan than in this country. It appears that a Japanese company entered into possession while Capt. Rosehill was away, between the time when he landed and nailed the Stars and Stripes to a palm tree, and the time when the government at Washington recognized his claim to the guano deposits and told him to go and work them. Rosehill must be at Marcus island by this time, and he must have been surprised to find Japanese marines on hand to receive him, as well as to receive the letter from the state department that awaited him.

The sympathy of the Times for the suffering people is shown in its editorial columns in the paragraph: "It is odd that the beer wagon does not do something to help the hilltop folks who are complaining that water is not fit to drink." What the people of the hilltops want is water. They have no desire to cause suffering in the Times office, and so will not claim the relief suggested. But the generous, heartfelt kindness manifested for some thousands of fellow citizens will probably not be overlooked.

An eastern journal criticises Uncle Russell Sage for continuing work in his old age, and points to the happy career of Andrew Carnegie, building libraries on free sites, to be maintained in perpetuity. We can imagine Mr. Sage smiling wisely and congratulating himself upon escaping the multitude of annoyances from which Mr. Carnegie suffers.

No more successful or enjoyable picnic has been held this summer than that of the Odd Fellows at Kennywood. This may be accounted for by the fact that the event was arranged on business principles and that the great fraternity is composed of good fellows, however "odd" they may be.

Overwhelmed.

From the Washington Star.

"My dear sir!" exclaimed the man who is painfully accurate in his use of language, "that sign in front of your shop is improperly punctuated."

"You don't tell me!" exclaimed the prosperous merchant.

"Yes, sir. You have omitted a comma—"

"Don't tell me any more. I can't bear to think of it. Here I've made only two or three paltry millions out of this business. When I think of the billions I might have made if that comma had been present I am overwhelmed with remorse."

DOCTORS WATCH BABIES ON PIERS

Free Medical Attendance and Drugs at Cost Pleasing New York Charity.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Aug. 6.

Among the many splendid charities in New York there is none that appeals more directly to the heart of the average person than the free medical attendance for babies on the recreation piers. The piers themselves are a great thing to begin with. Every day one may see thousands of mothers with their little ones on the piers that are dotted up and down the water front of the East and North rivers. The sea breezes sweep up and down, and there is a great deal of space in which the children can play, while for the mothers nursing their infants there are settees made in curves to give the most rest to the occupants. Besides all this there are the doctors. On each of the piers a physician walks up and down every day, making three round trips as a rule. He knows many of the mothers by name, and all of them by sight, together with their babies. He picks out, with the quickness of a medical man, the baby that needs something more than the fresh air of the pier, and, as he questions the mother in a kindly tone, he passes his hand over the tiny face and notes the temperature, breathing and pulse, all in an unostentatious way which is soothing both to the child and its mother. Then he writes a prescription and hands it to the parent. She knows that, written on a board of health blank, the prescription will be filled at cost price by any pharmacist, and that the drugs will surely be of the finest quality. There would be trouble for a druggist who furnished anything else on a board of health prescription. In some cases the doctor gives a ticket for a day's outing for a baby on board of the "Floating Hospital," or hands a ticket for free milk to the mother. Tenement children in New York have a hard time of it, in spite of everything, but it is not because everything possible is not done for them by a paternal municipal government. There are some babies in Pittsburgh not so well off as infants in the Ghetto in the metropolis.

Creatore Promises Us Much.

I hear that Creatore and his Italian band that have set New York wild by their performances in Oscar Hammerstein's Paradise garden, on the roofs of the Victoria and Republic theaters, will go from New York to Pittsburgh to play at the Pittsburgh exposition. Pittsburgh will have a new and pleasant sensation when it sees Creatore. I say "see," advisedly, because, as has been said very often of late, he is the show. His music is so good that it would be effective even without this bounding bundle of nerves on the director's stand. The only question is whether the marvelous musical effects could be obtained without Creatore? And yet, the question can be answered easily, too. This extraordinary maestro takes 60 average good musicians of his own Latin nationality, and, by sheer nerve force, hypnotism, magnetism, Svengalism—what you will—draws forth such music as is secretly believed by nine persons in ten to be supernatural. This statement may seem flavored with hyperbolical gush, but—wait till you see Creatore.

Gotham Discussing Our Bijou.

I have received a card of invitation to the press inspection of the new Bijou theater, Pittsburgh, tomorrow evening. I thank my friends, R. M. Gulick and P. J. McNulty, and while I regret that Sixth and Penn is a little too far from Herald square for me to be present, I have no doubt The Gazette will be well represented, and assure the management of the theater that the Rialto of New York knows all about the improvements in the Bijou and is discussing them with its usual prolixity.

"Bunco Railroad" to Be Abolished.

There is a possibility that the "Marine Railway," a few hundred yards long, which connects Manhattan Beach with Brighton, and which persons passing from one property to the other must use and pay their nickel for, will be abolished very soon. Hundreds of thousands of people like to call the little road the "bunco railroad," and do not know it by any other name. Anyone would prefer to walk the short distance along the beach if it were allowed. But there is a high fence, and the only way to get along without making a detour of some miles is to pay 5 cents and ride on the cars of the little railway. The department of highways has decided that Coney island avenue as well as Ocean avenue is legally open all the way to the sea and should be a public highway. This sounds the knell of the "Marine railway." The Manhattan Beach Company will be formally notified of this as soon as President Swanstrom returns from his vacation, in the course of a day or two.

"L" Strike Possibility Worries Gotham.

The talk about a possible general strike on the "L" is full of excitement. While the management of the road will not allow that such a thing is probable, the speculation as to what the public will do in case it should happen is wide and wild. There have been trifling difficulties on the elevated railroad now and then, as is inevitable in all big enterprises, but a general tie-up never has been known since the system was opened. The engineers and motormen on the "L" want shorter hours and the company has had the matter under consideration. Whether there will be or not be a strike seems to be as close a thing as the swing of a pendulum.

Devery Makes Another Hit.

"Big Bill" Devery's free vaudeville shows at the American theater took place today and this evening, as he promised. Opinions differ as to the quality of the performances, but it is agreed that so far as Devery's part was concerned it was all that could have been expected. The actors were there, the music was there, and, in the evening, Devery was there with a large portion of the population of what is now the famous Ninth district. Viewed as a political experiment, it is regarded as a hit, and that is the main thing, after all.

Coney Heroes Charged With Neglect.

Now it is charged that the "life savers" at Coney island flirt with the girls and loll on the sand instead of keeping watch for bathers in distress. This accusation is made by Coroner Flaherty of Brooklyn, who made a personal investigation. Two men were drowned at Coney yesterday, and the coroner, thinking they might have been saved with proper care, declares that he will appeal to the grand jury to punish the members of the "life saving corps" for neglect of their duty. Of course a "life saver," in his natty bathing dress, with browned face, neck and limbs, is a heroic figure, and it is not strange that young women admire him. But the hero has duties to perform, and he is paid to attend to them. Even his gallantry to the maidens fair does not excuse him, as he will find when a matter-of-fact grand jury gets after him.

Johnnie Still Able to Navigate.

"Dynamite Johnnie" was arraigned before a Hoboken magistrate today on a charge of drunkenness. He is the O'Brien who gained fame by conducting filibustering expeditions to Cuba. When he was asked by the magistrate what was his business, he replied: "I navigate the sea." The magistrate asked him if he thought he could navigate the land, and, as he said he could, he was released. "Dynamite Johnnie" said afterward that getting drunk in Hoboken was more exciting than fighting Spaniards at Santiago.

Now for Fox Hunting Season.

Men of leisure, and some that work pretty hard, in New York are looking forward to the opening of the fox hunting season, next month. The famous Meadowbrook and other hunts will be in full cry as soon as the word is given, and even now in some of the downtown offices one may hear a spasmodic "yoicks" or "tally-ho" occasionally, as some enthusiastic youth pictures to himself the joys of a southerly wind and a cloudy sky in a good hunting country.

Will Push Armor Plate Makers.

The ground at the Brooklyn navy yard, on which the new battleship Connecticut is to be laid down, adjoins that on which the Maine was built. There is much interest in the beginning of work on the new ship. Every effort will be made by those concerned in the construction of the vessel to keep the manufacturers of armor and machinery strictly to their contract time. When the Maine was built there was considerable delay in getting machinery and armor, and those who are interested in establishing a government shipbuilding plant at the navy yard realize that the prospects of such a thing depend largely upon the speed and effectiveness shown in the construction of the new man-of-war. If it can be proved that battleships may be built as quickly and as well at the navy yard as at private ship yards, the facilities for shipbuilding will, it is hoped by many in the local department, be much increased and made permanent.

Rainstorm Stops Trains.

One of those sudden rainfalls of which New York has had many in the course of the summer stalled many trains and surface cars early this morning. The rain came down in such immense sheets that it soon filled the conduits through which run the underground electric wires, and on the steam railroads flooded the tracks so that the water was up to the fireboxes of the locomotives in some cases. In addition to this trouble, the tracks were washed out here and there, and were entirely unfit for use. The consequence of all this was that many thousands of persons were late in getting to business, and there was a semi-paralysis of affairs down town for a few hours. New York is used to that kind of thing, through snow, fog, rain or what not, and most men take it philosophically. The class which is hit the hardest is that which works at some manufacturing trade at a small sum per hour, and which has to lose time when anything keeps it away from the workshop. It is too bad, but there does not seem to be any redress for these unfortunates.

Quigg Bobs Up Once More.

Lemuel Ely Quigg, the spectacular ex-congressman who, according to his enemies, got his seat by accident, comes gaily to the front again, after being effaced politically for several years. It is an old saying in New York that "you can't down Quigg." Evidently, you cannot, for it is gossiped about the Fifth Avenue hotel tonight that Quigg may succeed W. H. Ten Eyck as chairman of the executive committee of the county committee before the opening of the fall campaign. It is understood that Mr. Quigg is to be temporary chairman of the county committee before the opening of the fall campaign. It is understood that Mr. Quigg is to be temporary chairman of the Republican state committee and to succeed former Collector George R. Bidwell as member of the county executive committee from the Nineteenth assembly district. Ten Eyck is the Republican leader of the Thirty-fifth assembly district, and is credited with having captured more good patronage for his district than any other two or three leaders have been able to obtain from the Low administration. He is a close personal and political friend of Mr. Quigg.

Clock Shot in the Face.

Who shot the City hall clock? This question is asked in all seriousness here tonight, for a draughtsman who is making the plans for remodeling the City hall while examining the building today discovered that some one had fired four rifle bullets into the west face of the clock in the tower. The bullets passed through the outer face and were found flattened against the works inside. It is supposed somebody on one of the upper stories of a neighboring skyscraper blazed away at the clock, finding it a tempting target for a little pistol practice. The clock is too tough a piece of machinery to be injured by a mere pistol bullet, but it is felt that the shooter lacked proper respect, even if he was not—as a policeman in Park Row declared he was—"a first-class durned fool."

Yachting Picnic for a Nickel.

For hot weather in New York city there is nothing more pleasant at the price than a ferryboat picnic. One can have a splendidly breezy time on the waters of New York harbor for five cents. South Brooklyn or Staten Island, for a nickel each way, is fine for the poor man. From East Forty-second street to Broadway, Brooklyn, is a three cent ride on a fast double-decker, while the Long Island railroad's run from James Slip to Long Island City offers large worth for the money. On the North river are a number of good routes for the ferryboat picnickers. The prettiest way to get much for little is to take a Cortlandt street P. R. R. ferryboat for Jersey City and then change to one of them big speeders of the Twenty-third street route—which one can do without meeting the ticket man, and enjoy a boat ride all for the small sum of three cents. If one can do yachting at a cheaper rate than this it must be as guest of another who pays the freight.

DURBAR IN INDIA GRAND PAGEANT

Spectacle Not Witnessed More Than Once in Each Generation.

By the MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

The projected visit of the prince and princess of Wales to India has been definitely abandoned, and according to the official program just issued for the great Durbar at Delhi, which is to be held on January 1, 1903, in order to celebrate the coronation of the king and his accession to the throne as emperor of India, no royal personage will be present to overshadow and outrank the viceroy, Lord Curzon, and his American wife.

Lord Curzon will be attended by the governors of Madras and of Bombay, by the lieutenant governors of the great provinces and by the commander-in-chief. All the vassal rulers of India, as well as a great number of representatives of Asiatic powers, have been invited, and the ceremonies extending over a period of nine days will comprise the great Durbar, at which an imperial proclamation will be read to the sovereign chiefs, several reviews of the 60,000,000 assembled for the occasion, a chapter of the various Indian orders for the investiture of decorations conferred in connection with the affair, a state service, a state ball, state banquets, etc.

No fitter site could have been chosen as the scene of these solemnities than the old imperial city of Delhi, so long the capital of the mogul emperors, almost the geographical center of Northern India, and the meeting place between Eastern India, which is the home of Hindooism, and Western India, where Islam has long been the prevailing faith.

The viceroy, the whole concourse of governors, of native rulers, English governors and foreign visitors are to be quartered in camps beyond the ridge to the west and northwest of the city, while the chapters of the orders, the viceroy's receptions and entertainments will be held in the magnificent palace of the grand moguls, almost opposite the great mosque "Jumma Musjid," which is probably the most imposing and magnificent religious building in all Asia.

Last Previous Durbar.

The last great Durbar of this kind was held a quarter of a century ago, in 1877, by the then viceroy, the late Lord Lytton, for the proclamation of Queen Victoria as empress of India, and as on that occasion, its scene will be in a great amphitheater, about 12 miles out from the city of Delhi in a northerly direction, shaped like a horseshoe and containing accommodations for about 12,000 persons. Lord Curzon, who will arrive in full state, will occupy a dais in the inner recess of the arena and the ruling chiefs and leading guests will be ranged in the front rows of the adjoining tiers.

The ceremony of the Durbar will consist of the reading of the proclamation, the firing of the imperial salute, the playing of the massed band, the viceroy's address to the assembled multitude, and the presentation of the ruling chiefs. It is expected that the spectacle will be witnessed by hundreds of thousands of spectators.

Visitors from the United States who propose to take in this wonderful pageant, the like of which is seen but once in a generation, and in which one of their countrywomen, namely, Lady Curzon, is to play a leading part, should communicate as quickly as possible with Lord Curzon's military secretary. All available hotel and house accommodation in Delhi has already been taken up, and the only accommodation available is that of furnished tents, provided through Lord Curzon's military secretary by a caterer at a daily rent, the caterer likewise making arrangements for mess and carriages at a fixed charge. But as the entire equipment and furniture of the visitors' camps, the contracts for food, vehicles, etc., have to be given out months in advance, there is no time to be lost. With regard to newspapers, applications for admission to the press camp at Delhi should be made without delay to the secretary of the press committee of the Delhi Durbar at Simla.

Prince Not Yet of Age.

The statement published both in German and foreign newspapers to the effect that the young duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha attained his majority on his 18th birthday three weeks ago is incorrect. According to the constitution of the duchies of Coburg and Gotha the princes of the reigning house only attain their majority on their 21st birthday, and it is consequently not until July 19, 1905, that is to say, three years hence, that the young duke, who is the only male issue of Queen Victoria's youngest son, the late duke of Albany, will attain his majority and take over the reins of government from his cousin, Prince Hohenlohe, who is acting as regent during his minority.

In Prussia, as well as in England, princes of the reigning family attain their majority at 18, while in Spain, as we have recently seen in the case of Alfonso XIII., the minorities of the members of the reigning dynasty come to an end on the 16th birthday.

New Regent of Brunswick.

Prince George of Brunswick and of Great Britain, eldest son of that scion of British royalty, who was born as crown prince of Hanover, who is "de jure" sovereign duke of Brunswick, and who in Austria, where he makes his home is known as the duke of Cumberland, is pursuing his studies at the University of Heidelberg under the direction of a private tutor, a Doctor Paul Knobe, a member of the faculty of the University of Gottingen.

Before accepting the proferred position of tutor to the young prince, Dr. Knobe being aware of the strained relations that have existed in the past between the royal lad's father and the reigning house of Prussia, inquired at Berlin whether any objection would be taken by his sovereign, that is, by Emperor William, to his acceptance of the post and whether it would tend to interefere with his future career as a university don. Through the minister of public instruction at Berlin the doctor received a response to his inquiry to the effect that far from marring his future his acceptance of the tutorship and his fulfilment of the duties thereof would, on the contrary, considerably foster his prospects and further his rapid promotion.

This tends to confirm what I have stated all along, namely, that eventually, either on the death of the duke of Cumberland, or perhaps on the demise of Prince Albert of Prussia, the latter's regency of the duchy of Brunswick will come to an end, and that Prince George will ascend the throne as the sovereign duke of Brunswick.

One thing is certain, there is no intention either on the part of the Prussian government, or on that of Prince Albert, that one of the latter's sons should succeed him as regent of Brunswick. For they heartily dislike the place and spend all their time in Prussia. Prince Albert, too, is known to be very sick of Brunswick, where, in spite of his liberality and fair-mindedness, he has never got in touch with the people. He has over and over begged leave of the late kaiser and of the present emperor to resign, only remaining on at their urgent request. Possibly he may give it up for good when Prince George of Brunswick completes his education.

The duke of Cumberland, however, can never occupy the throne of Brunswick. For he is pledged by the most solemn of death-bed vows to his father, the last king of Hanover, never to recognize the annexation by Prussia of the kingdom of Hanover, and the present order of things in Germany. And the confederation of German sovereigns have decided that no prince shall be allowed to ascend the German throne unless he acknowledges the constitution of the German empire.

Chance for Happy Future.

From the Cleveland Leader.

Tracy is said to be heading for the "hole-in-the-wall." If he only pulls the hole in after him when he gets there, how nice it will be for him.

THE DEATH ROLL.

John Elliott.

John Elliott, aged 83 years, one of the oldest and most highly respected citizens of Lawrence county, died Tuesday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. T. McDowell, at Leechburg, where he was visiting. The remains will be taken to his home in New Castle for interment and the funeral will take place Friday afternoon. Mr. Elliott was of Scotch-Irish parentage and was born on the Atlantic ocean while his parents were coming to this country from Ireland. His parents came direct to Western Pennsylvania, being among the early settlers hereabouts, and he had always made his home here. He was prominent in church affairs, having joined the reformed Presbyterian church when 19 years old, and he was always a leading and consistent member of that denomination. His business was that of a contractor. Mr. Elliott is survived by his widow and six of the nine children that were born to them, as follows: G. F., of New Castle; Dr. J. B., of Cleveland; Mrs. R. R. Gardner of New Castle; Mrs. Julia Rowan of Edenburg; Mrs. W. T. McDowell of Leechburg and Mrs. F. E. Thompson of New Castle.

Mrs. Katherine D. McCabe.

Mrs. Katharine Durkin McCabe, 73 years old, died at her home, No. 30 Wood street, Braddock, late Tuesday night of old age. Mrs. McCabe was born in County Sligo, Ireland, in 1829, and came to America at an early age. For many years she lived at Johnstown and latter at Sharpsburg, from where she moved to Braddock 16 years ago. Her husband, John McCabe, is one of the best-known foremen in the Edgar Thomson steel works at Braddock. Besides her husband six children survive: Mrs. Peter Boylan of Johnstown; Mrs. Catherine Costello of Pittsburgh; Mrs. John Quinn of Braddock and Thomas, Owen and John McCabe of Braddock. She was a member of St. Thomas' Catholic church, Braddock, and active in charitable work.

Mrs. Elizabeth McCormack.

Mrs. Elizabeth McCormack of Wheeling, W. Va., died of general debility yesterday morning at 3 o'clock at the home of her son, Joseph W. Brumelle, No. 202 Savannah street, Wilkinsburg, aged 67. Mrs. McCormack was visiting her son's home when she was taken ill. She was married three times, first to Joseph Brumelle, next to William Reiheldaffer and last to Finley McCormack, all of whom were well-known residents of Wheeling. Mrs. McCormack was a member of the First Presbyterian church of Wheeling, and is survived by two sons, Mr. Brumelle and John G. Rieheldaffer of Chicago.

Mrs. Sampson Sharp.

Mrs. Sampson Sharp of East Liverpool died at her home Tuesday night of stomach trouble, aged 79. She was born in England, where she was married in 1844 to Mr. Sharp. The family moved to this place 26 years ago. She is survived by her husband and the following children: Mrs. Sarah J. Maple of Pittsburgh; Mrs. Elizabeth Watkins of Monessen, Pa.; Mrs. Hannah A. Rhodes of Waynesburg, O.; George H. Sharp of Jonesville, Mich., and James, whose place of residence is unknown.

William Wallace.

William Wallace, one of the pioneer residents of Beaver county, died at his home at Rochester, Pa., yesterday morning. He was a son of James Wallace, and was born in New Sewickley township in 1827. He had been ill for a year. Mr. Wallace located in Rochester in 1856, and was engaged in wagon manufacturing until recently. He was a prominent member of the United Presbyterian church. One son, Cyrus M., of Rochester, survives him.

Dr. R. H. Lee.

Dr. R. H. Lee, aged 72, died suddenly at Charleston, W. Va., yesterday morning. His wife was buried one week ago. He was prominent in business and politics and was Republican candidate for state senator in 1890 against Gen. C. C. Watts. He served in the Mexican war, was a captain in the civil war and state commander of the G. A. R. in 1894.

John Beninger.

John Beninger, one of the best-known old coal miners in the lower Monongahela valley, died late Tuesday night at his home in Hays from general debility. He was 73 years old and had lived in the vicinity of Hays for many years. His wife, three daughters and one son survive.

Obituary Notes.

B. H. Hunter, a Lake Shore telegraph operator, died suddenly at Sharon, Pa., yesterday from heart trouble. He was 28 years old and his father and two sisters reside at New Castle.

Ex-Judge William H. B. Fusselbaugh, one of the oldest residents of East Baltimore, Md., ex-judge of the appeal tax court, ex-president of the board of police commissioners and the incumbent of other official positions, died at his home yesterday of old age.

Mrs. Katherine E. Brubach, 58 years old, wife of David Brubach, is dead at the family home, No. 601 Tower street, Allegheny. She was a member of Shiloh lodge No. 489, Knights and Ladies of Honor, and the Bavarian society of Allegheny. Besides her husband, two sons and a daughter survive.

PERSONALS.

S. Suyuki, a prominent Japanese shipbuilder, is at the Hotel Duquesne, and while in Pittsburgh will inspect armor plate and other materials used in the construction of war ships. Mr. Suyuki said the Japanese government is preparing to spend $10,000,000 for the enlargement of its naval force and negotiations are pending for the construction of six more vessels. He said it is probable that about $3,000,000 worth of armor plate, to be used on the new ships, will be ordered from Pittsburgh, but nothing definite has been done. Mr. Suyuki is making a tour of the world.

Four special Pullman cars and a baggage car, loaded with wet and dry goods, took Pittsburgh Lodge No. 11, B. P. O. Elks, to Salt Lake City last night. One hundred members, accompanied by their families, entered the special at Union station. A long white streamer with red letters covered the baggage car, announcing that a herd of Pittsburgh Elks were migrating to the city of the Mormons. The arrangements were in charge of Capt. Murray Livingston, quartermaster of the Fourteenth Infantry. The herd will take in Colorado Springs, Denver, Glenwood Springs and other points of interest going and returning.

Recorder J. O. Brown was a passenger to New York last night. "I have laid away my gum shoes until fall," he said, "but I don't think I will again need them until the next snow flies."

The private car, Loretto, of President Charles M. Schwab, was pushed into Union station last night. It will leave this morning to take on President Schwab at Cresson.

Neighbors Visiting Pittsburgh.

Among those at the hotels last night were the following from nearby towns:

SPANKED WRONG ALLEGHENY BOY

Incident in Which a Brilliant Red Cap Played Prominent Part.

HERE is an incident from Allegheny. No doubt everyone is aware that the most popular headgear of small boys this summer is the bright red jockey cap. An Allegheny lad whose name is Ralph preferred a request to his mother some days ago for a "quarter."

"What do you want it for this time?" inquired the mother.

"I want to get one of those pretty red caps," said Ralph, "for I haven't anything else good to play in."

The lady "dug up a quarter," as Ralph would express it, and in due time he reappeared with a head piece that might have been heard a square away, bright, flaming carmine. Then he went in the street to play.

Presently the mother glanced out in the street where a crowd of boys had gathered. There was the bright red cap, and horror! the boy underneath was doing what she had repeatedly forbidden Ralph to do. The good woman stood a moment as if petrified, so great was her astonishment. The antic was repeated. Then the mother went into action. A few quick steps took her from the hall door to the group of boys. In another moment she had a firm hold on the back of the offender's collar and was towing him into port. There was no pause for explanations. Once inside the hall the boy was turned over the maternal knee and given what he so richly deserved for misbehaving so soon after getting a new red cap on a promise to be good.

Just then paterfamilias arrived home. He looked interestedly upon the proceedings as he entered the hall, then inquired: "What are you doing, Minnie?"

The wife explained about the purchase, promise and misbehavior. "I will not permit Ralph to deport himself that way and am determined to chastise him every time he does," she concluded.

"Well," said her husband, "you had better go and get Ralph, then, before going any farther."

Later in the evening Ralph's mother was busy explaining to an indignant neighbor that a striking similarity in caps had been the cause of her spanking the wrong boy. That is how the story got noised abroad in the neighborhood.

THE LACK of the knowledge of law of the average country squire has often been demonstrated, but the following story illustrates in a marked degree the lack of business knowledge of the particular squire mentioned, as well as a lack of knowledge of the other parties to the transaction.

A farmer of this county some time ago borrowed some money from a neighboring farmer and gave him a note for the amount. The interest was regularly paid, and when the note came due the holder of the note said he wanted it paid or renewed. The borrower could not pay the note and said so. This satisfied the holder of the note, but he said the note must be renewed.

The borrower was willing to renew the note, but just how it was to be done neither was quite certain. It was suggested that they consult the squire of that district, and this was consequently done. When the squire was told what was wanted he smiled with a superior air and said:

"Why, that is very easy. I am surprised that you do not know how to renew a note. I have renewed many. Just give me the note and I'll fix it."

The note was handed to him, and, turning it face down, he wrote across the note the words, "This note is renewed, John Smith, justice of the peace."

With a smile he handed the note back and said, "Fifty cents, please."

The holder and maker of the note expressed their admiration for the superior knowledge of the squire and both went away satisfied.

CHARLES DICKENS said the deepest mystery he ever encountered in his rambles through the streets of London was when he saw a beautifully dressed woman step out on a terrace at a house where a ball was being given and hand a rose to an ill-dressed, hungry-looking man. This mystery he was never able to solve. Any man who travels the streets at night is apt to fall upon a mystery at any moment. Then there are others who sometimes have mysteries thrust upon them.

In the latter category is Claude L. Piatt, a traveling man from Akron, O., who was formerly a Pittsburgh reporter. One night he was called to the desk of the city editor, who happened to be the late Charley Dawson, and told to take a street car which connected with a horse car going out beyond the Highland reservoir. At the end of the line he was to leave the car and walk beyond a little church.

"Near that church you will meet a man who will give you a story," said Dawson.

The reporter followed directions to the letter, as all good reporters do. He was passing the church for the second time, trying to appear a mere loiterer, a man came down the dark road. When they met the reporter said "Good evening."

The stranger looked him squarely in the face, then walked on. He did not go very far before he turned and walked back, and the two met again. This time the stranger stopped and asked the reporter's name.

"I think you are the man I was sent to find," said Mr. Piatt. "Charley Dawson sent me."

The stranger asked all sorts of questions, but the answers did not seem to satisfy him.

"I don't think you are the right man," he finally said, and walked away.

Of course the only thing for the reporter to do under the circumstances was to report his failure to the city editor, and all he learned when he got back was that "the paper has lost a mighty big scoop."

"Now that Dawson is dead," said Mr. Piatt, discussing the affair, "there is at least one mystery in the world that will never be explained away. I've tried a dozen times to unravel it, but without success."

Misjudged His Man.

From the Saturday Evening Post.

"When I say I never gave a tip, I ought perhaps to say that once I was offered one which, to my surprise, was not accepted. I engaged to write for an American paper some articles on the London parks and I asked a friend how I could get accurate information regarding them.

"'Nothing simpler,' said the Englishman. 'Drop a line to the ranger of Hyde park and he will get you right.'

"I wrote a courteous note to the ranger and told him I did not mind parting with a dollar or two if he would help me out in the writing of an interesting article. My communication was ignored, so I hunted up my English friend and told him the amount proffered.

"'That was very generous of you,' he said sarcastically, 'and I am amazed your munificence had not met a readier response, for the ranger of Hyde park is the royal highness the Duke of Cambridge, uncle to the queen, and I am sure his expenses must be heavy.'"

Still Has Youth and Vigor.

From the Oil City Blizzard.

In this connection, it may be mentioned that the venerable journalistic "old lady" of Pittsburgh, The Gazette, which has just completed its 116th year, is universally known in newspaper circles by this appellation, though it has, apparently, dropped the 100 and commenced anew on its seventeenth year. The first issue of The Gazette appeared on July 29, 1786, and its file, if preserved, would virtually contain a history of the republic. It is only a decade younger than the Declaration of Independence. The record of a remarkable century has been written in its columns. It is an up-to-date newspaper in whose columns journalism is brought by dignity and enterprise.

HOSTETTER LEFT AN ESTATE WORTH ABOUT $3,000,000

As There Is No Will It Will Be Divided According to Law.

OTHER ESTATES PROBATED

Mrs. Sarah Emily Dunbar Files a Caveat Against the Filing of Any Paper Purporting to Be Her Late Husband's Will.

Theodore R. Hostetter, who died last Sunday in New York, left no will disposing of his estate. It is reported that his estate is worth between $2,000,000 and $4,000,000. Because of no will this will be divided according to the intestate laws, his widow receiving one-third of the personalty, said to be worth $1,000,000, and the dower interest in the real estate. Mr. Hostetter's children will get the residue in equal shares.

Robert S. Robb, who has long been a confidential clerk to the Hostetters, has been agreed upon as executor, and he has applied for letters of administration through Attorney A. H. Clark.

The will of John H. Gorman, late of Braddock, was filed. An estate valued at $41,000 is given to the testator's widow as long as she does not marry. If she becomes the wife of another, or in case of her death, the estate goes to their children in equal shares.

Letters of administration were taken out by Emma J. Pearson on the estate of Charles Pearson, valued at $840.

Elizabeth Ann and Samuel J. McClatchy of Homestead took out letters of administration on the estate of the late James McClatchy. The estate is valued at $1,565.

George W. Paterson took out letters of administration on the estate of Ann M. Paterson valued at $3,025.

Alexander McElroy, by his will, filed for probate, leaves an estate valued at $6,850 to his sisters, Sarah McElroy of Stowe township and Kate A. Bonner of Akron, O., share and share alike.

Mrs. Sarah Emily Dunbar filed a caveat with Register of Wills Frederick W. Edwards against the filing of any paper or document purporting to be the last will and testament of her late husband, George E. Dunbar. Dunbar died a few days ago. Mrs. Dunbar gives her residence as New Castle.

INVOLUNTARY BANKRUPTS.

Creditors of Two Pittsburghers Get After Them in United States Court.

In the United States district court two involuntary petitions in bankruptcy were filed. The creditors of Charles Goeman of Pittsburgh allege that, while insolvent, he transferred certain property with intent to prefer creditors; that he admitted his inability to pay his debts and that he has now absconded with moneys believed to have been secured to pay creditors. The petitioners are Freeman & Strouss, J. F. Hovis, W. F. Angermeyer & Co. and E. D. Fuller, and their claims amount to $8,225.96.

Certain creditors of Thomas D. Higgins, a merchant of Pittsburgh, allege that he preferred creditors by allowing them to obtain judgments against his property and that the sheriff has levied on his stock of merchandise and it is advertised for sale tomorrow. An order restraining the sale of the property is asked.

Dispute Over Wire Nail Patents.

An affidavit of defense was filed in the United States circuit court, in the equity suit of George W. Angell and Wilbur C. Whitehead, against the American Steel & Wire Company, an action on the alleged infringement of a patent for the manufacture of wire nails. The defendants deny they have infringed upon any patent of the plaintiffs, and allege their patent is void because it is a repetition of other patents for the same thing, that were issued prior to the taking out of their patent.

Mr. and Mrs. George Westinghouse will sail for America on the Kronprinz Wilhelm on August 13. Mrs. Westinghouse's illness the last few weeks, it was feared, would necessitate a change in their plans, but the latest word received from them tells of her rapid improvement and they will leave England as previously arranged. The Westinghouse party has been staying at Claridge's hotel, in London, where Mrs. Westinghouse was taken ill several weeks ago. The family physician, Dr. William Alvah Stewart of Penn and Dallas avenues, East End, was cabled for and sailed from New York on the Oceanic, arriving in England last week. Before his arrival, however, Mrs. Westinghouse had begun to improve and is much better. Dr. Stewart will also return on the Kronprinz.

Mrs. Westinghouse will go for the late summer and autumn to Erskine park, her place at Lenox, Mass. Word received several weeks ago stated that she would entertain a house party during the autumn composed of English friends. Miss Violet Brocklebank, who spent all of last winter and spring with Mrs. Westinghouse, returning to England with her in the early summer, is expected to be her guest during the fall at Lenox and again at her home in Washington, D. C., next winter.

Closing of the Vacation Schools.

The vacation schools will all close tomorrow. A last treat will be given the children. Six of the playgrounds will remain open for another week. The closing of the schools after five weeks of work is necessitated by the fact that the teachers are also teachers in the public schools during the school year, and they must have a few weeks of rest before the opening of the long school year, on September 1. In those cases where the playgrounds are also closed the school buildings must undergo repairs and alterations before the opening of school.

The schools and playgrounds which close tomorrow are the Duquesne, the High School, Monongahela, Birmingham, Soho, the Third ward and Ninth ward, Allegheny, and the Fortieth street school, Lawrenceville. Six playgrounds will remain open another week—the Sylvan avenue, the Ralston, Springfield, Forbes, Riverside and the Fifth ward, Allegheny. The playground at the Columbian Council school, in Center avenue will also remain open the coming week.

The attendance at the vacation schools has reached a daily average of 900, with an enrollment exceeding 1,500. In the playground the daily average attendance has been over 2,000, with an enrollment of more than 3,000. The last report of the treasurer, Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon, revealed the fact that still some money is needed for the successful closing of all the schools and playgrounds. As a final feature of the closing day, a little treat of ice cream is given the children, a feature the women in charge of the work have constantly kept in mind.

Mann—Tryon.

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Mann, No. 149 Hazelwood avenue, Miss Margaret E. Mann was last evening united in marriage to Frank Tryon of Spartansburg, Pa. The ceremony, which took place at 5 o'clock, was performed by the Rev. John H. Taton of Elmore, Mich. The colors were yellow and white, the residence being handsomely decorated with palms, ferns and goldenrod. The bridesmaid was Miss Ada N. Mann, a sister of the bride, the groomsman being W. S. Buvinger of Wilkinsburg. The bride's dress was of white mousseline de soie, while the bridesmaid wore a gown of corn-colored mousseline. Only the relatives and immediate friends attended the ceremony, which was followed by a reception and dinner.

The young couple left for Mountain Lake park, Md., where they remain for two weks, after which they will be at home in Spartansburg, Pa.

McQuiston—Moise.

In the Protestant Episcopal church of the Ascension, Shadyside, yesterday morning, the wedding of Miss Brunella McQuiston and B. C. Moise took place. The ceremony was performed at 11 o'clock and was witnessed by only a few intimate friends of the bride and bridegroom. The Rev. Mr. Flint officiated, in the absence of the rector, the Rev. Robert W. Grange. Miss Watkins was the maid of honor, and Col. F. J. Hearne of Fifth avenue, acted as best man. The bride was prettily gowned in white, the maid of honor also wearing white and carrying pink roses. After the ceremony a breakfast was served at the Hotel Schenley. Mr. and Mrs. Moise will make their home in Sewickley after a wedding trip. The bride for a couple of years past has been connected with the juvenile department of the Carnegie library. Mr. Moise is assistant treasurer of the National Tube Company.

Wedding Day Announced.

The marriage of Miss M. Butler and R. C. Zeck will be solemnized at the home of the bride, in South Negley avenue, on August 18. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. James Gaston.

Engagement Announced.

Mrs. Agnes Taylor of Hoboken announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Estelle Mae Taylor, and Chambers Stanley Orr, son of Dr. W. J. Orr of Springdale.

People Here and There.

Miss Nellie Eckert and Miss Nellie Brown of Allegheny are spending a few weeks near Penmar, Pa., in the Blue mountains.

Miss Louise Kennard has returned from a short visit to Magnolia Beach, Mass. She will remain in town during the absence of her sister, Miss Buelah Kennard.

Mr. and Mrs. James Stephen Martin and their family have gone to Gloucester, Mass., and will spend the remainder of the summer in that quaint New England fishing port.

Miss Buelah Kennard, chairman of the joint committee of women's clubs, under whose direction the summer playgrounds and the vacation schools have been conducted, will leave tomorrow evening for Chicago. She will spend a portion of next week visiting the vacation schools in that city. Miss Kennard has deferred her vacation trip until the schools here close. After a few days in Chicago she will go to the country for a rest, returning to Pittsburgh September 1.

VAUDEVILLE ON LAWN.

Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt to Bring Professionals to Newport to Entertain Her Guests.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 6.—(Special.)—The secret is out as to Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt's program for the entertainment of her friends at Beaulieu on Monday evening, August 25. The performance will not be presented by amateurs, but by vaudeville stars, whose services will be obtained at a considerable expenditure.

The gathering, just as at first stated, will be on the lawn on the east side of the villa near the cliffs. Here there will be a stage erected and another large tent of waterproof material so that no matter what the weather may be, the performance will take place as arranged.

In front of the stage an orchestra will be placed and in every other way the appointment of the open air theater will be very near perfection. The illumination will be elaborate and will, in fact, be one of the features of the evening.

FLOWERS STILL COMING.

Friends of Miss Neilson Continue Sending Congratulations on Betrothal.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 6.—(Special.)—Mrs. Frederick Neilson will give one of the largest dinners of the summer at the Casino tomorrow evening in honor of her daughter, Miss Kathleen Neilson, whose engagement to Reginald Vanderbilt was announced on Monday. Late in the evening the company will attend the dance at the Casino.

Flowers and congratulations are still arriving at Miss Neilson's home, some floral pieces having come from as far away as Shelburne Falls, Vt., the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. Seward Webb, uncle and aunt of Mr. Vanderbilt. Mrs. Alfred G. Vanderbilt will soon give a dinner at Oakland Farm in honor of Miss Neilson.

THEATRICAL.

The box office of the Bijou theater will open for the season of 1902-3 at 9 o'clock this morning. The initial attraction will be the William H. West Minstrel Jubilee, which will begin a week's engagement next Monday night. This evening R. M. Gulick and P. J. McNulty, lessees of the Bijou, will throw open the remodeled house, now one of the largest theaters in the country, seating nearly 4,000, for an invitation inspection. Old patrons of the Bijou will marvel greatly when they gaze on the new theater.

If money, brains and a vast experience count for anything, "The Majestics," the opening attraction at Harry Williams' Academy, commencing next Monday evening, under the management of Fred Irwin, should be above the average. He has been promoting amusement enterprises for 20 years, and has never brought a bad show to this city. This season he has made strenuous efforts to surpass all former successes and has gathered an organization of the highest class.

Beautiful Chautauqua Lake.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Aug. 6.—Smarting from the third successive defeat at the hands of the champions, the New Yorks started after Umpire Emslie today and kicked continuously throughout the game.

The kicking culminated in the fifth inning, when Jones, after flying out to Beaumont, came back and registered a kick, and backed it up by grabbing Emslie by the arm, who in turn did likewise.

There was some pulling and pushing indulged by both, during which Emslie's mask was either knocked off by Jones or fell off.

Emslie finally ordered Jones out of the grounds. Immediately after the game President Freedman suspended Jones for the rest of the season.

McGraw Starts Kicking.

Manager McGraw came to the surface with his first kicks since becoming manager of the Giants, claiming that Emslie was giving him the worst of it on strikes. Tommy Leach had a few words with Emslie, but nothing came of it.

As in the previous three games played between the champions and New Yorks, there was nothing in today's contest but Clarke's men. The Pirates put two runs to their credit in the first, and in the first half of the sixth, when the game was called on account of rain, Dummy Taylor was getting his bumps with painful regularity, the Pirates having added two more runs. The score reverted back to the fifth inning.

Chesbro's Great Work.

Happy Jack Chesbro pitched another of his marvelous games, letting the Giants down with only one hit and allowing only two men to reach first base. Not a New Yorker got as far as the half-way mark.

Taylor proved the easiest kind of a proposition for Clarke's men, they hitting him safely in every inning, in fact, much harder than the score shows.

The Pirates won the game in the first inning by making two runs. After Clarke was thrown out by McGraw, Beaumont got a free pass to first. Leach hit a hot one past McGann.

Wagner Fanned Out.

J. Taylor proved too much for Wagner and he fanned at three wide ones. Beaumont scored the first run of the game on Bransfield's single to center. Ritchey put up a high one, which Jones made a mess of, Leach coming home on the error. Conroy lifted a high fly to Brown, ending the inning.

In Pittsburgh's half of the sixth inning Ritchey was hit by a pitched ball. Conroy placed a nice single to his credit, sending Ritchey to third. O'Connor was an easy out on an infield high.

Chesbro hit away over Brodie's head for half the circuit, sending in Conroy and Ritchey. Clarke made his second hit of the game by planting a single into short left.

Beaumont could do nothing with Taylor and struck out. At this point rain came down and the game was called.

BROOKLYN, Aug. 6.—The final game of the series between Cincinnati and Brooklyn was called at the beginning of the second inning on account of rain. In the first inning Cincinnati scored four runs and Brooklyn nothing, so that the storm saved the local players from a probable defeat.

An East Liverpool Baseball Rumor.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Aug. 6.—(Special.)—A movement was started this afternoon by several prominent business men, who are lovers of the game of baseball, to form a stock company to place a high-class team in the field next spring to represent this city. A meeting of those interested will be held in a few days, and shares in the company, which will be a stock concern, will be sold at $100, of which $50 must be paid at once. Good players will be obtained and already letters have been sent to Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Wheeling and other prominent baseball towns with this end in view.

Dedham Won at Polo.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 6.—Dedham won the second event of the Hitchcock's cup here this afternoon, defeating the team of the Saratoga polo club 21 to 10½. Saratoga was allowed nine goals by handicap. Dedham outplayed them practically all the time, displaying a fine grade of team play, in which feature Saratoga was faulty.

THE BULLS TEAM DEFEATED BEARS

STOCK EXCHANGE CLUBS PLAYED GREAT GAME YESTERDAY.

Kicks Were Registered on Almost Every Decision and Handlers of the Indicators Had to Use Guns to Enforce Their Decisions.

Exposition park, Allegheny, was turned into a stock exchange for about three hours yesterday afternoon, during a game of baseball between the bulls and bears of the local brokers, which the former won in five innings by the score of 21 to 5.

It was the occasion of the annual "call" of the year and the "boosters" and "knockers" of Pittsburgh's Wall street demonstrated before a crowd of almost 200 of their admirers what they did not know about the national game.

It was a case of argument all the way through and the brokers acted just the same about the game as they do about their daily stunt in Fourth avenue. There was never a dull moment during the contest. The stock of many of the players took great jumps during the five innings while just as many slumps were the rule at times.

There was very little to the game save the two umpires, "Fatty" Mustin and "Cinders" Carothers. They stood on the firing line faithfully and made decisions that were wonderful. There was no such thing as changing a decision either. When it was made once right or wrong it was lived up to.

Mustin helped put his decision in force by the use of a 48 calibre revolver, while Carothers made his rulings absolute by the aid of a flobert rifle. When even the guns were not as effectual as desired the spectators on the side lines were called on by the handlers of the indicators to make the members of each team abide by their decisions.

After 'steen thousand yards of tape from tickers had been scattered over the field the teams started to play. There was no "bucketing" and all plays were made outright. The appearance of the office boys made the "pit" look as though a brokers' field day meet was being held.

The bulls were distinguishable by their yellow caps, while the bears wore white ones. Humphries Miller, in center field for the bears, had a wheelbarrow to catch the flies that chanced to be sent into his territory. Morrow, at third base for the bulls, had a two-bushel sack, and even at that many grounders got away from him.

Pittsburgh Brewing Walker started a bullish movement by smashing out a nice little single. After Wainwright had fanned, Harkins made a hit and several more resulted in five tallies coming over the pan for the bulls. The bears jumped in, but the best they could do was three runs.

The bulls' lead could not be overcome and they strengthened it in the second by scoring five more runs. The bears were blanked for the next two, while the bulls scored three in the third and suffered a shut-out in the fourth. The bears scored two in the fourth, and while the bulls made eight in their half of the fifth, the bears were unable to tally.

The score:

PILLSBURY BEAT WOLF.

Is Now on Even Terms With Janowski for Chess Honors.

HANOVER, Aug. 6.—By special request of the players engaged in the international chess masters tournament, today was set apart for the finishing up of games adjourned from previous rounds. These comprised contests between Bardeleben and Olland, Pillsbury and Suechting, Atkins and Janowski, Tschigorin and Levin, Swiderski and Bardeleben and Pillsbury and Wolf.

All these games, with the exception of the Pillsbury-Wolf contest, were disposed of in the morning sitting. Olland won from Bardeleben and the four other games ended in draws.

In the afternoon sitting Pillsbury beat Wolf, as was expected. This put Pillsbury and Janowski on even terms again and in the lead, with 9½ games won out of 13 played. Atkins and Mieses follow, tied with eight games won out of 13.

Emlenton Forfeited.

FRANKLIN, PA., Aug. 6.—(Special.)—The game between the Plumbers and Painters, leaders in the City league, and Emlenton, broke up in a row here this afternoon, Emlenton forfeiting 9 to 0. Emlenton in the ninth forged two runs ahead. The home players scored one tally and on a fly to the outfield Bell came in. The play at the plate was close, and although Bell seemed to be out, Umpire Meehan said safe. Score:

CARRICK KNOCKED OUT.

Chicago White Sox Pounded Him Hard and He Was Relieved by Lee.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—The visitors batted Patterson savagely at the start, but after the first inning secured only one hit off him.

The locals pounded Carrick for three singles and two doubles their first time up, Lee pitching the remainder of the game. Attendance, 1,760. Score:

BRAGG BEATEN BY SIX SHOOTER

SENSATIONAL FINISH FURNISHED IN THE FOURTH RACE.

Jockey Jackson, Who Rode Greek Dollar in the Steeplechase, Was Thrown and Severely Injured—Several Other Spills, but None Resulted Seriously.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—Six Shooter and Bragg furnished a sensational finish in the fourth race at Harlem today at a mile and a sixteenth, Six Shooter winning by a head and only in the last few strides.

The drive lasted the full length of the stretch. He came like a shot in the last eighth of a mile and gradually wore down Bragg.

In the steeplechase Jockey Jackson, who rode Greek Dollar, was thrown and severely injured. There were several other spills in the same race, but none resulted critically. Summaries:

First race, 5 furlongs—Dan McKenna, 105, Coburn, 7 to 2, won; D. Bender, 105, J. Woods, 12 to 1, second; Egg Nogg, 108, Hoar, 6 to 1, third. Time, 1:01 3-5. Kite Star, Capable, Shoes to Plate, Tabeilarius, Licorice, Tancred, Zapho, Small Talk, Camembert, Jove and Tucker Cox also ran.

SEAWANHAKA CUP RACES.

Everything Is in Readiness for the Great Canadian Annual Yachting Event.

MONTREAL, Aug. 6.—Everything is in readiness for the series of races which begin tomorrow on Lake St. Louis for the possession of the Seawanhaka cup.

The cup was first won by the St. Lawrence Yacht club in 1896 and has been successfully defended each year since then. T. Herrick Duggan, the designer of all the craft which have defended the trophy, has built a boat of peculiar design for this year's contest.

The new yacht has been named Trident. It was at first provided with three centerboards, one on each side of the keel center board. During the trial races it was found that the centrally located board was useless and it was taken out.

When the boat is heeled over in a breeze the auxiliary centerboard on the lee side stands almost perpendicularly in the water. The Bridgeport yachtsmen were at first inclined to protest against Trident as a freak, but it has been decided that she comes within the rules governing the races.

The form of the course will not be decided upon till tomorrow. Tecumseh, the challenger, will probably be sailed by Jones, the two Gates brothers and Sherwood. Routh, assisted by McNaughton, MacDonald and Sherwood, will sail Trident.

PUNXSY GOT TWO HITS.

Jones of Homestead Pitched Good Ball, Shutting Out Jefferson County Team.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, PA., Aug. 6.—(Special.)—Homestead won today's game from Punxsutawney, making it two out of three on the home grounds.

Sutley pitched a nice game, keeping the hits well scattered until the seventh, when three runs were made off his delivery with two men out. Jones' pitching was gilt-edged, allowing but two hits. Score:

KING'S NEW YACHT.

Building in Glasgow and Will Be First Used Next Year.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—A dispatch from Glasgow confirms the report that the king is to have a new yacht and says that Watson is now designing a big racing cutter for the king, to be called the Britannia. The first use contemplated for the boat is a series of trial races with Sir Thomas Lipton's new challenger for the America's cup.

These trials will give an immense fillip to the interest in racing on this side, but a curious difficulty will be raised should the royal cutter prove better than the challenger produced by Fife for Sir Thomas Lipton.

SPINAWAY RACE IS WON BY DUSTER FROM GOOD FIELD

Judith Campbell, the Favorite Lost Great Event in the Last Jump.

TRACK WAS VERY MUDDY

Gold Money, Another Heavily Played Horse, Was Unable to Make a Showing on Account of the Bad Condition of the Course.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 6.—Judith Campbell, the western crack 2-year-old filly, met with defeat in the Spinaway stakes this afternoon.

In a desperate, hard-fought finish, Duster, Astirita and Judith Campbell passed under the finish wire noses apart in the order named, with Mary Street, which was an added starter, only half a length away.

The track was deep in mud and Judith Campbell, for whom an offer of $20,000 had been refused by her owner, John W. Schorr, earlier in the day, led up to the very last jump.

She was favorite at 6 to 5 in the betting and a large amount of money was bet on both her and Gold Money, which was the second choice. The latter was unable to run a yard in the deep going and was never prominent. Duster, the winner, was at 15 to 1. The condition of the track caused a lot of scratching and the fields were much reduced in size in consequence. There were seven events, with only two favorites succesful. Summaries:

First race, selling, for two-year-olds, five and one-half furlongs—Eva Russell, 109, Bullman, 8 to 5 and 3 to 5, won; Oriott, 94, Force, 15 to 1 and 6 to 1, second; Cincinnatus, 102, Rice, 16 to 5 and even, third. Time, 1:10 2-5. Kickshaw, Dinksie, Nigrette, Dr. Bissell, Epidemic, Harrison, Hilarity and Back Number also ran.

Second race, selling, steeplechase, for four-year-olds and up, short course, two miles—Sallust, 152, Gallagher, 13 to 10 and 2 to 5, won; Kufa, 145, P. Callahan, 11 to 10 and 1 to 4, second; Seyno, 145, Bulcraft, 20 to 1 and 3 to 1, third. Time, 4:22. Draughtsman started and refused to go the course.

Third race, the Spinaway, for two-year-old fillies, five and one-half furlongs—Duster, 122, Shaw, 15 to 1 and 6 to 1, won; Astarita, 121, N. Turner, 8 to 1 and 3 to 1, second; Judith Campbell, 122, Bullman, 6 to 5 and 1 to 2, third. Time, 1:10 4-5. Mary Street, Wild Thyme, Figardon, Athlana, Girdle, Tioga, Miladi Love, Gold Money, Amaryllis and Bounding Beauty also ran.

Fourth race, for two-year-olds, five and one-half furlongs—Grey Friar, 107, T. Burns, 16 to 5 and 3 to 5, won; Caechise, 110, Redfern, 3 to 5 and out, second; Glennevis, 110, Shea, 5 to 1 and 3 to 5, third. Time, 1:11 4-5.

Fifth race, selling, three-year-olds and upward, one mile—Honolulu, 88, Shea, 4 to 1 and 6 to 5, won; Potente, 107, T. Burns, 11 to 10 and 2 to 5, second; Drummond, 101, Redfern, 3 to 1 and even, third. Time, 1:45 2-5. Swamplands, Philippine and Bounteous also ran.

Sixth race, for maiden three-year-olds and up, six furlongs—Bar Le Duc, 114, Redfern, 10 to 1 and 3 to 1, won; Octoroon, 109, Bullman, 7 to 2 and even, second; Cossville, 114, Wonderly, 5 to 1 and 7 to 5, third. Time, 1:18 4-5. Garter Buckle, Biserta, Three Hot Days, Schoharie, The Beggar, Marie Tryon and I Know also ran.

Seventh race, handicap, for three-year-olds and up, one mile and a furlong—Carbuncle, 100, J. Martin, even and 1 to 3, won; Ten Candles, 116, Shaw, 5 to 1 and 7 to 5, second; The Rival, 100, Redfern, 13 to 5 and 3 to 5, third. Time, 1:58 1-5. Cunard also ran.

Entries for tomorrow:

First race, handicap, six furlongs—Chuctanunda, Dublin, 126; King Pepper, King Hanover, 118; Wealth, 114; Glenwater, 107; Earl of Lexington, 104; Sister Jeanie, Janice, St. Barnaby, 100; Miss Hastings, 95; Tengra, 84.

ROAMER LOST THE RACE.

The 2:14 Event at Buffalo Went to Twinkle in Last Heat.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 6.—The feature of the third day of the Grand Circuit meeting was the defeat of Roamer in the 2:14 pace. The race went six heats, Roamer getting the first two handily in 2:06½ and 2:07¼. In the third Laconia, the New England pacer, came at him and they had it hammer and tongs all through the mile, Laconia winning by a head. Time, 2:07½.

Scott Hudson then took a hand with Twinkle, getting the next three heats off the reel. Roamer was laid up the fourth and fifth heats and in the sixth made a try at Twinkle, the only heat winner starting. However, the Moquette horse's heart was gone and the mare beat him easily at the end. Roamer was favorite in the first pooling, $50 against the field $30.

Zephyr, the mare that was drawn from the M. & M. for lameness, started in the 2:24 trot and won, getting a record of 2:11. Geers drove her, Shafer being laid up with a sprained ankle. Wentworth was the horse that made her trot and had McHenry been able to keep the black steady the race would have been in split heats. Chase was favorite in this race, $50 against $40 for the field.

Scott Hudson drove two winners, taking the 2:05 pace easily with Audubon Boy. He came from behind and raced through his horses in both heats. Audubon Boy was favorite at $50 against $15. Anzella took the 2:10 trot, Edna Cook breaking badly in the second heat. Anzella was held at $50 against $15 for the field. Summaries:

CUP MAY REMAIN.

English Teams Show up Poorly and Americans Play All Around Them.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—The Dwight F. Davis international lawn tennis challenge cup appears to be destined to continue to repose in the country. Both Malcolm B. Whitman and William A. Larned, the Americans, played better than Dr. Joshua Pim and R. F. Doherty, the Englishmen, in the two sets played in the open contests in the singles on the courts of the Crescent Athletic club, at Bay Ridge, today.

In both competitions the point score was one-sided and had the rain held off a little longer the third set would unquestionably have returned the Americans the winner. Whitman scored his sets against Dr. Pim at 6-1, 6-1, and Larned against R. F. Doherty at 6-2, 6-3.

Capt. Collins, manager of the English team, was much chagrined at the showing of the men, but thought they failed to get fairly started and expects better of them tomorrow. The point score follows:

First set—
Dr. Pim (Great Britain).. 2 4 1 8 2 1 4—22—1
Whitman (America)...... 4 6 4 6 4 4 6—34—6
Second set—
Whitman .... 4 4 4 2 4 4 4—26—6
Dr. Pim .... 2 1 2 4 2 2 2—15—1

The real sport of the play was furnished in the Larned-Doherty match, and it was not long before the attention was all drawn to the court nearest the club house, where the younger players were engaged. It was the keen interest taken in this match which kept the crowd in the open some time after the rain started, for unlike the other part of the tournament, this match continued until the downpour actually necessitated a cessation of play. The score:

First set—
W. A. Larned (America) 5 4 4 2 5 2 4 4—30—6
R. F. Doherty (Great Britain) .... 3 2 1 4 3 4 2 2—21—2
Second set—
W. A. Larned........ 4 0 4 1 4 6 4 4 9—36—6
R. F. Doherty ...... 2 4 2 4 2 8 1 1 7—31—3

BASKETBALL FIGHT.

D. C. & A. C. Men Claim McFadyean Is No Longer Manager of Organization.

Yesterday Ernest Seible, captain of the D. C. and A. C. basketball team, sent the following communication to The Gazette:

There is evidently some mistake about the article published in the Pittsburgh papers last week to the effect that J. G. MacFadyean would take the championship D. C. & A. C. team to Atlantic City.

Mr. MacFadyean is no longer manager of that organization. On April 25, when the D. C. & A. C. team returned from Steubenville, there was considerable dissatisfaction among the boys and a meeting was called by Batch Marthens, the captain.

The following D. C. & A. C. men were present: Batch Marthens, Henry Nichol, John Seible, Kallock, Gus Sauer, Ernest Seible, William Dickson, Louis Seible and Harry Becker. F. L. Roberts was unanimously elected manager of the team for the balance of the season of 1902 and the season of 1903.

Roberts opened correspondence with Manager Morgenweck for a series of games at the seashore and secured the series now claimed by Mr. MacFadyean. The conditions under which we were to go to Atlantic City were not favorable to Roberts, and after making a counter-proposition the series was called off.

In MacFadyean's lineup he had the following names, viz.: Haugh of Bristol, Pa.; Shields of New York A. C. and John Thompson of Geneva college. Dickson and Larry Nichol, whose names are in MacFadyean's lineup, have pledged themselves with Roberts, and I dare say not one of the men I have mentioned above will be seen at Atlantic City with D. C. & A. C. unless managed by Roberts.

P. E. SEIBLE.

STAR POINTER'S RECORD.

Dan Patch Will Make an Effort to Lower It at the Brighton Beach Meeting.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—The New York Trotting association has arranged to have Dan Patch, the celebrated pacer, who went a mile in 2:00¾ at Columbus last Saturday, go against Star Pointer's record of 1:59¼ at the Brighton Beach meeting on Saturday, August 16.

The association will offer a purse of $5,000 for the event and this will be a substitute for a purse of $3,000 which it was intended to offer for a race between pacers.

M. E. McHenry, the driver of Dan Patch, preferred to go against the record rather than to engage in a race, and he expresses the belief that Dan Patch will lower Star Pointer's time.

Tennis Matches Postponed.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—The tennis matches which began at Bay Ridge today for the Dwight F. Davis international challenge cup, were postponed after the second set in each match. Whitman beat Pim 6—1, 6—1, and Larned beat R. F. Doherty 6—2, 6—3. The remaining sets in each match will begin tomorrow morning.

ANTISEPTIC
Coke Cream Foam
SIMPLE TO USE. FOR EASY SHAVING.

Coke Cream Foam is a new shaving cream which takes the place of shaving soap. It is pure as purity, clean, smooth, delightful. There is nothing in it that will not actually help the skin to be soft and smooth.

To use: Squeeze out as much as the size of a small bean directly on the chin, then work it up with the brush, using very little water at first; it lathers almost instantly and gets thicker and heavier as you proceed.

DO NOT RUB IN. It is better to allow the lather to remain on the face a few minutes before using the razor. It will not dry.

CREAM FOAM

is also an excellent article for a SHAMPOO. It will cleanse the scalp without injuring the hair. Very little is required to make a big foam.

Cream Foam is put up in collapsible tubes, containing enough for 100 shaves at 25 cents.

After using your Coke Cream Foam in my barber shop and becoming familiar with all its advantages, I feel free in stating that barber soap in the near future in first-class barber shops will be a thing of the past. This Foam not only saves time for the barbers, but it is a safeguard against any contagion and produces that very pleasant soothing effect upon the face that is so much desired by the customers.

ROBERT JEFFREYS, BARBER, 512 Smithfield St., Pittsburgh.

DO AWAY WITH SHAVING SOAP AND MUG.

Ask your barber to supply you with a tube of Coke Cream Foam. Made by A. R. BREMER & CO., Chicago, Ill.

AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION PROPOSED TO THE CITIZENS OF THIS COMMONWEALTH FOR THEIR APPROVAL OR REJECTION BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA, PUBLISHED BY ORDER OF THE SECRETARY OF THE COMMONWEALTH, IN PURSUANCE OF ARTICLE XVIII. OF THE CONSTITUTION.

A JOINT RESOLUTION
Proposing an amendment to section ten of article one of the Constitution, so that a discharge of a jury for failure to agree or other necessary cause shall not work an acquital.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the senate and house of representatives of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in general assembly met, That the following be proposed as an amendment to the Constitution; that is to say, that section ten of article one, which reads as follows:

"No person shall, for any indictable offense, be proceeded against criminally by information, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia, when in actual service, in time of war or public danger, or by leave of the court for oppression or misdemeanor in office. No person shall, for the same offense, be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall private property be taken or applied to public use, without authority of law and without just compensation being first made or secured," be amended so as to read as follows:

No person shall, for any indictable offense, be proceeded against criminally by information, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia, when in actual service in time of war or public danger, or by leave of the court for oppression or misdemeanor in office. No person shall, for the same offense, be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; but a discharge of the jury for failure to agree, or other necessary cause, shall not work an acquittal. Nor shall private property be taken or applied to public use, without authority of law and without just compensation being first made or secured.

BAR IRON MILLS MONTHS BEHIND IN DELIVERIES

Number of Concerns Overestimated Capacity and Demand Is Too Great.

NEW COMBINE SCOFFED AT

Manufacturers See Little in Report of Canadian Rival of United States Steel Corporation—John W. Gates Bigger Bull Than Ever.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Aug. 6.—The demand for bar iron continues unabated. An official of the Republic Iron and Steel Company today made the statement that the bar iron mills were from two to six months behind in deliveries, with no indications of an improvement in this line for some time to come.

"The fact of the matter is," said he, "that a number of the mills overestimated their capacity, and now find they cannot possibly make deliveries on specified time. As a result consumers are not at all pleased. The mills are as far behind in their orders as six months ago, and it will require a material falling off in demand before they can meet deliveries promptly."

Manufacturers of iron, following the policy of the United States Steel Corporation, are working together in an effort to keep prices down to a reasonable level. Bar iron for future delivery is now selling on a basis of $1 80, Pittsburgh. The steel rail mills are working to the utmost of their respective capacities. The amount of new business calling for delivery next year is estimated at 1,400,000 tons.

No Stock in Canadian Combine.

Iron and steel manufacturers place little credence in the report from Montreal that English and Canadian interests are promoting a giant steel corporation. According to the Montreal report, the basis of the consolidation will be the Dominion Iron & Steel Company and the Nova Scotia Steel Company. A representative of one of the largest steel concerns in the country who has made a close study of the situation in the far north says that the quality of ore produced there is far inferior to that of the Lake Superior districts, and is too high in sulphur to produce the high grade of steel turned out by the United States Steel Corporation and other steel concerns in the United States.

The statement in a Buffalo paper that a flattering offer had been made by a representative of the steel combine for control of the Lackawanna Steel Company was officially denied today. The Lackawanna Steel Company in the matter of structural material will be the most formidable rival of the United States Steel Corporation. It has a capital of $40,000,000 and will have a capacity of considerably over 1,000,000 tons of steel a year. However, it will be at least two years before its plants, which are now being constructed near Buffalo, will be completed.

John W. Gates returned today from Saratoga. When asked for his opinion on the stock market he replied:

"I am a bigger bull on the market than ever before. I expect to see stocks sell much higher before I change my present attitude."

An official of the Knickerbocker Trust Company, transfer agent of the Colorado Fuel & Iron Company, today said that not until after the annual meeting of August 20 would it be known who was in control of the Colorado company.

Policy of Steel Ores Company.

The Steel Ores Company, which was recently incorporated in New York state with a capital stock of $500,000 and $250,000 of bonds, has issued a statement describing the physical condition of the property and outlining its policy. The company will engage in mining, shipping and deal in high-grade ores. Its mines are located in Augusta county, Va. J. H. Everett is president and Henry T. Fay secretary and treasurer.

It is learned from an official source that the St. Louis & San Francisco has purchased the Chicago & Eastern Illinois on a guarantee of 10 per cent on the common and 6 per cent on the preferred stock. For each share of the common of the Eastern Illinois a certificate bearing 10 per cent interest will be exchanged and each share of the preferred stock will receive a certificate bearing 6 per cent interest. The St. Louis & San Francisco reserves the privilege of retiring these certificates at the end of 30 years at not above $250 for each common share certificate and $150 for each preferred share certificate. The official announcement giving the full details of the offer will be issued to the stockholders of the two companies tomorrow.

It was announced today that on the application of counsel representing the United States Steel Corporation the date for filing the amended answer to the suit begun by Hodge, Curtiss and Smith has been continued to August 11. The extra time was granted because of the absence of R. V. Lindabury, who is away on a vacation.

Gold Trade Will Soon Turn.

Local banks seem to be of the opinion that the exports of gold during the current month will not be as pronounced as anticipated when the movement began. Grain and cotton bills will begin to make their appearance in the early part of September, which means that the tide of gold will then turn in the direction of this country. There is no getting around the fact that notwithstanding the liberality of Europe in accommodating American borrowers the amount of gold employed this summer in connection with the settlement of obligations of this character has been exceptionally small, small enough, in fact, to lead many bankers to believe that the reports of heavy foreign credit extensions to this country have been greatly exaggerated. The president of one of the largest banks in the city said that he did not expect to see more than $15,000,000 gold shipped to Europe during the next three months.

The present strike in the anthracite coal regions and the consequences which will follow in its train may lead to a radical reorganization of the entire system by which coal is sold and delivered to consumers in New York, and perhaps some of the other large cities of the country. The chief feature of this sweeping change, when it comes, will be the practical elimination of the retail dealer. The middleman who flourished some years ago has almost disappeared, and the next logical step, in the opinion of the operators, is to make the distribution of coal direct from the producer to the consumer.

Grand Chief Arthur Says New York Engineers Will Try to Avoid Strike.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 6.—Grand Chief P. M. Arthur of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said today, concerning the threatened strike of the engineers on the Manhattan Elevated railroad, in New York:

"I have just returned today from Canada and am not fully advised in regard to the situation. Assistant Grand Chief Youngson left for New York this afternoon, and will be there tomorrow morning. I do not anticipate any trouble in adjusting the grievances of our men on the Manhattan. We have a contract with that company, made in 1885. I presume new conditions have arisen as a result of the company adopting electricity as a motive power. There will be no strike if it can possibly be avoided."

Another Listless Day in Wall Street

NO ANXIETY TO SELL STOCKS IS NOW IN EVIDENCE

Negative Demonstration of General Strength in the Business World.

TEXAS & PACIFIC LEADER

Demand for the Gould Southwesterns Was the Most Marked Feature of Yesterday's Market—Coal Strike Helped Hocking Valley Interests.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Aug. 6.—Today's stock market continued to demonstrate in a negative way the underlying strength of the financial and business situation in the country. Trading was mostly idle. The few stocks which were strong did not make an impressive showing and did not alter the listless tone of the market in general. But it is clear that there is no eagerness to sell stocks. With no buyers on a large scale in view, holders show themselves content to carry stock and wait for a more active demand. The very idleness of the market is a reassuring fact. Over extension of credits in speculative ventures is the one factor that threatened bad consequences. Now there seems to be a common agreement to await the satisfaction of the coming requirements of the country for moving the crops. All authorities are agreed that this requirement will be unusually large this year. Today's small export of gold was obviously a mercantile transaction, and it was broadly intimated that something equivalent to a premium was paid by those who are to get it.

Excellent Crop Reports.

The nearer approach of the period of safety for the year's crops confirms the confidence in their abundance. With plentiful harvests and a large surplus of our products for export, any anxiety over the liquidation of our floating foreign indebtedness without embarassment is quieted. The decision of the stock exchange to close on Saturday for no other cause than the coronation of the king of England is testimony to the general acquiescence in the present dullness of the trading in securities.

A demand for the Gould southwesterns was the most conspicuous feature of the day's trading. The very heavy buying of Texas & Pacific was by the same brokers who have been active in Missouri Pacific for some time past, and the response of other railroads in the group was purely sympathetic. The operations were supposed to be for account of the same pool which has followed the upward movement in these stocks from the start.

Strike Helped Hocking Valley.

Hocking coal made a jump on inspired intimations that large new interests were to enter the property and expand its field of activity. Hocking Valley was bought on the advantage the bituminous coal trade is enjoying from the paralysis of the anthracite trade. The movement in Sugar was characteristic of that stock in a period of dullness in the general market and was ascribed to the prospect of an active season in the fruit canning trade. The only stock which seemed to be directly affected by the excellent corn crop reports was Atchison, of which the absorption was very large. There were a number of minor stocks to show some strength. Brooklyn Transit was heavy on the poor report of earnings for the fiscal year. St. Louis & San Francisco reflected some disappointment over the deferred announcement of the details of its new acquirements. The express stocks made further easy advances on light transactions. The market closed moderately active but irregular.

Talked About in Wall Street

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—The Herald this (Thursday) morning says:

No change was noted in speculative sentiment yesterday. The market ruled strong and active issues scored advances, but there was no enlargement of public interest and the dealings were purely professional. There was a moderate increase of activity, but no broadening of the dealings was noted, and about one half of the entire dealings were confined to five properties—Texas Pacific, Atchison, Missouri Pacific, Southern Railway and Sugar. These issues were well maintained under manipulation, but elsewhere, when the manipulative orders were suspended, prices generally eased and activity came to a halt.

The day was practically void of news development of importance. Crop and weather advices were somewhat mixed, but continued in the main favorable. The news from the anthracite coal fields told of an ugly disposition upon the part of the miners, and an unwillingness of the operators to force an open rupture. At the same time there is a growing feeling of confidence on the part of the anthracite coal road presidents. The attitude of labor generally, however, is receiving some attention and was brought to the front again yesterday in connection with the attitude of the employes of the Metropolitan Elevated Railroad Company.

The traffic returns received during the day was not uniform and were unfavorable in the cost of two important roads, Chesapeake & Ohio and St. Louis & San Francisco.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—An Arizona correspondent writes that the average value of the ore mined in the United Verde, Senator W. A. Clark's bonanza, is $75 per ton in gold, silver and copper. The mine is developed to 1,400 feet, showing an immense ore chimney 400 by 600 feet to that depth. Engineers estimate that there are 336,000,000 cubic feet of ore, about 23,000,000 tons, in sight. It is believed the mine can be worked down to 3,000 feet before the heat limit is reached.

Oregonians are staking claims in the Elliott Creek district, along the state boundary line in the Siskiyou mountain region, where copper, quicksilver, asbestos and other minerals appear to be abundant.

The old Dead Horse, in Tuolumne county, Cal., has suspended work. This mine is the deepest in the county and has yielded over $1,000,000 gold. The property is not worked out, and it is believed another company will take hold of it.

Shipments from the Tintic district, Utah, during July totaled 244 car loads of ore, 10 car loads of concentrates, and one bar of bullion, the latter from the Mammoth. The principal shippers were the Gemini, which reported with 41 cars, Grand Central 33 cars, Yankee 24 cars, Carisa 23 cars, Bullion Beck 21 cars and Eureka Hill 19 cars. The Mammoth mill furnished six cars of the concentrates.

A Philadelphia gas fitting company has experts in the Illinois district, Oregon, examining the recent discoveries of platinum. They have installed machinery of their own design for mining this metal and claim to be meeting with success. The platinum is found with the black sand deposits on the Serpentine bedrock.

Three feet of smelting ore, assaying from $300 to $600 a ton, has been found in the seventh level of the Elkton at Cripple Creek.

A vein from five to seven feet wide has been opened in the Old Monumental, Sumpter, Ore. It carries a four-inch streak which assays 1,137 ounces silver and $75 gold to the ton. The remainder runs $25 gold and 20 ounces silver.

In order to obtain additional stopping ground, the Golden Basin Company, operating at Leadville, has arranged to sink 100 feet. The vein widens with depth and the ore retains values.

The tunnel of the Lady Hopkins, in the Organ mountains, N. M., has run through a body of coarse iron ore carrying gold and silver. The lead is 300 feet wide.

The Ben Harrison, at Milford, Utah, is to be equipped with a plant to continue work to a depth of from 1,200 to 1,500 feet. This mine is traversed by the O. K. vein.

The Metal Market.

Traders took a fair interest in tin today, though there were more sellers than buyers, and the bid price was lowered 15 points on a moderate sales movement. Spot to the close stood at $28 60@29 00. The English price gained slightly, spot closing at £127 10s and futures at £125 10s. There was little change in the local copper situation, the market ruling quiet and easy with standard, spot to December, $11 15@11 60; lake, $11 75@11 95; electrolytic, $11 75@11 82½; and casting at $11 65@11 80. London copper declined 11s 3d, spot finally being quoted at £52 12s 6d and futures at £52 16s 3d. Lead was steady here and abroad on a moderate inquiry and prices were easily maintained at $4 12½ here, and at £11 1s 3d at London. Trading in spelter was along quiet lines, enough buying developing to sustain prices, however. Spot here closed at $5 37½ and abroad at £18 15s. The local iron market was firm. Warrants nominal; No. 1 foundry, northern, $23 00@25 00; No. 2 foundry, northern, $22 00@23 00; No. 1 foundry, southern, $22 00@23 00; No. 1 foundry, southern soft, $22 00@23 00. English markets reported steady tone. Glasgow closed at 58s 1d and Middlesboro at 51s.

POWER IN CONTEMPT.

Opponent of Northern Securities Co. Sentenced to Jail for 30 Days by United States Judge.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—The branch of the Peter Power suit started to attempt to upset the Northern Pacific merger, in which the attorneys for the road have been attempting to get Power into court for the purpose of examining him, reached an acute stage late today before Judge Lacombe in the United States circuit court. After short proceedings the court entered an order committing Power for 30 days.

He also ordered George Alfred Lamb, counsel for Power, to appear August 20 to show cause why he should not be suspended or admonished for unprofessional conduct in connection with the case. The occasion for the orders was that, though Power had been repeatedly ordered into court, he had paid no attention to the summonses and it was believed was acting under the advice of his counsel in disregarding them.

Killed by Sheriff's Posse.

OSHKOSH, WIS., Aug. 6.—Samuel Burrows, aged 25, a young farmer residing in the town of Kekimi, who yesterday made a murderous assault upon two young men who had stopped in front of his farm, intending to get a drink of water, was surrounded today by Sheriff Potter and a posse, and in the conflict Burrows was shot and died soon afterward. Two members of the sheriff's posse were slightly wounded by Burrows. It is thought he was insane.

Glowing Crop Reports Affect Bulls

DISCOURAGEMENT IS APPARENT IN GRAIN MARKET

General Advices of Excellent Prospects Have Marked Effect.

BUMPER CORN YIELD DUE

Prices on the Board of Trade Took a Turn Downward on Account of the Reports from Farming Districts Promising Plenty.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, Aug. 6.—Bulls in the grain pits were greatly discouraged today over the glowing reports from the harvest fields. Everywhere came in advices of excellent prospects. Corn promised a bumper yield, and with splendid weather for harvesting spring wheat prices slumped off. Some good export sales of wheat late in the day steadied wheat and shorts were afraid to sell more oats. This helped late prices. At the close September wheat was a shade down, September corn 1¼c lower, and September oats unchanged. Provisions closed unchanged to 1½c higher.

Corn weakness developed early as a result of the great promise of the growing crops. Cables were lower and heavy sales were ordered from all sources. Little support arrived and the crowd held to bearish sentiments on the exceptionally good weather. The Missouri crop report indicated on present appearances a total yield of nearly 300,000,000 bushels, as compared to only 64,000,000 bushels last year.

Caused a Quick Slump.

That report was emphasized by news arriving from private sources and caused extreme heaviness and a quick slump. September sold early at 56⅛c on a run of only 21 cars of corn today, but fell back on the heavy selling to 54¼c. Covering brought the best support, although the report of only 50 cars to come tomorrow helped in a late reaction. September did not regain all its loss and closed very weak, 1¼c down at 54⅝c. Not a car of contract corn arrived today.

Wheat had good support in spite of the very great array of bearish influences. Cables were very steady compared to the weakness here yesterday and clearances and exports were fair. This influenced moderate support by leading elevator interests and brought a steady close after several breaks. Fine weather was reported in the spring country and harvesting was on as far north as Middle Minnesota and Southern North Dakota. The report of the Missouri crop estimated a yield of 63,000,000 bushels, as compared to 31,000,000 bushels last year.

Receipts Better Than Last Year.

Receipts were still in excess of those of last year, but contract grading was still low. September opened ¼@⅜c to ⅜@½c down at 68¾c to 68⅝, sold at 69⅛@69¼c, dipped to 68½@68⅝c and closed steady, a shade down at 69c. Local receipts were 367 cars, 7 of contract grade.

Minneapolis and Duluth reported 82 cars, making a total for the three points of 449 cars, against 357 last week and 353 a year ago.

Oats ruled the strongest of the grains because of an absence of any selling pressure. Receipts were not large, and September was in good demand from commission houses. Offerings were light in spite of an easier cash situation on cheaper offerings east by Indiana and Ohio. The easy tone in the other markets held down oats to some extent, but the close was steady and unchanged at 31⅞@32c for September. Receipts were 89 cars.

Provision Market Firm.

Provisions were supported well by packers, and the market ruled firm. There was none of the recent outside liquidation, and very light offerings caused advances. Corn weakness caused something of a reaction. September pork closed 12½c up at $16 92½, September lard unchanged at $10 85, and September ribs 12½c higher at $12 50.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 220 cars; corn, 50 cars; oats, 185 cars; hogs, 20,000 head.

ALL IN ONE CONTRACT.

Only Decorations and Sculpture Not Included in State Capitol Bids. Commission Concludes Session.

HARRISBURG, PA., Aug. 6.—(Special.)—The state capital commission concluded its session today and will meet again September 6, when bids will be opened at the executive department for the erection of the new capitol. The commission has determined that the building shall be completed by January 1, 1906, and that the cost shall not exceed the appropriation, $4,500,000.

Bidding will not be confined to Pennsylvania contractors and the contractor will be required to do all the work, except the mural decorations, which will be done by Edwin A. Abbey, and the sculpture, which will be the work of George Gray Barnard.

The commission will arrange the contract with the builder so that his work shall not interfere with the meeting of the next legislature in the present building.

MORE INJUNCTIONS.

Corner in July Oats Has Already Produced Forty-Five.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—Eleven more injunctions developing out of the corner in July oats were issued today. Judge Chytraus granted six in favor of H. C. Avery & Co., and Judge Chetlain issued five on the complaint of J. H. Norton.

The writs run against commission houses, President Warren of the board of trade and the Bank of Montreal, to stop collection of margins. The first injunction cases that were to be heard before Judge Chytraus today were postponed until tomorrow. Forty-five injunction cases have developed out of the corner.

Butchers Thank Knox.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 6.—The National Retail Butchers and Meat Dealers' Protective association today adopted resolutions favoring the repeal of the present national bankruptcy law as a hardship on small business men, and extending thanks to Attorney General Knox for his injunction proceedings against the so-called beef trust.

ANOTHER GUSHER IN KEENER SAND POOL

The new Keener sand pool on Big Knot run, Clay district, Ritchie county, W. Va., is to the front with another gusher, making the third in that pool. The new spouter is owned by Neeley & Co., and is located on the George Ryan farm, 1,000 feet west of the Three Joes Oil Company's gusher on the Elroy Wagner. The well was drilled into the Keener sand Tuesday evening and started to flow at the rate of 20 barrels an hour. The record now stands three gushers and two dusters in the Keener sand.

Mallory Bros. & Co.'s No. 1 John Freeland is holding up at 510 barrels and the Three Joes Oil Company's No. 1 Elroy Wagner is doing 300 barrels a day. The next well due is the last named company's No. 3 on the Elroy Wagner farm. Operators in this territory have two chances for getting a producer. The Keener furnishes the gushers, but a failure in that formation does not preclude the possibility of getting a paying producer in the Big Injun sand, as was the case with the Theodore Butcher No. 1 and Elroy Wagner No. 2.

Four miles southeast of Wellsburg, Brooke county, W. Va., the Carter Oil Company has put its wildcat on the Underwood farm to pumping. The first 24 hours it produced 25 barrels. It is thought that it will settle down to a 20-barrel producer. The well, since it was drilled in more than a month ago, has produced a little more than 500 barrels of amber oil. The Carter Company is drilling a second test and getting ready to start others.

In the "Little Germany" district, Marshall county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its test on the Catholic church lot through the Gordon and has a duster.

In the same district the South Penn has shot its No. 5 on the V. P. Gorby farm and the well produced 150 barrels the ensuing 18 hours.

Between the "Little Germany" and Fish creek districts, the South Penn has drilled its No. 5 on the Henry Mason farm into the Gordon and has a show for a producer.

The Philadelphia Company has completed its test on the A. T. Morris farm, located on Readers run, Greene district, Wetzel county, and has a good gasser in the Gordon.

At Porters Falls, the same company has completed a test on the Morgan farm and has a duster.

Near Littleton the Philadelphia Company's test on the VanHorn farm is estimated to be good for 10 barrels a day in the Gordon.

Near Wileyville, on Steels run, Center district, a New York company is building the rig for a test on the John Melott farm.

In the Littleton district the Philadelphia Company has completed its test on the William Fowler farm and has a duster.

On Richwood run, the United States Coal and Oil Company has drilled its No. 6 on the D. H. Cox farm through the fifth sand and has a duster.

In the Folsom district, Miller Bros.' No. 1 on the E. A. Talkington farm, shot last week, is still holding up at 390 barrels a day, and is now the best producer in that district. There will be a number of wells due in the district within a week and their location indicates an increase in production from this quarter.

On Bens run, Pleasants county, the Mutual Oil Company's well on the John Eagel 3-acre lot is holding up at 200 barrels a day. It is now a week since it was drilled into the Cow run sand.

In the Sugar creek district, Zahniser & Co. have completed their test on the S. Jewett farm and have a duster in the Big Injun sand.

In the shallow sand territory in Wood county, D. F. Sherbondy has completed his No. 5 on the Benson Athey farm and has an 8 or 10-barrel pumper.

In the Littleton district, Wetzel county, the South Penn has completed its No. 2 on the William Newman farm and has a 40-barrel producer. The same company's test on the A. H. Jackson farm is a gasser in the Big Injun.

In the new Keener sand pool, west of Jerusalem, Monroe county, O., the Unity Oil Company is again in luck and has another good producer. The new well is this company's No. 4 on the John R. Mann farm, located 300 feet west of No. 2 on the same farm, and is good for 100 barrels a day in the Keener sand. This company has drilled a dozen wells in this development and all are producers.

In the Big Injun sand district, southeast of Rinards Mills, Washington county, the Carter Oil Company's No. 4 on the Adam Messner farm is holding up at 100 barrels a day. In the same locality the Carter Company's No. 1 Susanah Sears farm is holding up at 90 barrels a day and No. 3 John Cline, No. 2 Enoch Cline and No. 1 Esau McVay are producing 70 and 50 barrels a day, respectively.

In the shallow sand territory, near Chester Hill, Morgan county, Henne & Manns have completed a second test on the Scott heirs' farm and have a 5-barrel pumper.

Whedon & Co. have completed their No. 10 on the Joseph Yarnell farm and have a 10-barrel pumper, and A. A. Cameron's No. 22 on the H. Bowman farm is not good for more than 5 barrels a day.

In the Wolf creek district, the Muskingum Oil Company has completed its No. 9 on the Alexander Martin farm and has a show for a very small pumper.

The Carter Oil Company has completed its No. 3 on the A. M. Graham farm, located near Scottown, Washington county, and has a 5-barrel pumper in the Berea grit.

Operations in the local fields have grown very quiet. With the Murdocksville and Turkeyfoot extensions fully defined, there is nothing to attract attention at this time.

In Washington county, between Taylorstown and Washington, Willetts & Paul have drilled in their No. 9 on the S. K. Weiricks farm and have an 80-barrel producer. This is the best showing made by any well in that district for more than a year. Aiken & Co. are due in the sand at their No. 16 on a part of the same farm.

INVESTMENT SECURITIES.

After 12 years of careful reading and studying corporations, stocks, bonds and investment securities, the knowledge gained has enabled me to select with safety from the great mass of securities offered throughout the country, stocks and bonds that have doubled, trebled, quadrupled and sextupled in value. There are always gilt-edged dividend paying investment stocks and bonds, yielding 3½ per cent to 5 per cent cash dividends, that will increase rapidly in value. For safe and rapid accumulation of money there is nothing like stocks and bonds of conservatively managed rising properties. You may be getting 2 per cent to 5 per cent on your money. You can invest it as safely in stocks and bonds that will pay you equally as much in cash dividends, to say nothing of the increase in their value from 10 per cent to 100 per cent.

SEND IMMEDIATELY FOR SPECIAL LETTER ISSUED GRATIS BY THIS HOUSE, AUG. 6th UNDER CAPTION
"A Stock That Should Rise 30 Points."

This is by no means a tip, as to the action of any pool or operator, nor based upon "inside information," merely a concise, logical, clear and carefully accurate analysis of a certain stock, which will plainly demonstrate to the careful reader, the probability of its conclusions. For a time Wall Street may, and frequently does, put an improper and artificial value upon a share issue due either to misunderstanding or the manipulative artifice of the powers in control, in furtherance of their own ends. Time levels these little discrepancies, however, and the proper value, based upon value of property and present and prospective earning power, makes the price. This is as certain as is water to seek its level. The stock in question is one of these very cases. Our letter will place the details before you.

THOSE WHO WILL CONFINE THEIR MARKET OPERATIONS TO CONCLUSIONS TO BE DRAWN FROM JUST SUCH CASES, AND KEEP AT ALL TIMES WITHIN THEIR MEANS, SHOULD NEVER TAKE A LOSS IN WALL STREET.

Local Stocks Were Exceedingly Dull, but Steady to Firm in Tone

RAIL COAL WAS FIRMER ON BIG BUYING ORDERS

Price of the Common Stock Was Easily Advanced Almost a Point.

THE BANK SHARES QUIET

Window Glass Was Dull and the Steel Shares Almost Entirely Neglected—Brewing Stocks Firmer, But the Bonds Broke.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was exceedingly dull, but generally steady to firm. The feature was in Pittsburgh Coal common, which occupied most of the first half hour's trading and then sank into comparative dullness along with the other issues. The sales amounted to 2,625 shares and the stock advanced from the opening at 28 to 28½, where it closed, still quite firm, the gain for the day being ⅝. The buying was largely by one house and was without apparent reason. For some time there have been rumors that the directors would place the common stock on a dividend basis at the next meeting, but an insider said yesterday this was not probable. This gentleman, who is in a position to know, says that he thinks the stock will some day sell at 150—not now, nor soon, but within the next 20 or 30 years. He is also the authority for a statement that at least 50,000 shares of the common stock have been bought recently and placed in safety vaults as a permanent investment. The company's finances are reported to be in an exceptionally fine shape, and as the years go by will necessarily improve. The preferred stock yesterday was quite dull but firm and ⅜ higher at 90⅞. River Coal common passed without a sale and only 5 shares of the preferred found a buyer, the stock being steady and unchanged at 39¾. In the banking group matters were comparatively quiet. Federal National lost $1 at $141 for 30 shares. First National Bank of Pittsburgh advanced $10 to $615 on the sale of 10 shares and more was wanted. Commonwealth Real Estate and Trust was dull and unchanged at 242. In the quotations Pittsburgh Trust advanced $5 to $630, a new high record. In the general list very little was done. Window Glass was dull and ⅛ lower at 62. The steel shares were very quiet at fractional changes. Brewing stocks were firmer and a fraction higher, but the bonds broke ⅝ to 112. Fire Proofing issues were very dull and practically unchanged. Electric seconds gained ⅛ on a small sale at 106⅛, and Airbrake was only nominally quoted. The general bond list was neglected in the sales and a shade easier in the quotations.

PITTSBURGH FEATURES.

Bank exchanges gained $1,148,551 92.

Sales Pittsburgh stock exchange 3,670 shares and $2,000 bonds.

Federal National bank lost $1 at $141.

First National bank of Pittsburgh advanced $10 to $615.

2,625 Pittsburgh Coal common sold. Closed at 28½, a gain of ⅝.

Pittsburgh Coal preferred was ⅜ higher at 90⅞.

Window Glass common closed at 62, a loss of ⅛.

Crucible Steel closed at 21½ and the preferred at 86¼.

United States Steel common sold 20 shares at 40⅛. The preferred was ignored.

Electric seconds and Airbrake were extremely dull.

Brewing stocks advanced, but the bonds declined ⅝ to 112.

Fire Proofing issues dull and barely steady.

The following is a complete summary of yesterday's official transactions on the Pittsburgh stock exchange. It shows the change in the closing selling prices, compared with the last preceding sales, the total sales of each security, the opening, high, low and closing prices and final bids and offers.

Holmes & Sons made the first trade of the day, selling 50 Pittsburgh Coal common at 28 to McMullin.

Preston, Watt & Schoyer were sellers of Pittsburgh Coal common and of National Fire Proofing common.

Kuhn sold 10 Commonwealth Real Estate and Trust Company to Whitney & Stephenson at 242, and then offered 20 more at the same price.

Barbour made the last purchase of the day, getting 100 Pittsburgh Coal common from Sproul at 28½.

The Mechanics National bank is clearing through the First National, which has absorbed the former.

Announcement comes from Memphis of the sale of 55 per cent of the stock of the Union Railway Company of that city to George J. Gould.

FINANCIAL DRIFT.

Miller turned seller of Pittsburgh Coal common near the close.

Hill & Co. bid 28 for 500 Pittsburgh Coal common near the close.

Holmes & Sons sold First National bank of Pittsburgh to Hill & Co.

Lawrence continued to sell Federal National bank and McFarlane to buy.

R. C. Hall bid 70⅛ for 500 Manufacturers Light and Heat near the close.

There is a rumor that Canadian Pacific has secured control of Wisconsin Central.

Miller sold Window Glass common to McMullin. The latter also got some from Sproul & Co., and then sold small lots.

Sales of land by the Northern Pacific railway for the year to June 30 were 1,495,954 acres, being 50 per cent greater than the preceding record.

The stockholders of the First National bank voted to increase the capital stock from $750,000 to $1,000,000, which new stock will be sold at $600 a share.

The members of the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday voted to close next Saturday—King Edward's coronation day. The New York exchange took this action Tuesday.

During the first half hour Walker sold 1,345 Pittsburgh Coal common. Sproul & Co. were the heaviest buyers during the day, getting nearly 1,900 shares. They sold the preferred.

Stockholders of the Allegheny Brewing Company voted to increase the capital stock from $1,000 to $50,000. The stock will go to the stockholders at par and the proceeds will be utilized in extensions.

It is said that the New York Central dividend is to be increased to 6 per cent very soon, and that an increased distribution of profits by Michigan Central will soon be made which will help the New York Central treasury.

H. F. Secrist of Spang, Chalfant & Co., has recently returned from an extended trip through the Wickenburg, Ariz., mining district in the interests of the Ft. Pitt-Arizona Mining Company, a new concern recently organized. The officers are: George A. Chalfant, president; H. Z. Weber, vice president; H. F. Secrist, secretary and treasurer; Dr. J. M. Evans, general manager; George H. Calvert, solicitor. This company has acquired some valuable properties in the immediate neighborhood of the Amalgamated Keystone, Ore Grande and O'Brien gold mines.

A New York railroad interest is quoted as saying: "There will soon be some developments in Norfolk & Western, which will come as a surprise to most of the investing public. There is buying of stock now going on and purchasers are not disposed to unload on an advance of even 10 points from the present figures. The ratio of earnings to expenses will show a material change during next year and there will be net earnings far in excess of anything heretofore recorded. I am not at liberty to tell the nature of the developments which may be expected, but they will be known very shortly."

A well-posted Wall street broker wired: "Pennsy shows a net increase for June of $478,700, which shows that what it has lost on anthracite tonnage is more than made up in increased bituminous shipments. This increase is equivalent to nearly 1 per cent on the stock. Pennsy's earnings from the entire system for the fiscal year have now passed the $200,000,000 mark, an immense sum of money to be earned by one system in a year. Truly this is the greatest railroad system in the world and its future possibilities seem unlimited. No mistake can be made in the purchase of Pennsylvania stock."

Wall Street Brokers' "Tips."

I think they are going to put Atchison a good bit higher.

I get it from a good source to buy St. Louis & Southwest common around 37.

It is thought Reading common is a buy, and that it is being depressed for a purpose.

It is thought Big Four common is one of the best stocks on the list to buy for a good advance.

Atchison common showed considerable strength early in the day on buying by the pool, which has been working it for some time.

Texas Pacific was bought on rumors that the reports of recent heavy damage to crops along its line were exaggerated and that they were fully recovering from the heavy rains and wind storms.

We see nothing in the situation to cause the market to have any decided fluctuations the balance of the week. We believe that reactions should be taken advantage of to buy good railroad stocks.—Lounsbery.

Trade for quick turns and temporarily be satisfied with a point or two, and if needs be "discount" this profitable possibility by taking even less profit if necessary. For the long pull hold any of the industrials, grangers, southwestern issues or Baltimore & Ohio. Between this and "coronation day" (Saturday next), "bears" on Peoples Gas, Louisville & Nashville and Sugar will cover. Brooklyn Rapid Transit is not making a fortune for its shareholders and compared with other issues, Erie first preferred for instance, Brooklyn Rapid Transit is positively dear. Keep long of Kansas City, Fort Scott & Memphis.—Josephs.

PITTSBURGH PRICES FOR FARM PRODUCTS

Maryland Tomatoes Lower, Egg Plant Declines—Cabbage Is Cheaper.

Hay, Grain and Feed.

Light receipts of hay yesterday caused a firmer tone to prevail in the market, although there was no change in actual quotations. Spot oats continue scarce, and few are offered; prices are held up to the level of the first of the week unexpectedly, as all dealers were of the opinion there would be more abundant arrivals and lower figures. Other descriptions remain at prices of Tuesday.

Receipts bulletined: Pennsylvania lines, 5 cars hay, 2 cars corn, 3 cars feed, 1 car oats; Baltimore & Ohio railroad, 1 car hay; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, 1 car rye, 1 car oats; total receipts, 15 cars.

Following are the official quotations for hay, millfeed, corn, oats and straw, corrected by the superintendent of the Pittsburgh grain exchange:

Straw—Oat, $7 00@7 50; wheat, $7 00@7 50; rye, $8 00@8 25.

Groceries.

While the nominal range of flour prices continues at $4 10@4 20 for fancy spring patent, there seems to be little selling above $4 15, although demand is active. There is an increased call for refined sugar, for which trade is picking up, with quotations unchanged. Cereal foods are easy and inclined toward weakness, buyers all holding off from making any purchases beyond immediate wants in the anticipation of lower quotations. Navy beans are firm at the same figures as at the beginning of the week.

Merger Details Expected Today.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—The executive committee of the St. Louis & San Francisco road will meet tomorrow after which full details of the acquirement of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois line probably will be made public. The terms, it is believed, will show that the deal involves a long time lease on an 8 per cent guarantee and not a direct purchase, as has been declared in some quarters.

Guessing on Buyers of Big Downtown Lots

HANDSOME SITE FOR A RESIDENCE BRINGS $35,000

David P. Black Sells Some Property in Fifth Avenue.

MUTUAL BUILDING TRADED

Beechwood Improvement Co., Ltd., Sell Eight Homes—McKeesport Real Estate Still Moving Rapidly. Realty Deals Cause of Speculation.

Another fine residence site in the East End has been marketed through the Real Estate Trust Company for $35,000. It formerly belonged to David P. Black, who purchased it only a few weeks ago. The property is located on the south side of Fifth avenue, near Denniston avenue, Twenty-second ward, and is a part of the old Holmes homestead. The lot measures 100x280 feet and is entirely vacant. Adjoining the plot are the Mellon and Vandergrift holdings. When Mr. Black bought the property he intended to erect a $75,000 residence on the site, but later changed his mind and a few days ago bought another site at the corner of Penn and Murtland avenues for $65,000. The name of the present purchaser is withheld but it is said he is a prominent banker who will build a fine residence soon.

Was Sold Again.

The Mutual office building, in Allegheny, which has been sold at least five times in the last three years, has been disposed of again in a trade deal on a valuation of $70,000. The deal was made by Haas & Lauinger, who conveyed the property from Mrs. Catharine Porter to W. V. Callery. The building is a six-story brick structure with a stone front, standing on a lot, 36.6x90 feet, facing in the south side of West Ohio street, near Federal street. In part payment for the Mutual property Mr. Callery tendered 32 lots, 25x120 feet each, in the Callery plan in Thirty-third street, Thirteenth ward. Seven of the lots are improved with five-room frame houses. This property was valued at $35,000, the balance being paid in cash. Mr. Callery bought the Mutual building for an investment and has no idea of selling it at present, as recent sales in the near vicinity indicate a strong upward tendency in realty values. Another four-story building near this one is to change owners in a few days.

A Bunch of House Sales.

The Beechwood Improvement Company, Limited, has sold eight of its residence properties in the East End for $82,65. Nine of the properties are situated in Belmar place, being located in the north side of Monticello street, near Sterrett street, Twenty-first ward. The lots with one exception measure 25x98 feet each and are improved with seven-room brick veneered houses. They were sold as follows: James M. Abriola, $4,200; Warren R. Eaken, $3,950; Eugene F. Schumann, $4,200; Charles T. Moore, $4,475; Henry F. Roeper, $4,200; Thomas J. Roney, $4,240; Mary A. Kenney $4,200. The lot bought by Mr. Moore is 37.5x93.8 feet. The other property sold is an improved lot, 60x260 feet, in Boggs avenue, Thirty-second ward. It was bought by Allen W. Jones for $3,000.

Through the agency of T. D. Gardner, J. C. Blose has purchased from the Neel estate an irregular shaped lot facing 63 feet in Walnut street, near the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, McKeesport, for $13,000.

Rapid Sales in McKeesport.

Since last Friday the following sales have been made through the office of Charles P. Dahlstrom & Co., of McKeesport, all the property being located in that city: For J. W. Foster to a Pittsburgh party a five-room frame house, lot 200x110 feet, in Icenberg street, Ninth ward, for $2,800; for V. W. Smith to A. M. Anderson, two lots at the corner of Patterson and Hamilton avenues, Eleventh ward, for $900; for Aaron Warme to Charles Iverson, one lot in Willow avenue, Seventh ward, for $650; for the Evans estate to Aaron Warme a lot, 30x110 feet, for $1,200, and to Frank Johnson a lot, 35x95 feet, in Versailles avenue, for $1,400; for Conrad Mill to Jacob Roth, a house and lot in Packer street, for $3,500; for John Bloom to Emma Zamborsky a house and lot in Packer street for $1,700; for Frank Carlson to an unnamed purchaser a five-room house, lot 25x135 feet, in Stoner avenue, Eleventh ward, for $1,900, and for Gust Nystrom to the same buyer a house and lot in the same street for $1,550.

Everybody's Guessing.

It is doubtful if there has been any time for a year when well posted real estate and business men have been so much "up in the air" as they were yesterday. Guessing was the order of the day. In nearly every office along the street, guesses were being hazarded as to who bought the Dallmeyer building, and the two properties at Nos. 507 and 509 Wood street, sales of which were reported yesterday. The former deal, it is thought by many, will be followed shortly by the purchase of another large property adjoining. It was rumored also that the Dallmeyer block had been bought by a prominent real estate corporation for its own use, but the tellers of this tale had nothing to substantiate their story. The Wood street deals are generally credited to the First National bank, but a number of other suppositions were advanced, among them being the one that Samuel W. Black secured the properties for the Farmers Deposit National bank. Still another story afloat was to the effect that these purchases would be followed shortly by the purchase of the properties between them and Virgin alley, the buyer being one of the largest realty holders in the city. Speculation is still rife as to who is the real buyer of the Robinson-Rea and the Atterbury properties on the South Side, but nothing authentic has been reported. It is generally conceded that H. C. Frick will own the Citizens National bank property in Wood street, when the final deeds are made out.

FOUR BIG OFFERS HAVE BEEN MADE TO CONGREGATION

Efforts to Lease Property at Sixth Avenue and Smithfield Street.

PASTOR RUOFF'S VIEWS

Next Month Congregation Will Appoint a Commission to Decide on Best Offer—Then Will Come New Church and a Great Skyscraper.

Negotiations relative to the disposal of the German Union Evangelical Protestant church property at the northeast corner of Smithfield street and Sixth avenue are rapidly taking definite form and will no doubt result in some very interesting announcements within the next two months.

Four distinct offers, all in writing, are now in the hands of the trustees. At the next congregational meeting, some time in September, these offers will be formally submitted and a commission appointed to decide which is best for the church to accept. The acceptance of any one of the four will mean a transformation of the church square and a great increase in the values of nearby properties.

The church property covers the entire square bounded by Smithfield street, Sixth avenue, Montour way and Strawberry alley. It has a frontage of 240 feet in Smithfield street and 110 feet in Sixth avenue. By the terms of the original grant a part of the plot must forever be occupied by a church. The remainder the congregation is at liberty to use for other purposes, but none of it can be sold.

Property Will Be Had Under Long Lease.

Under these circumstances would-be purchasers must be content with a long lease similar to the Oliver lease on the First Presbyterian church lot in Wood street. To arrange such a lease and fix upon a location for a new church which will be most convenient and profitable for the church, is the problem the commission to be appointed in September will have to consider.

The four offers which have been submitted to the pastor, the Rev. Mr. Ruoff, within the past few weeks are all propositions that involve an investment of from $1,000,000 to $3,000,000 for buildings alone. No lease will be signed with any person or firm until the church officials have bound them by very rigid conditions to erect only such buildings as will be in keeping with the skyscrapers that are already or will soon be planned for sites in the immediate neighborhood.

One of the offers, if accepted, will result in the erection of a skyscraper to cost $2,500,000. Another offer is believed to be from an immense mercantile establishment which is seeking a site in the city. It is also reported on good authority that one of the proposals comes from people who are after a site for a big hotel.

Fine Location for a Hotel.

This story is more generally believed that the others, as the church lot is considered one of the best, if not the most promising hotel site in the city today.

In connection with the hotel rumor is the story of a theater which gains credence from the fact that this is almost the only lot in the city which has streets and alleys to conform with the state law on the erection of play houses.

While no formal steps have been taken by the church officials, it is practically assured that the site of the present church building will be rented and that the new church will be built at the corner of Smithfield street and Strawberry alley, with a frontage of 80 feet and extening back the entire depth, 110 feet, to Montour way. The church will be a model of modern architecture and will cost at least $100,000.

By shifting the church building to the Strawberry alley corner, the congregation will have a plot 160x110 feet at the Sixth avenue corner to lease for business purposes. The wisdom of the move is evident from the fact that property values at this corner are much higher than at the other, and that for a business site it is much more central.

Values Will Be Increased.

The Oliver skyscraper, diagonally across the corner, and the new building which is almost sure to be erected soon on the City Trust Company property, directly across Sixth avenue from the church, will also add greatly to the value of the site.

The Rev. Mr. Ruoff talked freely of the matter yesterday. "We have been besieged by real estate men for weeks," he said. "Now we have four distinct offers for our property. We have no means of knowing from whom these propositions come, but they are all bona fide and will result in a great improvement. We shall insist on the strictest building restrictions before accepting any offer, for we are determined that the buildings to be erected shall be not only a credit to the city, but an ornament to the new church, which we will build. One of the offers we have now states that the building to be erected will cost $2,500,000. As we can not sell our property we shall give a long lease, probably not less than 99 years.

"At our next congregational meeting, in September, a commission will be appointed to decide which offer is best and take steps toward the erection of the new church. This will probably be built on the Strawberry alley corner, and will have not more than 80 feet frontage in Smithfield street. It will be a thoroughly modern structure in every way, and its erection will not be delayed longer than absolutely necessary."

HELP FOR ENGLAND.

Commander Potter With U. S. Warship May Be Called Upon to Protect British Interests.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—A very interesting situation has developed at Panama, which may result in a call upon the United States to protect British interests there. Today Commander Potter cabled that he had been informed that the governor of Panama contemplated seizing the British vessel Quito, and there being no British warship at Panama, he asked for instructions.

When the property of one nation is threatened, in the absence of a warship of that particular country, it is customary for a warship of a friendly nation, if requested, to protect the property of the country requesting aid. But it is not proper for a warship of one country to proffer protection unless formally requested to do so. Instructions to this effect were immediately sent to Commander Potter.

DELAYED WORK ON STREETS BEGUN

EMPIRE ASPHALT CO. IS AT LAST PERMITTED TO DO PAVING.

Now Has Its Own Plant—Procrastinating Policy Has Kept Important Street Work Behind for Two Years—Analysis Does Not Sustain Asphalt Trust's Contention

The Empire Asphalt Paving Company has at last established a plant in Pittsburgh, and is now prepared to carry out contracts it has made with the city. That the company did not begin its work long ago is due to the procrastinating policy of the city government in its dealings with firms that have city contracts. The plant is located in Howley avenue, and street work has already begun in Negley avenue. Within a few days the company will begin work on the new streets for which it has contracts.

Superintendent Frank W. Schwartz, of the bureau of construction, said yesterday that he believed the Empire company would be able to do good work, as the samples of asphalt it submitted at the time the bids were offered were found to be the equal of the best lake asphalt.

Trinidad lake asphalt has been favored by the city government for years, or as long as Senator William Flinn kept his hand on the throttle of city contracts. Recently the Empire company was let in, although the city officials were aware that the samples of asphalt it submitted were of land asphalt.

"The samples they submitted," said Superintendent Schwartz, "look first rate, and they ought to be able to do good work. Their asphalt was tested by the official chemist of the department of public works, and he pronounced it good asphalt."

The Empire company secured all the contracts for asphalt paving that have been awarded this year early in the spring. It did not begin work on them because it had no plant here, and could do nothing until it had one. The plant erected in Howley avenue is portable, and can be removed to any other location desired.

The asphalt used in Pittsburgh up to this year was lake asphalt, taken from the bottom of Lake Trinidad, on the island of Trinidad. The asphalt of the Empire company comes from the shores of the lake. The local representatives of the asphalt trust which controls the lake product will not admit that the land product is as good as the asphalt from the bottom of the lake, but the city chemist stakes his reputation that it analyzes as pure as any sample he ever tested.

The Empire company was never able to get in on any city contracts until this season. All its bids were thrown out on the ground that the sample of asphalt submitted with the bids was not up to the standard required by the city and did not conform with the specifications under which the bids were to be offered. The Empire company finally tied up 56 streets in the United States court, and kept the city from making these improvements for two years. Last winter a compromise was effected by which the Empire people withdrew their suits and allowed the old contracts with the Pittsburgh and Pennsylvania asphalt companies to stand, the city on its part agreeing to change its specifications so that the Empire people could bid on city work.

The work on these 56 streets could have begun at any time, but up to date the city government has not made any attempt to have the work started, although the contracts were awarded two years ago.

HE WAS TAKEN ALIVE.

Edward Ream, Wanted in Johnstown, Made Things Lively.

Edward Ream, a young man of Johnstown, who declared he would never be taken alive, was captured yesterday morning at the home of his brother-in-law, No. 74 Van Braam street, after a desperate fight with three officers. Yesterday afternoon he was taken back to Johnstown, where he is wanted on 11 charges. One of these is for shooting Policeman Michael Irwin.

Some days ago the local authorities were notified to look for Ream. About 6 o'clock yesterday morning the police learned that Ream was at the home of his brother-in-law. Detectives George Waggoner and Richard Kelly and Sergeant Harry Merritt of Central station were detailed to arrest Ream. Ream rushed down the back stairs with a revolver as the officers entered the front door, but was met by Merritt, who had two revolvers. Ream then fled toward the front of the house into the arms of the detectives, where he made things lively for some time before he could be subdued and taken to the police station.

Parson Sheriff Dead.

PORTLAND, ME., Aug. 6.—The Rev. Samuel Pearson, "the parson sheriff," of Cumberland county, died here at 12:15 o'clock this morning. He had been unconscious since Monday. Mr. Pearson was elected sheriff of Cumberland county after a fierce campaign for the enforcement of the Neal Dow prohibitory law in Poland, Me. He went from the pulpit to the sheriff's office, as he said, to show the people he could practice what he preached. Hotel bar rooms, before immune, were closed, and clubs were raided.

BESSEMER IRON TRADE NOW AT A STANDSTILL

Producers Have Sold Output Till Near Second Half of Next Year.

SOME HEAVY SCRAP SALES

Western Roads Are Placing Their Rail Orders—Shipbuilding Concerns by Heavy Buying, Have Crowded the Plate Mills.

The pig iron market, in years gone by regarded as the key to the iron and steel situation, is now practically at a standstill. There are now and then sales of small lots for prompt shipment that bring out prices well above those which have been obtaining, but the bulk of production well into next year has been sold.

The entire market is approaching an artificial condition. Buyers continue in alarm with no reason for it, except in the extreme shortage of all lines of pig iron.

Buyers of scrap material have placed orders for most of their wants in this market for deliveries within the present quarter. The scrap purchases in this district in a month have aggregated about 350,000 tons for delivery in this quarter. Buyers of scrap, unlike their custom in past years, now place their orders covering a quarter of the year. As a result there is now little active selling, and a rush market, which existed within a few weeks, has passed. The higher prices of scrap, which have been moving upward in sympathy to pig iron, are being held, although temporary reductions are threatened.

Western Roads Buy Rails.

Several of the western railroads have placed orders for next year delivery that make the purchases of 1903 rails aggregate fully 1,200,000 tons. This with about 400,000 tons that will be carried over from old orders make the bookings for next year over half of the production.

The shipbuilding interests, heavy consumers of plates, have been rushing into the market in the past month. About 40,000 tons have been placed here. The result is that Pittsburgh producers of plates who had room for new business before the end of the year are now crowded. There is little room anywhere for new plate business before the end of the year.

In most of the heavier finished lines of production Pittsburgh mills are taking business only for delivery in next year. The prices are held as they have been. There is no prospect of an advance on the minimum prices on steel plates, bars and structural materials before fall, when the associations controlling these markets will be made then. The pools, since the formation of the United States Steel Corporation, are of little importance and no longer attempt to control the situation. With the rising market there is no occasion for their doing so.

Tin Plate Workers Object.

The proposition for a wage reduction of 25 per cent to the tin plate workers is regarded as having been defeated. If it had been voted on favorably it would have headed off export business of at least 1,500,000 boxes of tin plate a year. At the same time it would have brought about a general lowering of prices that might have upset the present conditions and invited the lower priced labor from abroad to come here.

Substantial quantities of foreign steel billets are being offered in this market, but the high price of the domestic billets, which are extremely scarce, is not being disturbed. The foreign steel is not satisfactory for practical purposes here, and the lower price on it proves little of an attraction to the buyers.

The United States Steel Corporation is still out of the market for its necessary supply of Bessemer pig iron to be delivered in the second and third quarters of next year. The prices on all lines of pig iron are higher.

The sheet, wire and some other markets are dragging somewhat. Galvasized sheets have been sold at 75 per cent off the list, a price much lower than the raw materials indicate.

Bessemer Pig Iron Prices.

In the Bessemer pig iron market there have been no transactions of any importance for forward delivery. The price is nominally $21 to $21 50 the ton at the valley furnaces. Some small lots for prompt shipment have been sold as high as $23 75 a ton.

In the forge iron market both the buyers and the producers are waiting. There is very little material of this kind available. The price remains nominally at from $21 to $21 50 the ton.

Foundry iron buyers continue urgent for their supplies. Sales of the past week have brought out some higher prices. Sales reported include 1,000 tons of No. 2 foundry for delivery in the first half of next year at $22 a ton; 400 tons of No. 2 for delivery in the fourth quarter at $24 a ton; 200 tons of No. 1 for last quarter delivery at $25; 100 tons of No. 1 for immediate shipment at $25 50 a ton; 300 tons of No. 1 for first half delivery at $23 75 a ton.

No sales of Bessemer billets are reported, but the price holds nominally at from $33 to $34 a ton for the domestic product, with the foreign billets offered here at from $32 50 tot $33 a ton.

No Domestic Ferro.

Domestic producers of ferro manganese are still out of the market. They continue to hold the price at $52 50 a ton, while the foreign product is offered here at $50.

The wire rod producers are not crowded with business by reason of the slow wire and wire nail market. The price continues at about $35 50 the ton.

Mills producing light and medium weight rails have stocks reduced to a minimum. Few of the producers can ship any rails before the end of this year. Rail prices are as follows: 200-ton and larger lots in standard sections, $28 a ton; $30 for carlots and $32 for less than carlots; $38 for 30, 35 and 40-pound rails in carlots; $39 for 25-pound, $40 for 20-pound, $42 for 16-pound and $45 for 12-pound. Girder and T rails for traction use are from $38 to $40 a ton.

The demand for iron bars continues urgent and the prices are held at from $1 80 to $1 90 the 100 pounds.

The skelp scarcity seems to be growing gradually. Wide steel skelp is scarcely to be had at any price, while the nominal price is about $2 25 the 100 pounds. Iron skelp is also scarce, and the last heavy transaction brought prices of $2 45 the 100 pounds. There is now none to be had at less than this price and most will sell at $2 50.

Little Muck Bar.

There is very little muck bar available before the end of the year and the price is held at $36 50 a ton.

Buyers of plates are rushing the market and sharp premiums are offered for all deliveries within four months. Pittsburgh producers sold an aggregate of about 15,000 tons of plates in the week past. Base prices are as follows: Tank plate $1 60 for 100 pounds for plates up to 100 inches in width, and 5c extra 100 pounds for wide sizes; flange plates, $1 70 for 100 pounds; stillbottom steel, $1 90 for 100 pounds; locomotive fire box, not less than $2 higher; 2-10-inch plates, $1 a ton extra; gauged Nos. 8 and 9, $2 a ton extra; circles, $1 80 for 100 pounds.

Merchant bar producers have very little to sell before the end of the year. Sales of Pittsburgh producers in the week past amount to 10,000 tons. The base price is still held at $1 60 the 100 pounds for forward business, while some producers are demanding $1 70 on all business, and prompt orders are calling for prices of $2 and upward.

For Next Year Delivery.

Pittsburgh producers of structural material sold about 15,000 tons in the week past. Most of these orders cannot be delivered before next year. Premiums are being offered for deliveries before the end of the year. The base prices are as follows: Beams and channels, from 3 to 15-inch, $1 60 for 100 pounds; beams, 18 to 24-inch, $1 70 for 100 pounds; angles, 3 to 6-inch, $1 60 for 100 pounds; tees, 3 to 6-inch, $1 65 for 100 pounds.

The sheet business continues to drag somewhat, but an advance on the low prices, especially in the galvanized product, is anticipated at any time. The price on black sheets continues to range from $3 for 100 pounds on the No. 28 guage in 500-bundle lots, while galvanized sheets have been sold as low as 75 per cent off lists, and 70, 10 and 5 per cent off.

Steel hoop prices hold at $1 90 for 100 pounds in lots of 200 tons and over, while lesser lots sell at $2.

The finer merchant and crucible steel mills are rushed with business for from seven to eight months ahead. Prices remain as follows: Tire steel, $1 80 for 100 pounds; toe calk, $2 25; spring steel, $2 25; plow slabs, $2 25; rolled lay steel, $2 50 to $2 75; tool steel, $7 and upward, according to quality; cold-rolled shafting, 42 and 47 per cent off the list.

Scrap, Hardware, Tubes.

Most buyers of scrap have met their requirements for the present quarter. Prices remain as follows: No. 1 melting stock, $21 to $21 50; No. 1 cast scrap, $18 50 and $19; No. 1 wrought scrap, $22 50 to $23; turnings, $15 50; borings, $12 00 to $12 50; old steel rails, $21 50; old iron rails, $26; steel rails for re-rolling, $24.

The hardware market shows signs of improvement and all indications point to a heavy fall trade. We note an active demand for fall goods, including coal hods, stove boards, ranges, etc. The Bindley Hardware Company submits the following prices: Wire nails, car lots, $2 10; less than car lots, $2 15 base; cut nails, car lots, $2 10; less than car lots, $2 15 base; galvanized wire, No. 9, car lots, $2 50; less than car lots, $2 60 per 100 lbs.; axes, single, $7 25; double bit, $8 50 per doz.; Bindley canal shovels, $9 50 per dozen.

VERY LITTLE CHANGE IN THE IRON MARKETS

Purchases for 1903 Delivery Continue in All Distributing Centers. Increase Asked at Birmingham.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—The Iron Age tomorrow will say:

There have been very few developments during the week to indicate any notable changes in the iron markets of the country. From all the distributing centers come reports of further purchases of foundry pig iron for delivery during the first quarter and the first half of 1903.

Chicago notes sales aggregating about 85,000 tons, chiefly of northern brands. Among them was one lot of 30,000 tons. Cincinnati notes that the volume of transactions was not quite so great as that of former weeks. Some southern makers are still selling for the first quarter of 1903 on the basis of $17 for No. 2 at Birmingham, but the majority are asking $17 50 and $18. In all these transactions the buyers take the risk of any changes in freight rates. Along the seaboard a good deal of Scotch iron is selling at $20 to $22, ex-ship, on importation orders. Spot lots command more money.

The foreign steel markets are reported to be easier, in sympathy with the lower tendency developing with us, and billets can now be laid down in Pittsburgh at about $30 50. Some consumers have overbought and are reselling to a moderate degree. The volume of business doing is small, however.

While not officially confirmed, it is probable that an order for close to 30,000 tons of steel rails for delivery to the Pacific coast, has gone to a German rail maker. It is understood that the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific companies together needed 100,000 tons, but that the American mills were unable to meet the requirements as to deliveries on all the work, so that a part of it had to be placed abroad.

The results concerning the condition of the heavy trades continue very satisfactory. There is a continued flow of good orders for structural material from different parts of the country, and the plate makers generally are enjoying a rush of work.

Less satisfactory accounts come from the lighter lines. The volume of business in bars has fallen and there is more hunting for work. The same is true of hoops and bands, and there has been no improvement recently in the sheet trade. Skelp is dull and weaker. Quite a number of the mills are taking advantage of these circumstances to close for summer repairs and in order to afford their crews an opportunity for a rest. In many cases the men have been under tremendous pressure for over a year and have petitioned for a vacation themselves.
